For a government agency, it is young. It is also getting better, according to its executive director.

"I came on board Sept. 8, 1997," said Ingrid R. Enriquez, Executive Director of the agency. "I plan on being here for awhile," she told Antioch Rotary Club members Thursday, Oct. 22.

The agency's mission is to improve and maintain the Chain of Lakes for recreation, flood control, tourism, and to restore its environmental quality. Also, the agency seeks to preserve and enhance the lives of people who live in the area or enjoy its resources.

"I listened a lot when I first came in," she said. What she heard was some of the traditional distrust that people have of a government agency. People felt that favoritism was a part of the agency's decision-making process.

By setting about to remove the favoritism, she hopes to improve the agency's responsiveness and to be more fair in their dealings with everyone.

"The Fox Waterway Agency is no longer a seasonal agency," she said. It is an agency that can dredge all winter, conduct shoreline protection programs, restore habitat for threatened and endangered species, conduct detailed studies of lakes, and purchase a new style of centerline buoy to mark navigation channels.

The Fox Waterway Agency has approximately 15 employees and seven elected directors. Dr. William O. Dam, of Ingleside, serves as the Chairman. Directors include: Wayne D. Blake and Melonnie L. Hartl, both of Antioch; William J. Hauck, of Fox Lake, also serving as secretary for the board; Marshall Lowe, of Cary; James F. McKinley Jr., of Johnsburg; and Stan J. Mill, also serving as treasurer.

Their offices are located at the site of the former Hidden Cove Marina in Fox Lake at 45 South Pistakee Lake Road.

"A big part of our program is dredging," Enriquez said. The agency completed a large amount of channel dredging in 1998. In 1999, she now expects they will be able to focus on main navigational channels.

The agency also has a hydraulic dredge that permits them to suck muck from lake beds.

"We send that material to Ackerman Island," she said. On the island is a system to remove the sediment. When the water finally returns to the lake, it is cleaner than the existing lake water.

"Shoreline protection is something we're really focusing on this year," she said of 1999. She hopes the agency can help educate people about the use of new techniques.

In particular, she would like to encourage the use of natural shoreline protection methods. "They're actually cheaper, last longer, and survive floods better than do seawalls," she said.

One of the agency's most aggressive efforts related to habitat improvement is coming up next year at Grass Island.

The State Endangered bird, Forster's Tern, is an occasional resident in the summer. Protection of the Grass Lake Marsh nesting area is defined as critical for species survival.

Maravelas not seeking reelection

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Taso Maravelas will not seek reelection as Antioch Village Trustee.

"I like government service, but I'm not a professional politician," Maravelas said. "One term is enough. I will go on to other things."

Other things will include, family, business, and community organizations with which he already is involved.

The early announcement of his intention not to seek reelection will allow others the opportunity to prepare themselves to replace him. "This gives someone a chance to put a party together and run," he said.

Maravelas was first elected in 1995 to one, four-year term. "I ran as an Independent," he said.

Maravelas serves on the Finance Committee and is Chair of the Civic Activities Committee. He is also the owner of Maravelas, a banquet and catering business located on Route 59 in Fox Lake. "I've been in business for 38 years."

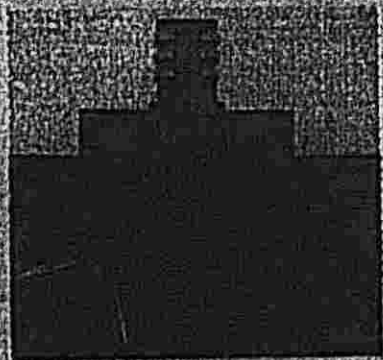

"My family and my business come first," Maravelas said. "If I had the time, could retire, I would devote a lot more time to politics."

Maravelas: Will go on to other things

'Mouse' to roar from ACHS stage

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Antioch Community High School students are in full rehearsal mode for their fall play production, "The Mouse That Roared," which opens next Thursday, Nov. 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

This full-scale comedy production features 41 students from the freshman to senior class. The students also will present the play on Friday and Saturday evening, Nov. 20 and 21 at the same time.

"It's a neat little show," said Director Michael Shehom. "The talent's pretty good."

The production features students who have strong performances from previous school plays to their credit. Shehom also expects aspects of the story to bring forth some wonderful moments with some of the developing talent at the school.

"It's based on a Leonard Wibberly novel," Shehom said. "It's really kind of placed in the '60s."

The ACHS production will play to that time period, according to Shehom. The play tells the tale of the tiny European Duchy of Grand Fenwick. The country's only export is endangered by competition from the United States. Grand Fenwick declares war with a hope they will lose in order to gain the post-war foreign aid that always seems to follow defeat by United States military might.

Grand Fenwick captures the "Q" bomb, wins the war through this mistake, and the resolution fills the play with comedy.

"We get to use a lot of kids. I like that," said Director Shehom. "Our (theater) program's done really well. We've got six drama classes this year."

Five of them are for acting and one class is for stagecraft. The result is that the department has the resources to undertake plays with larger casts and production values.

It also helps that the department has three directors.

Shehom has previously directed "Twelfth Night," by William Shakespeare. He is an English playwright and poet from the late 1500s and early 1600s.

Shehom directed "The Man Who Came to Dinner" by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, United States playwrights who worked together through the 1930s.

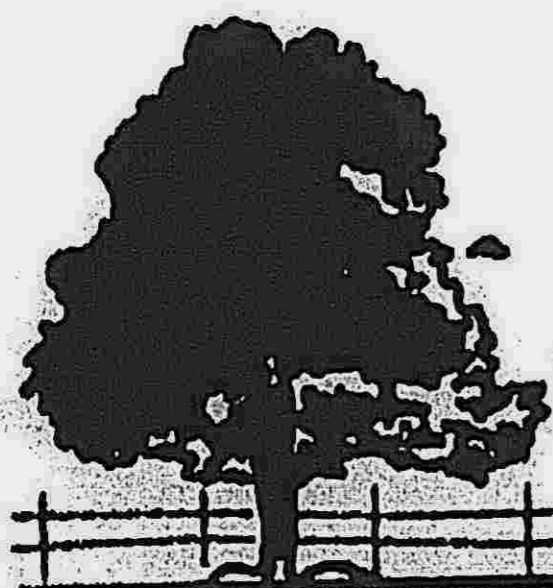

"The Mouse that Roared" is known to many people as a Peter Sellers and

ACHS PLAY: Mouse opens

Jean Seberg film from 1959 directed by Jack Arnold. In that movie, Sellers played multiple roles.

Another reason for Shehorn to decide to present the play was the romance. "I like the romance. I think it's a very sweet romance," he said.

The romance is between Tully Bascom, played by senior Bennie Wooddell, and Gloriana, played by junior Jen Schuemelfeder. "They're sweet kids and I think (the romance of the play is) going to come out."

Shehorn also expects there will be some good humor with Kyle Scott in the role of General Snippit.

There are other performers, such as Erin Boodey, Vita Gold and Chelsey Mortenson, who will be recognized in this production because of their strong character portraits in previous school productions.

"The stagecraft class has been real active on this and have done a real good job," said Shehorn. Teacher Julie Elver has students who build the sets and design the production.

Shehorn urges the entire community to consider coming to the play. "It's a community high school. We're hoping the people will come out," he said. "We're the cheapest show in

Tickets for The Mouse That Roared are $3 at the door for adults, and $2 for children, students, and senior citizens.

The cast of 41 students was selected from a group of 60 who tried out.

Students who live in Lindenhurst who will be in the play include: Sarah Becker, Kori DeLeon, Vita Gold, Ruth Gray, Libby Moss, Jen Schuemelfeder, Kyle Scott, Katie Suhar, Kyle Tikovitsch, Stacy Travis, and Ted Welker.

Students who live in Lake Villa who will be in the play include: Jessica Bellinder, Erin Boodey, Sean Crutchfield, Ben Garrison, Stephanie Griffin, Brian Johnson, Stephanie Lambert, Megan McBride, Chelsey Mortenson, and Dawn Virag.

Students who live in Antioch who will be in the play include: Adam Armstrong, Luke Bradley, Sean Buchanan, Leslie Burke, Lindsey Burke, Lisa Castillo, Marc Colatino, Shannon Lee Day, Nick Downard, Clare Gaynor, Jenny Groth, Lisa Haley, Brian Johnson, Mary Kiolbasa, Megan Obeckny, Stacy Parrish, Nick Staten, Chris Williams, Bennie Wooddell, and Heather Zeman.

MARAVELAS: Not seeking reelection

"I'm involved with the Lions and different civic organizations. I will remain involved with that."

"There are wonderful people at the Village of Antioch. They are wonderful to work with. I will miss them."

Maravelas has been involved with some of the village's highest profile projects in recent years.

"We worked very hard for the public safety building," he said. "We worked hard to get Centegra to come into town. We worked hard for the beautification of the downtown."

Maravelas also has been involved with the William E. Brook Wetland Sanctuary and Entertainment Center project east of the downtown business area.

The Public Safety Building referendum was passed in the spring elections and village officials sold municipal bonds in October to pay for construction of the new building. Bonds will also be used for village water system improvements and construction of a new fire department substation on Deep Lake Road.

Taso Maravelas does not plan to be involved with future political office at this time. "I cannot dedicate the time needed, at this time," he said.

He said that it is possible that in 10 or 15 years he may reconsider and become involved in politics again.

WATERWAYS: Agency re-stores, maintains Chain

in Illinois.

"We're going to recreate an island there." The agency will restore 27 acres.

In April, the agency started detailed studies of Channel and Catherine Lakes. Enriquez described this as a top-to-bottom study of the lakes.

"We're going to start putting the (Phase 1) report together in the spring," she said. It will contain data about the lakes.

"Fox Waterway Agency fully intends to apply for Phase 2," she said. The second phase will involve implementation of the solutions identified in Phase 1.

According to Enriquez, the agency soon will replace the existing navigation system with a new type called centerline buoys.

"We've lost about 60 percent of our buoys this year," Enriquez said.

Centerline buoys will be used to mark the center of the channel, and as a result, fewer will be needed.

Ingrid Enriquez expects the Fox Waterway Agency's impact on the Chain of Lakes to be a positive experience.

"I think we're making a lot of progress," she said.

In terms of trust and fairness, that part is going well for her also. "You build trust by being consistent and being fair."

Her overall assessment: "We're pretty good for such a young agency."

'Annie Warbucks' is PM&amp;L holiday gift

"Annie Warbucks" hits the boards at PM&L mid-month, in time to fill the holiday season with music and comedy. It is, most literally, a family show.

The play is described by PM&L member Matthew Conkrite as an "extraordinary sequel to the hit musical Annie." Annie had a run of 2,377 performances starting April 21, 1977 in New York City. Mark Badtke, of Genoa City, Wis., who plays the role of Daddy Warbucks, said that this is one of the few sequels of a popular musical to actually improve on the original production.

Conkrite is especially interested in the dynamics between the lead character, played by Liz Willding, and the show's Director, Gigi Willding, a mother-daughter entertainment team in this production.

"Annie Warbucks" opens Friday, Nov. 20 at 8 p.m. at the PM&L Theater at Main and Orchard streets in downtown Antioch. Patrons can reserve tickets at 847-395-3055 or buy them at the theater's box office.

The play is presented Nov. 20, 21, 27, and 28 and Dec. 4, 5, 11, and 12 at 8 p.m.

The play is presented at 2:30 p.m. on Nov. 22 and 29 and Dec. 6 and 13.

Box office hours are 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday. The box office is also open 90 minutes before curtain time, which allows sufficient time to buy tickets and eat at a nearby downtown restaurant.

"Looking at the cast list, I saw no less than 3 other mother-daughter teams with even more relatives working backstage and in technical capacities for this show," said Conkrite. "So, in a real sense, this is a family show actually produced by families working together for the common goal of creating a highly entertaining performance for their community."

"Sometimes, mother and daughter relationships can become strenuous at best," said Conkrite. He does not see that happening with the PM&L production, however. He describes the daughter Liz Willding, who plays Annie, as "adorable and skillful."

The mother, Gigi Willding, could be, perhaps, described as diplomatic and fair. She is the director and choreographer of the play. However, Gigi Willding had no part in casting the "Annie Warbucks" production when she knew her daughter would audition.

"I was curious about the relationship between the two," said Conkrite. "So, at rehearsal, I had a short conversation with Liz between scenes."

"As with many of the performers

at Antioch's Theater, Liz is very quiet and shy off stage, answering my questions in single words or short phrases," he said. "Annie Warbucks" is her tenth show at PM&L, but this is her largest part so far. Because of this, she is very excited and not a little nervous."

Conkrite said, "However, she seemed comforted that her mother is remaining close and in constant support whenever she practices. She likes having her mom for a director."

"Although I didn't ask her mother, she appeared to be full of pride and excitement for her daughter."

"Annie Warbucks" was written by the team of Thomas Meehan, Charles Strouse, and Martin Charnin.

Cathy Miller is the musical director and Gigi Willding is the director of this PM&L production.

Elizabeth Willding, of Ingleside, and Allysa Rittorno, of Twin Lakes,

The orphans are played by: Rachel Fry, of Burlington, Wisconsin; Ana Nelson, of Lake Villa; Katie Ihlen, of Trevor, Wisconsin; Megan Hosken, of Lindenhurst; and Josy Koutsoures, of Antioch.

Dolores Finley and Sarah Finley, of Round Lake, are Mrs. Doyle and Mrs. Kelley. Donna Badtke, of Genoa City, plays Ella, and Fran Jansta, of Antioch, is Alvin. Bruce Weise, of Antioch, is the butler, Drake.

Other cast members are: Kathleen Nelson, of Lake Villa; Tom Hausman and Emily Martin, of Antioch; Debbie Heimke, of Trevor; Terry Brady, of Lake Zurich; Scott Badtke and Colleen Badtke, of Genoa City; Randy Margison, of Round Lake; and Bill Finley, of Round Lake.

Ticket prices are $10 for adults and $8 for students and seniors.

Horton honored by French for WWI service

Floyd Horton, 106, of Antioch, received the National Order of the Legion of Honor, France's highest honor for surviving members of World War I who fought on French soil. Deputy Consul General Jean-Paul Bossuge presented the award Wednesday, Nov. 11 at 11 a.m. on behalf of President Chira of France. The ceremony was at the North Chicago Veterans Administration Medical Center. The award was presented on Veterans Day. Floyd Horton is a member of the Antioch Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. His wife, Clare Horton, is a past President of the Antioch American Legion Auxiliary Post.

The windstorm on Tuesday, Nov. 10 blew a lot of debris into the streets and parks areas. One area hit was Antioch Manor North subdivision near Route 83 and North Avenue.

"The kids are picking up the shingles in the park," said subdivision resident Debra Mal-

Four children spent some of their Veterans Day cleaning up the local park. "They have just about all of it done," Maloney said at 10 a.m. o'clock.

Doing volunteer clean-up work were: Kahla Schwall, 10, Zac O'Neill, 9, Chris Schwall, 8, and Nick Schwall, 10.

The debris they picked up included shingles, siding, and recycling bins.

Do not forget that the Antioch Senior center is having their rummage sale, crafts, bakery, candy, and raffle event today, Friday, Nov. 13 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. "All are welcome," said Paul Howard of the center's staff.

The Jobs for Illinois' Graduates Antioch Career Association Chapter will host its annual initiation and installation ceremony Wednesday, Nov. 18 at Antioch Community High School. School seniors participate in the program to build skills for success in the workplace. The ceremony welcomes new members into the local chapter. Students plan for a future career, perform community service, and develop leadership and team building skills. This is the second ceremony for the ACHS Chapter.

Safe, hot holiday gifts, toys to be discussed at CBCH

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Parents can learn what the most popular books and toy gifts will be during the upcoming holiday season on Thursday, Nov. 19 at 7 p.m. at the Bright Beginnings Children's Center at the Central Baptist Children's Home campus in Lake Villa.

"We're sponsoring a lecture at Bright Beginnings," said Joyce Heneberry, coordinator of marketing and volunteers. The program will help parents know what is of interest to their children.

"We've put together a nice evening in three segments," Heneberry said.

"One is a representative from Books Etc. in Antioch," she said. "Dale Perryman is going to talk about what books kids really want."

Perryman is the owner of Books Etc. at 901 Main Street in Antioch.

The second part of the program will have a Walmart representative who will talk about the hottest toys of the season.

The third speaker is Susan LoSavio, Director of Programs at Bright Beginnings Children's Center. She will speak about peace in the curriculum.

The toys that parents choose for their children have an effect on children's play and minimizing violence in children's lives. LoSavio will discuss these issues.

The program is part of a series of programs that are sponsored by Bright Beginnings Children's Center during the course of a year. "We try to do three or four lectures on topics interesting to parents," said Heneberry.

Parents were surveyed to determine topics about which they are interested to know more. The program on holiday gifts was one that was requested by many people.

Bright Beginnings Children's Center is on the campus of the Central Baptist Children's Home on the east side of Route 83 north of the Grand Avenue and Route 83 intersection in Lake Villa. People may follow signs to the children's center once they enter the campus.

ACHS, Rotary sponsor Career Shadow Day

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

More than 14 dozen students and six dozen volunteers will meet Tuesday, Nov. 17 to explore their mutual career interests.

Antioch Community High School students and adults with careers will participate in the annual Career Shadowing Day program co-sponsored by the Antioch Rotary Club and the high school.

Senior and juniors spend a day with people to learn about their careers. This career program has been moved to the fall season so that students can use the information they obtain to help make work or schooling decisions.

Chief Judge Ray McKoski is the breakfast keynote speaker at the ACHS cafeteria. Program participants will have breakfast together from 8 to 9 a.m. After McKoski's address, participants will go to their day-long career sites.

Career volunteers who have agreed to have a students with them through the day will provide transportation and lunch for the students.

Colleen Osmond, the Rotarian responsible for vocational service issues, has found volunteers willing to sponsor an interested student. The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry and the Lindenhurst-Lake Villa Chamber of Commerce have also helped to find participants.

Miki Tadelman and Rosemary Lion of the high school guidance department matched senior and junior students who were interested in participating to the career volunteers. Osmond (847-395-2500) and Tadelman and Lion (847-395-1421) can be contacted prior to Tuesday with questions about the program.

One of the most popular career choices for students in the past few years has been the Antioch Fire Department First Fire Protection District. Firefighters have a program of introduction to their career choice and involve more than a dozen students in many aspects of work during the day long program.

ACHS names National Honor Society inductees

The Antioch Community High School announced the following students will be inducted into the National Honor Society. They have shown that they satisfy the standards of scholarship, service, leadership and character.

They are:

POLICE BEAT

ANTIOCH

Charged with DUI

Antioch Police Officers stopped Steven B. Shaffer, 43, of Wilmet, Wisconsin, on Saturday, Nov. 7 at 10:21 p.m. at Route 59 and Hillside Avenue in a yellow 1987 Plymouth Caravan. He was charged with driving under the influence. He was released pending a court date of Tuesday, Dec. 8 at 9 a.m.

Charged with theft

Antioch Police officers stopped Tracy L. Goodman, 28, of Elgin, on Sunday, Nov. 8 at 10:31 a.m. in the 400 block of Orchard Street. Goodman was charged with retail theft and was released on bond pending a court date of Wednesday, Nov. 25 at 10:30 a.m. in Grayslake. Goodman also was arrested on an outstanding warrant of the Lake County Sheriff's Office and was taken to the Lake County Jail.

LINDENHURST

Warrant, resisting arrest

Lindenhurst Police Officers stopped Cory J. Olsen, 26, of Solon Mills, Ill., on Thursday, Nov. 5 at 7:40 p.m. in the 19000 block of West Grand Avenue in a white 1973 GMC Van. He was found to be wanted on a warrant for his arrest.

Also traveling with Olsen was Jonathan B. Sawyer, 25, of Round Lake Beach. He was charged with speeding, driving under the influence, and resisting arrest. He declined the offer to take a Breathalyzer test. He was released on bond pending a court date of Tuesday, Nov. 24 at 9 a.m. in Waukegan.

Charged with DUI

Lindenhurst Police Officers stopped Richard D. Giglio, 35, of Gurnee, on Sunday, Nov. 8 at 12:38 a.m. at Federal Parkway and Jefferson Drive in a black 1990 Lincoln Towncar. He was charged with speeding, driving under the influence, and driving under the influence per se. He accepted the offer to take a Breathalyzer test (0.11). He was released on bond pending a court date of Tuesday, Nov. 24 at 9 a.m. in Waukegan.

Theft of cigarettes

Lindenhurst Police Officers stopped four young people on Sunday, Nov. 8 at 6:07 p.m. related to charges of theft of cigarettes at Linden Plaza Shopping Center.

Douglas P. Haynes, 17, of Lindenhurst, was charged with obstructing a police officer. He was released on bond pending a court date of Wednesday, Dec. 2 at 9 a.m. in Grayslake.

A second juvenile, 15, of Lindenhurst, was charged with retail theft under $300 and resisting arrest. The juvenile was taken to the Robert W. Depke Juvenile Justice Complex in Vernon Hills.

A third juvenile, 15, of Lindenhurst, was charged with under age consumption of alcohol. The juvenile was offered the opportunity to take a Breathalyzer test (0.06). The juvenile was released on bond pending a court date of Wednesday, Dec. 2 at 9 a.m. in Grayslake.

A fourth juvenile, 15, of Lake Villa, was charged with retail theft under $300. The juvenile was released on bond pending a court date of Wednesday, Dec. 2 at 9 a.m. in Grayslake.

Teen charged with drug possession

Lindenhurst Police Officers stopped Matthew J. Mathias, 18, of Round Lake Park, on Friday, Nov. 6 at 9:44 p.m. traveling west bound on Grand Avenue near Hawthorn Drive in a silver 1989 Mercury. He was charged with possession of cannabis, improper lane usage, and possession of a controlled substance, psilocybin (dried mushrooms). He was taken to the Lake County Jail pending a court hearing.

LAKE VILLA

Teen injured in accident

A Lindenhurst teen was injured in a two-vehicle crash on Grand Avenue on Nov. 7.

Sarah Marie Heath, 17, 2309 Honysuckle Court, was transported to Condell Hospital by Lake Villa Rescue following the accident, where she was treated for injuries.

According to reports, Heath was driving her car eastbound on Grand Avenue (Route 132) about 2:09 a.m. when she collided with a vehicle that was parked along the edge of the outside eastbound lane of Route 132.

The owner of the other vehicle, Steven E. Phillips of Lindenhurst, is a Lake Villa firefighter who had responded to a previous accident and was not in the vehicle at the time it was struck.

Heath was cited for failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Juveniles arrested

Lake Villa Police arrested two juveniles on curfew violations in the early morning hours of Nov. 3.

During a routine patrol at 12:20 a.m., police observed a juvenile walking in the municipal lot behind 147 Cedar Avenue. Officers observed that the juvenile appeared to be too young and in violation of curfew hours.

Upon seeing police, the juvenile ran towards an alley between 137 and 147 Cedar Ave. Police observed the juvenile trying to hide in a stairwell of apartments in the area, and ordered the juvenile to come out. At that point, two juveniles appeared. They said they were waiting for a ride. Police told them they were in violation of the curfew ordinance and they were taken to Lake Villa Police Department.

One of the juveniles was released to her father. The other juvenile was given a ride home and turned over to his mother.

Truck driver hits van, flees

Police seek witnesses

By LIZ THOMSEN
Staff Reporter

A woman is lucky to be alive, noted police who responded to the scene of a hit and run involving a commercial truck.

The accident occurred at 11:12 a.m. on a drizzly Nov. 9 morning when the dingy white full-size semi-truck ran a red light at Hainesville and Rollins Road, headed east and kept going.

The left rear trailer tires ran over and completely demolished the front end of a 1993 blue-green Oldsmobile van that was proceeding across the intersection on a green light. Although the front end of the van crushed in to within a couple of inches of the driver's legs, according to police reports, no one was hurt.

The van sustained heavy damage and had to be towed from the scene.

The van had been heading south on Hainesville Road, leaving Mallard Creek shopping center. The unmarked white commercial truck that hit the van continued east without stopping.

"This is totally irresponsible, uncaring, and criminal, and it gives truckers a bad name," said Sergeant T. Judd of the Round Lake Beach Police.

Police are looking for the driver of a semi-truck who ran a stop sign and smashed this mini-van, Monday, Nov. 9. The driver of the van was not injured. The accident occurred at Hainesville and Rollins Road.

Eyewitnesses to the event, or any one who followed the truck and has the license number, is asked to call the Round Lake Beach Police Department at 270-9111.

"The proper thing to do would be for the driver to turn himself in," continued Judd. "He knows who he is."

Footlights showcase shines brightest

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Footlights serves up food, fun, frolic, and a true festival atmosphere with appeal for all senses. This year's edition is great entertainment.

This is the last weekend to see it, so get moving. No excuses.

The doors open at 6 p.m. and this presents an excellent opportunity to eat supper at Footlights. Joe Badame has set up the Palm Court Restaurant with the help of nine room sponsors, and the results are marvelous. Well, Maravella's is more accurate. Taso Maravelas' Banquet facility provides the complete dinner entrees in a room that looks out over the stern of the Titanic.

True, ice-bergs are on view through the windows (not portholes—this is the Titanic), and occasional sounds suggest bumps in the night, but the meal is hot, delicious, and filling. I had the Chicken Teriyaki and it was very tasty. The Scrod Almondine was also very good. I thought the potatoes were an unexpected taste treat also. It was nice attention to the details of a meal.

The menu changes every night, but not the chef, so most likely the Palm Court restaurant is serving a great meal every night. Plan to eat supper there and then hit the corridors.

There is improvisational comedy out of Chicago with the 3 Brothers in "The Alley." It is a brand new entertainment feature for Footlights managed by Joanne Bruning and Heather Kufalk-Marotta.

The folks at PM&L Theater are sponsoring "Casting Call Theater" with Aileen Biel managing the room. You might wind up in one of the performances that Donna Abear wrote for Larry Bersie to direct. Rick Lawrence and Jamie Seputis also perform in the skits.

Jerry Hadad is managing "The Winners Circle" with servings of hot dogs and pizza. "Heavenly Piece," next door, is serving Cherub Cheese-cake, Divinity Fudge, Angel Food Cake, and Devil's Food Cake.

Room managers Jim and Barb Larson and Rob and Carolyn Schartz have the Las Vegas Restaurant as the new sponsor for the Black Jack and Diamond Jim's Full House Casino. There is five hours of opportunity to determine if the State of Illinois'

Traci Ano, Kevin Schoudel and Colleen Osmond, ham it up in a lip sync performance as Monica Lewinsky, Bill Clinton, and Paula Jones at St. Peter Parish's annual Footlights last weekend. Footlights continues Friday, Nov. 13 and Saturday, Nov. 14. Photo by Lynn Gunnarson Dahlstrom.

Casino License #CG 17 is a winning bet. It has been for a long, long time.

"The Stars of Lip Sync" are, as usual, unbelievable. The show this year is as strong as ever. What can I say about our school system educators, pillars of the community, and Thelen Family? The truth requires that I report that they are sensational.

Sportz Nutz features the music of Grease and the room management of Ann and George Rowe. The bar managers are John and Mary Jede. Grease is a group that has been around since 1983. The program states that Grease will feature a new set for every performance. However, everyone should demand that band member Wayne Sobczak sing "Mustang Sally."

Grease may indeed be a sensational band doing covers of favorite music, but Sobczak does "Mustang Sally" so well that he just about makes the song his own, to these ears. The point is this—listen carefully to Grease because their great entertainment value still emerges as fresh as it must have been in 1983.

There is a lot of music at footlights, and it is all good. Catch Krystalmoon at Rick's Cafe American, managed by Monika Lukas. The room sponsors have created a beautiful evocation of the best movie ever made. None of which prepares the audience for the fabulous quality of sisters Krystal and Moon. These two singers enjoy everything they sing and do. The Jimmy Buffet and Fleetwood Mac covers are very nicely done. Krystal becomes quite interactive with the audience with a song called "Do Ya?" She has, they have, the whole bad has a wonderful sound. Plan for a long visit there.

OK. You don't like any music created after Louie Jordon created rock and roll, more or less, but you are not sure. Twocan Dans is for you. Strang Funeral Home sponsored room managers Michelle Bailey, Peg Jansta, Jill Otter, and Bob Schumer as they completely eliminated the school gymnasium and filled it with the Michael Lescher Band and Friends. Grab the margarita and let the music pour over you. This is a band that fills up the room. When they are not on stage, Ed Franks strolls out to sing Frank Sinatra. Modern technology gives him full orchestra backing. It is a room for dancing, and his great voice fills it with some of the finest songs ever created.

This 17th anniversary celebration known as Footlights continues tonight, Nov. 13, and tomorrow night, Nov. 14. Doors open at 6 p.m.

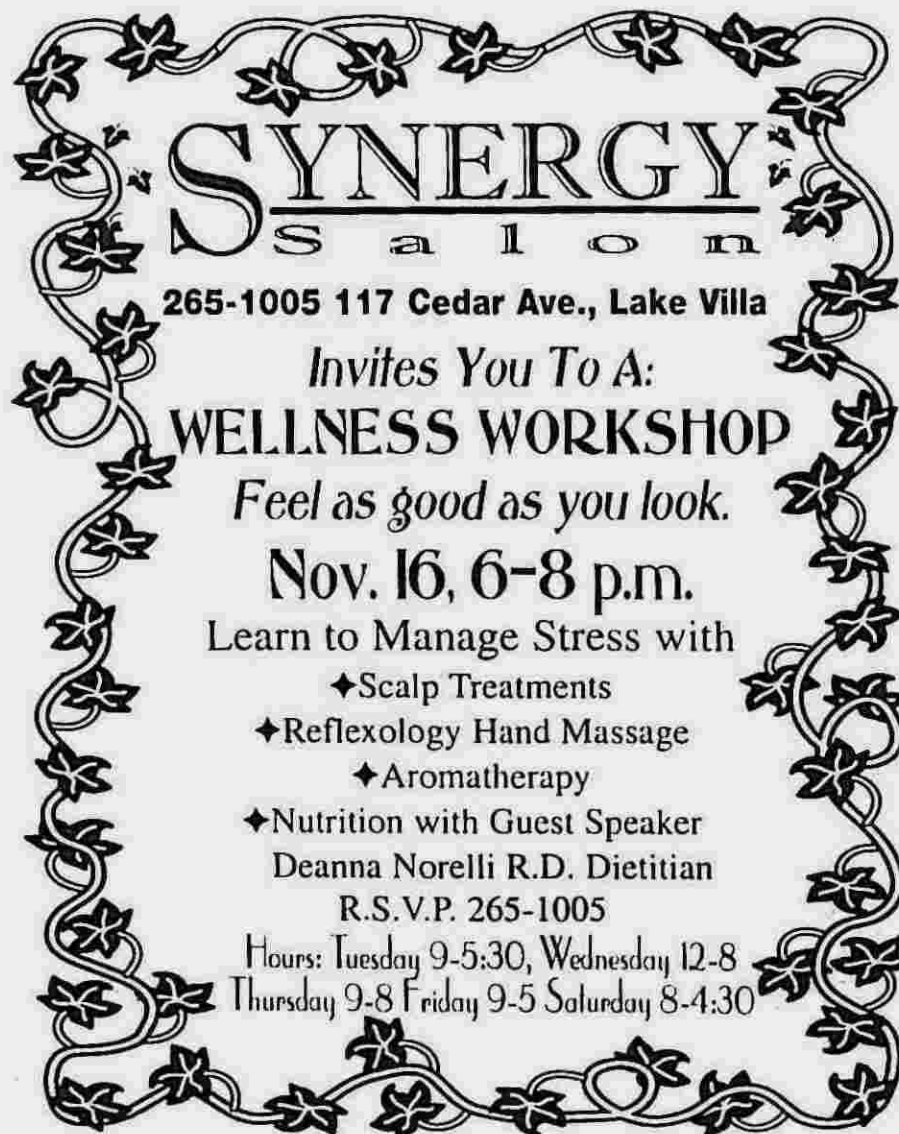

It takes place at St. Peter School behind the church at 557 Lake Street. There is near-by parking and shuttle bus service available.

The Footlights Committee encourages people to consider attending on Friday evening when it is less crowded.

Tickets are available at the door. Advanced ticket purchase is $2 cheaper.

Tickets are available at State Bank of The Lakes, First National Bank-Employee Owned, First National Bank of Chicago, St. Peter Church Rectory, American Family Insurance, and Realty World-Tiffany.

Admission is restricted to people 21 years old and older. Proceeds benefit St. Peter Parish.

You Too, Can Fly Into Space Like John Glenn

by JIM WARNKEN,
President, North Star Travel, Inc.

You may have to wait up to five years, and it's going to cost about what you paid for your house, but you can buy a ticket for a flight to outer space! This is no "Buck Rogers" fantasy. (Anyone under 50 remember Buck Rogers? Maybe Flash Gordon. How about Captain Video?)

Anyhow, Space Adventures Inc., a company made up of four astronauts and a team of scientists, is offering passengers a chance to travel 62 miles above the earth into the star-filled blackness of outer space. During some of the one-hour flight you'll float weightlessly while you view the curvature of the earth. Cost of a ticket will be around $80,000 and yes, you can get them from your travel agent. (Sorry, no super-saver fares available).

A little pricey for you? Don't want to wait 5 years? Next year, for less than $12,000 plus airfare to Moscow, Space Adventures will fly to the edge of space in the world's fastest military jet, the Russian MiG-25 (a dividend of the end of the Cold War). At an altitude of almost 20 miles, you'll have no problem seeing the earth's curvature.

For less than half that price, another former U.S. astronaut will take you up in a Russian IL-76 MDK, which was used by the Russian Space Agency to prepare cosmonauts for space travel. No need to "stay in your seats and keep your seat belts fastened". In fact, during about 10 minutes of the flight, you'll fly, roll and spin weightlessly throughout the cabin! Ron Howard took this flight as preparation for directing the movie "Apollo 13". He described it as "exhilarating beyond anything I've ever done".

If you would rather confine your space adventure to this planet, and also keep the cost of your fun under $1000, then consider Terrestrial Tours' offer of a chance to stay at a space camp in Houston, Washington or even Moscow, and train as an astronaut. You'll actually build and launch your own 10-foot-high rocket.

Even if your vacation plans are "out of this world", your travel agent is here to help.

Talking Health

ENVIRONMENTAL AND FOOD ALLERGIES

Asthma, hayfever, and skin rashes have been around for centuries, but food and environmental allergies are becoming increasingly common in the 1990's. Food allergies can cause a variety of digestive disturbances that are usually treated by removing the offending food(s) from the diet. This approach is straightforward and can be effective if there is an obvious allergy, such as milk, but when multiple allergies are involved, the individual's diet may become so restricted that it becomes nutritionally inadequate.

The "elimination" treatment of environmental allergies is even more radical and difficult. When individuals respond negatively to an array of substances in their immediate surroundings, allergens, such as synthetic fabrics, paints, household cleaning products, plastics, glues, and varnishes, are particularly suspect. People can become allergic to their homes, their furnishings, cars, and even the air they breathe. In extreme situations, environmentally sensitive patients may have to sell their houses and move to sparsely populated, unpolluted areas. The emphasis should not be on eliminating or "escaping" the allergen, but determining why an individual responds to certain substances and strengthening the entire immune system.

If maintaining your health and reducing stress is important to you, call Round Lake Beach Chiropractic at 847-740-2800 to make an initial, no obligation consultation with Dr. Scott G. Reiser. # To go or not to go

For all you graduates of Antioch High School Class of 1979, it is time for our 20 year class reunion. If you read last week's column you know that there are still quite a few classmates missing but hopefully they will be found before the festivities take place.

Now, although I can stake claim to the fact that I graduated from high school that year, let me clarify by saying I was an extremely bright child and was only 9-years-old when I took part in the commencement ceremonies.

While a certain few revel in these little get-togethers, others turn pasty white at even the thought of attending a function where some of their worst years will be flashed before them. For some it is sweet revenge. For those horn-rimmed, pocket protector dweebs who were the butt of every practical joke and prank, it is time for them to show the rest of the class how well they have done for themselves.

And for the unpopular crowd it is a most joyous occasion to see all the popular girls who got fat and ugly. Let's be honest here, what greater joy for us "cheerleader wanna-be" than to see all those cute blondes from our high school days with cellulite and graying hair, while we can still slip into our single digit size jeans with no problem.

And, as always, when you get any group of people together, you have those few who make no bones about flaunting their fortunes, real or fictitious, while the rest of us settle for middle class.

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

Lynn Pringle

Of course you are almost forced to attend these gala's because being a no-show only leaves the door wide open for rampant gossip. I wasn't popular, good-looking, cute, or part of the "in crowd" during my high school days. In fact, I was probably one of the least known students there was, and the fact that I had to snatch a husband from Canada leaves me wide open to mail-order bride rumors. Sounds like one heck of a fun time to me.

And why is it that the reunion committee feels compelled to extend the painstaking gala over an entire weekend? You start with a Friday night "ice-breaker," followed by a Saturday night dinner, and then you wrap up the affair with a picnic or a golf outing on Sunday. That's more consecutive hours spent together than the four years we inhabited the confines of good ole' ACHS. Well, it hasn't been decided yet whether the relatively unknown Schreiber/Pringle clod of '79 and her obscure husband will attend the festivities, but you can be sure I will keep you informed.

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

Letters welcome

Letters to the editor are welcome. They should be on topics of general interest, approximately 250 words or less. All letters must be signed, and contain a home address and telephone number. The editor reserves the right to condense all letters.

Bauman named Bible Church youth pastor

A new youth and education minister was appointed by the Chain of Lakes Community Bible Church in October.

Kerry Bauman will serve as Pastor of Youth and Christian Education. During the past decade, his ministry has been in Chattanooga, Tenn. and Houston, Texas.

Bauman began his ministry when he joined the staff of Campus Crusade for Christ's High School and became involved with the Student Venture Outreach in 1981.

LHS Wildcats victims of playoff upset

Who'd of thunk it. The Libertyville Wildcats varsity football team had gone 10 games this year without a loss. They were seeded second in the state playoffs, and were picked by many to make an appearance at the state finals.

That was before Libertyville faced the mirror image of themselves in Naperville North.

Sure the Wildcats barely lost, falling 28-21 in overtime. But this team was a world-beater. Those guys were supposed to represent Lake County against those teams from Wheaton and Chicago. This team was not supposed to lose.

But they did. Pure and simple. They faced a team that was mentally and physically prepared—a team that had similar strengths and weaknesses as the Wildcats. But still, I said. This was the team with star players like J.C. Harrington (Lakeland's Player of the Year), Matt Treutelaar, Kevin Walter, Kevin Howell, Chad Blomgren and Cody Ramsey.

This was a team that had as complete a package as I've seen in a long time. The defense was solid, sometimes dominating. The offense was totally balanced. The running game with Treutelaar was often unstoppable, and with Harrington throwing to Howell and Walter, opposing defensive backs had no chance.

This team should still be alive. Libertyville should have easily made it past the second round of the playoffs. Shouldn't they?

Maybe I'm being too much of a homer for the best team in Lakeland's coverage area. But this team was good—real good.

Some would say that these things happen. Look at the Minnesota Vikings, they lost to a stagnant Tampa Bay team two weeks ago, after the Vikes averaged over 30-points coming into the game.

Is it such a big deal that our Wildcats didn't go as far into the playoffs as we thought they would've? No. This was one heckuva team, and one little blip on the Wildcats' radar screen should not taint a spectacular season by the class of Lakeland's area football teams.

Also to be noted for the Wildcats was the performance of one of the school's best individual athletes. P.J. Leffelman, a senior on the boys cross country team, ran a 15:01 at the State Cross Country Meet, good for 23rd place. Leffelman's All-State selection is his second-straight, as last year he finished 25th as a junior.

Although cross country is not one of the "major" sports (baseball, basketball, football), Leffelman has been one of the best in the school's history and should reap the benefits of such an achievement.

Dedicated goalie steps onto elite ice

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Ice hockey starts in the heat of summer when there is real opportunity to sharpen one's skills at training programs.

Coming up out of the pack this summer was Adam Zakroczymski III, of Antioch, a Carmel High School senior, who plays for the Highland Park Falcons Midget Travel AA Team. This year Zakroczymski received the "Most Dedicated Goalie Award" of the Elite Training Program at the Rick Heinz Goalie School in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, July 31, 1998.

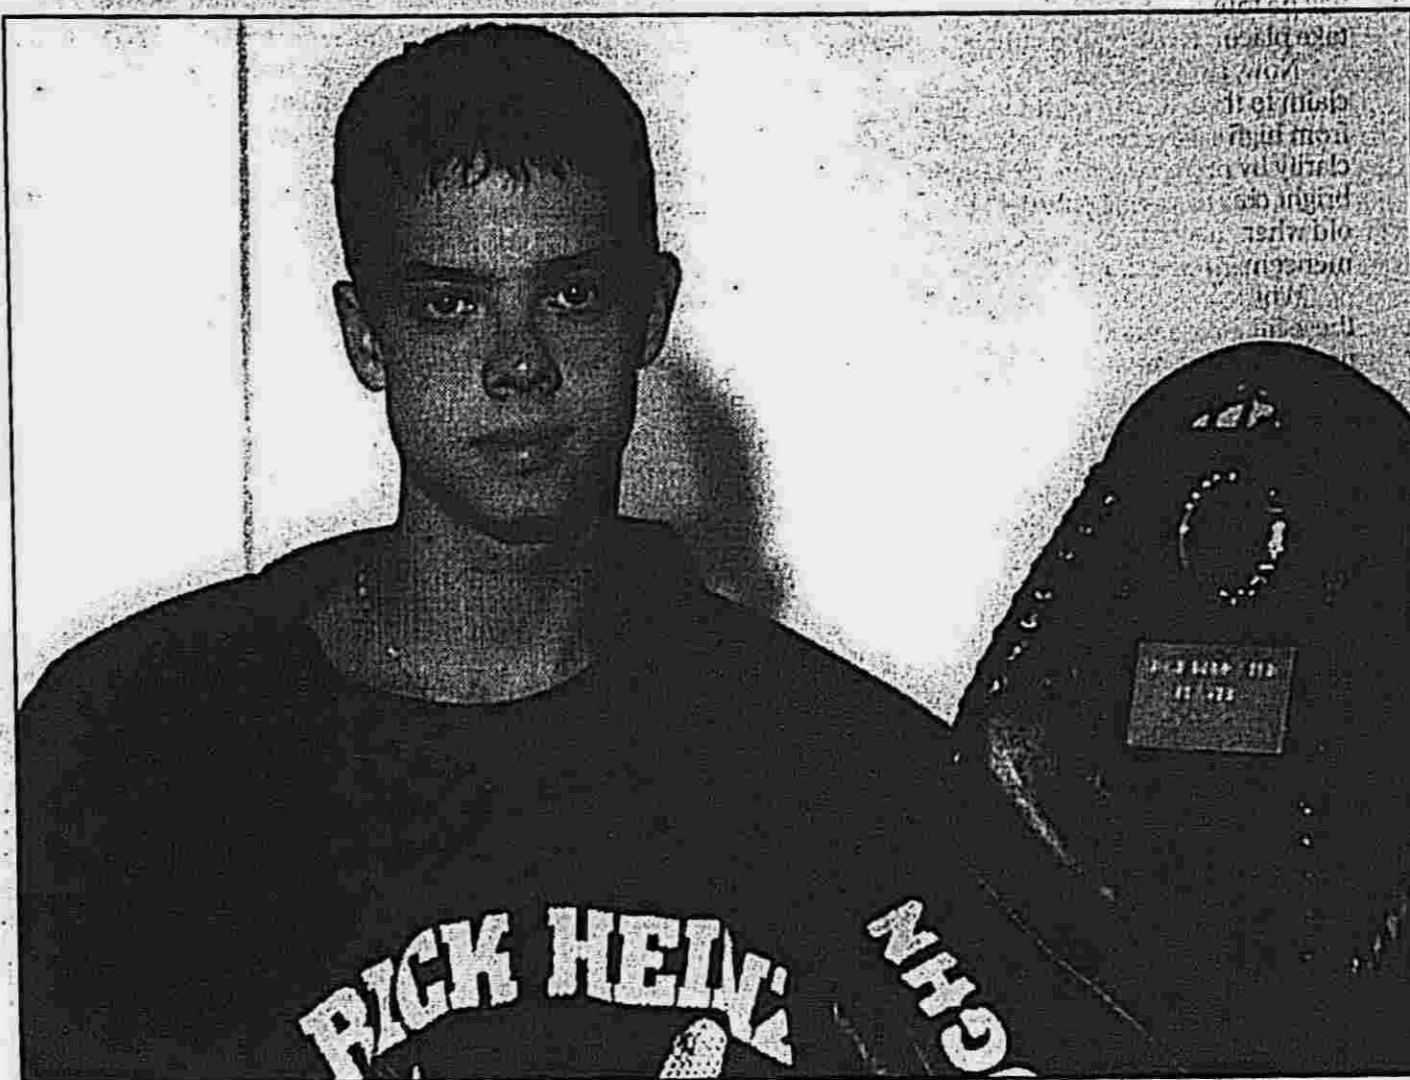

The award is presented to the goaltender who, in the judgment of school instructors, demonstrates the greatest desire to win, to improve, and to keep going at all times.

School Director Rick Heinz is a former St. Louis Blues and Vancouver Canucks Goaltender. He played in the National Hockey League for nine years. He was in the Stanley Cup Finals and won four IHL championships, and has established schools to teach goaltenders both fundamentals and advanced game situations.

Zakroczymski started his hockey career in the Zion Park District program. He played as a starting goaltender for Carmel High School in Mundelein, Illinois. In his freshman year, he served with the junior varsity team and was a back-up goalie for the varsity team.

By his sophomore year at Carmel, Zakroczymski served as the alternating starting goalie.

During his junior year, Za-

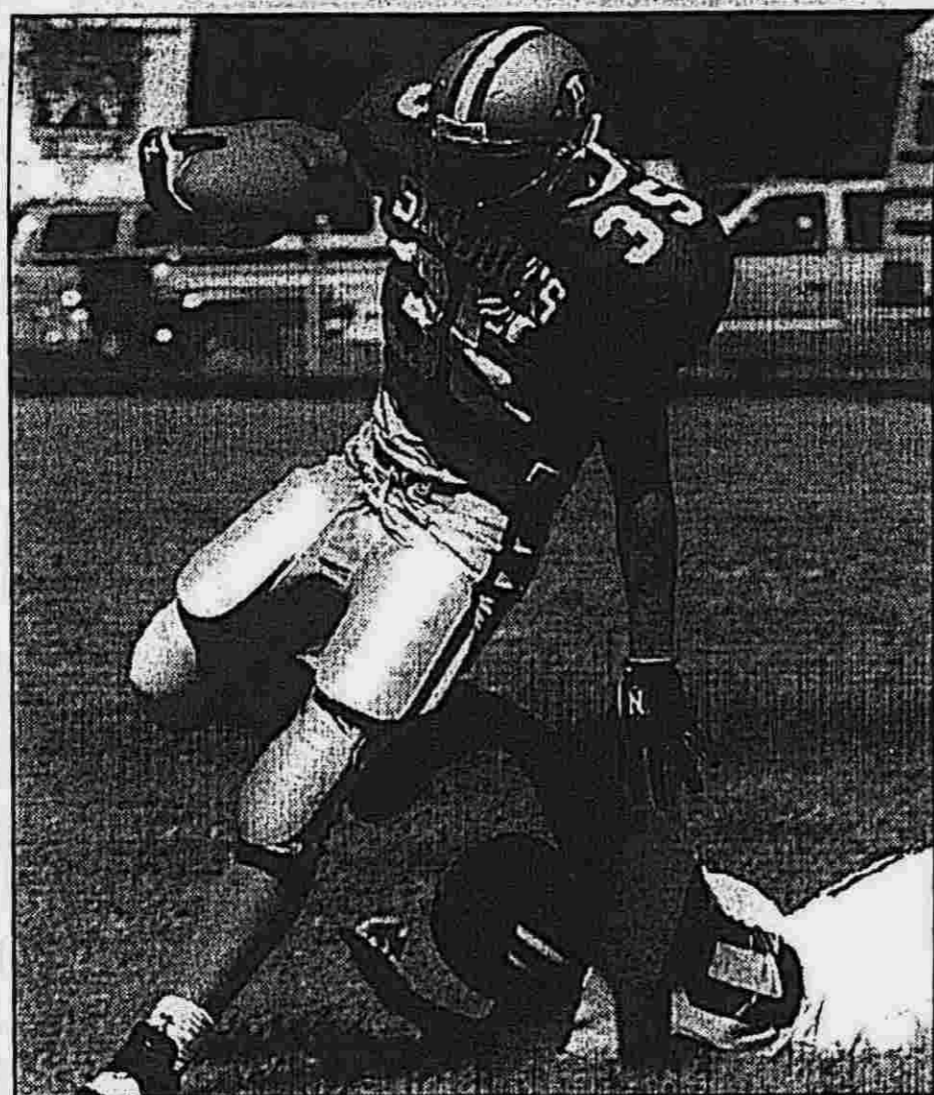

Adam Zakroczymski III, of Antioch, has received the "Most Dedicated Goalie Award" from the Elite Training Program at the Rick Heinz Goalie School in Toronto, Ontario, Canada. He is a Carmel High School senior student and plays with the Highland Park Falcons Midget Travel AA Team.—Submitted photo kroczymski was asked to join the Highland Park Falcons Midget Travel AA Silver Division Team including Spring League Hockey with the Highland Park Chiefs.

Zakroczymski works on his hockey skills all year by playing in leagues and by attending training programs. He has had attended three hockey training programs since July, 1996. He hopes that his work as a hockey player will lead to a college scholarship at the University of Michigan, or another school with a strong hockey program.

Senior Matt Ingram, Antioch's all-purpose running back, will not be back next year for the Sequoits but QB Don Lackey and WR Jim Richardson should lead Antioch's attack through the air.—Photo by Steve Young

ATHLETES OF THE WEEK

Name: Antioch varsity football team

Last week's stats: Earned a playoff berth and had two players named First Team All-Lakeland and two named to the All-Lakeland Honorable Mention Team.

Sequoits reflect on up-and-down season

By LEE FILAS
Staff Reporter

Just shake your head and think of the impossible.

Because, when you look back at Antioch's season of ups and downs, head shaking is what the people around you will do.

Point to three consecutive wins to open the season before running into a freight train named Stevenson.

Then, the following week, Warren, the little caboose to Stevenson's freight train, ran the Sequoit's to 3-2, before Antioch could get back on track to post two more wins.

At 5-2, playoffs are on the horizon. A humiliating loss to Libertyville puts the season in question, but Antioch bounced back, beating North Chicago to make it to the playoffs at 6-3.

The good times lasted a week before running back Charles Frazier from Chicago Hubbard showed Antioch what Barry Sanders must look like, and suddenly, as quick as it started, the seasons was over.

Though, with everything that happened, Antioch should consider their year a success.

However, what about next year?

The bad news for Sequoit fans next year is the loss of senior running back Matt Ingram. With 754 rushing yards and eight touchdowns, the all-purpose back gave Antioch the running game they needed to compete in the North Suburban Conference.

Also, playing his last year at Antioch is defensive powerhouse Nate Carden, moving on to greener grass in college.

However, the good news outweighs the bad.

The passing game is going to explode for Antioch next year, as All-Lakeland Team honorable mentions, quarterback Don Lackey and wide-out Jim Richardson, will be back for another tour.

Also, expect Adams Niles to step up and try to replace Ingram in the backfield.

In addition, one of the biggest offensive and defensive lines could be in Antioch next year.

Dave Cabrera (6-5, 350), Jeff Giernoth (6-2, 201), Stephen Liddle (6-0, 191) and Luke Denoma (6-0, 187) will look to open holes large enough for semi-trucks to roll through.

However, success for coach Del Pechauer is going to come through the air with Lackey throwing to Richardson. Also, look for super-sophs Ari Brown and Adam Durham to spread the field for Pechauer.

Next year? The jury's still out, but with what Antioch pulled off this year, do not be surprised if powerhouses Stevenson and Libertyville are a little more frightened when Antioch comes knocking.

Rams Dillon receives sportsmanship award

By LEE FILAS
Staff Reporter

The ability to remain cool under fire is a rare trait in a human being. Dan Dillon is as cool as they come.

"During the Cary-Grove game, we were being blown out pretty bad, and rather than throwing a tantrum and becoming irate, we remained calm and positive and the referees saw it," Dillon said. "The ref walked over after the game and said he's writing me up. I said for what? And he explained he was writing me up in a good way."

Because of the write-up, Dan Dillon, the head football coach and athletic director at Grayslake High School, was a recipient of the 1998 IHSA Sportsmanship Award.

The IHSA Sportsmanship Award is given to high school coaches who "exhibit exemplary behavior on the athletic field and promoting those ideals to his athletes."

"During the Cary-Grove game, the officials told me that the team was well behaved and the coaching staff was positive on the sideline," Dillon said. "It's nice. That's the way teams should be."

This is Dillon's first sportsmanship award as a coach.

"We want to be as intense as we can be on the sideline," Dillon said. "But we also stay with each other and be as positive as can be."

According to Dillon, sportsmanship is extremely important, especially at the high school level.

"The last thing you want to do is react in ways that you wouldn't want your players to react," Dillon explained. "It doesn't help if coaches react poorly during a rough season."

"It's better to maintain a positive focus and a positive attitude," Dillon explained. "All year we've maintained a positive attitude, and because of it, I feel that we were competitive in every game we played."

Dillon feels that a positive attitude and good sportsmanship are not essential to every team's success, but can help a struggling team get over their slumps.

"You definitely want to say that a team can be better with better sportsmanship," Dillon added. "I hope it can. A team with a positive attitude will have a little special edge in the end to push it over the top."

Also, Dillon said the IHSA is really looking for good sportsmanship from every team, in area's never explored before.

"This year, the IHSA really looked at the way parents are conducting themselves at the games," Dillon added. "The sportsmanship of parents is really important to a community and a school because the way my team behaves, and my parents behave, really reflects on me and my school."

Dillon:
Sportsmanship is important

Vikings send three teams to finals

Three of four Antioch Youth Football teams advanced to conference championship games with impressive wins. The Viking PeeWees, Lightweights, and Heavyweights will play for conference championships at Grayslake. The PeeWees shutout Fox Lake 13-0, the Heavyweights beat Mundelein 20-0, and the Lightweights crushed Fox Lake 38-14.

The PeeWees avenged an earlier loss to Fox Lake with a 13-0 shutout. Kevin Barrett scored the first Viking TD on a 65 yard pass from Tyler Ankney. In the second half, running back JoJo Johnson scored from 35 yards out. Mike Wegryzn added the extra point. Antioch's defensive unit held Fox Lake to just three first downs. Defensively, Tyler Bynum was the team leader and was helped by excellent play of Bubba Houghton, James Rizzo, Joey Crowell and three fumble recoveries by Brandon Geweke, Tyler Ankney, and Ty Sitter.

The PeeWees will play Grayslake in the title game—a rematch of last year's PeeWee championship.

The Lightweights earned their sixth straight trip to the conference championship. With an easy 38-14 win over the Fox Lake Cardinals. It was the teams 63rd straight win.

The Cardinals threw an early scare into Antioch—scoring on their third play from scrimmage and kicking the two extra points. But Antioch answered quickly as running back Brett Bairstow scored on Antioch's first offensive play. Then fullback Jeff Welter scored the first of his two TDs and Antioch never looked back. Welter scored his second TD on a 12 yard run. Tim Veach scored two touchdowns on passes of 14 and 31 yards from Quarterback Tony Weyenberg. Back Jeff Canella scored a sixth Viking TD on a 23 yard run.

Excellent offensive line play of Eric Worrell, Adam Lehn, Tim Veach, Andrew Homer, James Larson, Luke Davis, Brian Wood, and Josh Paddock opened large holes for the backs to run through.

The defense was simply outstanding. They held the Cardinals to five first downs and 53 offensive yards. Standouts on defense included: Nik Dittel, Mike Decker, Chris Pollack, Justin Cary, Taylor Hosick, Bairstow, Canella, Paddock, Lehn, Worrell, Davis, Welter, and Taylor Pechauer. The Lightweights meet Round Lake in conference championship.

The Antioch Heavyweights advanced to the league championship with a 20-0 win over Mundelein. Running back David Hartmann, QB Tom Wolter, and back Ryan Cullen scored a touchdown each with Brandon Zeiman scored the extra points. The defense limited Mundelein to 30 yards rushing and was led by Ken Barth, Dino Katris, Scott Gerke, Brett Statezny, Chase Saldivar, and Jason Kaminski.

Offensively, Travis Mumm, Chris Becker, Gerke, Chris Carlson, Tim Lorenzini, Russell Zigorski, Rick Arnold played well. Back David Hartmann turned in an outstanding effort for the Vikings. The Heavyweights will play Grayslake in the title game.

*For the Harris Home Equity Line of Credit, the Annual Percentage Rate ("APR") is a variable rate based on the highest Prime Rate published in the Money Rates section of The Wall Street Journal on the first business day of the month. Based on the October 1, 1998, Prime Rate of 8.25% the following rates would apply: 9% APR for credit lines of $5,001 to $24,999; 8.25% APR for credit lines of $25,000 to $99,999; 8% APR for credit lines of $100,000 to $249,999; and 7.75% APR for credit lines of $250,000 or more. The maximum APR is 18%. The minimum draw amount is $500. A $35 annual fee applies after the first year. There are no other costs to open the account. Costs to satisfy certain prior liens may be assessed. Property insurance is required; flood insurance may be required. Consult your tax advisor about the deductibility of interest. Offer applies to new applications received through November 30, 1998, and applies to owner-occupied 1-to-4 family residences.

Dear Residents of Fox Lake and all Concerned Citizens:

We're writing this letter in hopes that it will open your eyes to the problems we have faced over the last 16 years here in Fox Lake and the monies you are spending. I will not go into every detail (because I could write a book), but I'll hit on the key issues. I'll give you some background first.

My husband and I (Jerry & Kathy McBreen), have been residents of Fox Lake for 26 years and before that were weekenders for 5 years. We have raised two daughters and have had a total of 4 businesses in this village of which we have 2 left. We own and operate Sailing World Inc., since 1983 at 500 S. Rt. 12 and Kings Island Marina at 512-514 S. Park, since 1985, both of which are in the Village of Fox Lake. Kings Island Marina is a private dockage marina (mainly sailboats) in conjunction with a restaurant. The restaurant has gone under numerous names since we owned it. Andres on the Bay, Mr. Z's, Sail Inn, Capos Cove and now Borgata's.

Our problems first started in 1983 when we purchased the commercial property on Rt. 12, frontage road, to open a retail store to sell boats. Our main goal was to sell sailboats. Our community, being a water related town and supposedly the "heart of recreation," seemed to be the best spot to open this type of business. Our company falls in and around a subdivision called Meyers Bayview Terrace. Since day one, the neighbors directly behind us, at the sailboat shop, have caused us problems. In 1985 we acquired 2 more commercial lots adjoining Sailing World. According to the Village we had to go through more zoning approvals and again we were battered, this time by Kit Kolflat, president of the Homeowners Association, along with the Bobnic's and Frano's (board members of the Association). Kolflat makes it appear that she represents the entire subdivision, but I know there are some residents that don't agree with her. The trouble she is causing will be at the homeowners' expense. Members of the subdivision are you fully aware of this? These people have deemed themselves the right to meddle and fight us on everything that we do or don't do to their liking. Each and every time we had to go before the different zoning and board committees they were there with their frivolous complaints. Now mind you, these people are not in the Village of Fox Lake, they are in unincorporated Lake County.

Almost all of this subdivision is in floodplain and are on well and septic which pollutes our lakes. Sailing World is not in floodplain, and Kings Island Marina has city water and sewer. In 1993, after being squashed like sardines on 3 lots, we purchased 5 additional commercial lots adjoining us on Route 12. We thought we would be in heaven with the extra space. We would finally have room to move and make our business more pleasing to the eye, but it turned out to be more hell. For 2 1/2 years we fought with the Village and the same neighbors to utilize our own property. Through attorneys, we finally got to use what was rightfully ours in 1995.

In 1985 we also bought Kings Island Marina just 2 blocks away. It was then called Weeks End and prior to that Rusty Anchor and before that Ehmanns Rod and Gun Club. At the time of our purchase it was a run-down building with barely adequate facilities and broken-down wood docks. Our dream was to build something nice and beautiful, to clean up the area, something the town would be proud of. Our facility, we had hoped, would cater to the sailboat clientele. We know, sailboats provide a calming effect on the area since they are quiet and of the nonpolluting nature.

We put in the best aluminum docking system on the Chain. The restaurant was totally remodeled and now we had a property that was worth visiting. Out of towners and residents alike would and still do come here to enjoy the views. Since 1985, the same residents as before are fighting us over the expansion, even though we have in writing the approvals of Village and Government officials. The Village, keeps, or so it seems to be, siding with the nonresidents. WHAT ABOUT OUR CIVIL RIGHTS: We pay more than our fair share of taxes, both property and sales tax revenue in this town. Don't you think the Village would be on the side that is bringing revenue to its kitty and would help the local business man?

What have we done wrong that is so offensive in a water related town? At Kings Island Marina we are off the main thoroughfare and on a dead-end street. We are a very active business in the summer and almost dead in the winter, and so is this entire village. We all thrive on the tourists and weekenders in the summer months. All we have ever wanted to do is sell boats and service our customers, many of which totally rely on us both summer and winter.

We have literally spent over $110,000 in attorney's fees since 1983 and it's not over yet. We would think, by now that Village dollars spent must be getting close to what we've spent.

Don't you think it's time your tax dollars should go toward police and fire protection or some other worthy cause and not to fight local business people? Why does everyone want to run us out of business? That's the million dollar question! We want this harassment to STOP! These are your and my tax dollars, Fox Lake, that are being used to fight what should naturally be in our town. Almost all the businesses in town in some way, rely on the tourist trade so let's capitalize on just that, as the Master Plan states and what we all already know this should be.

Are you fighting mad yet? We are furious that these busybodies who have nothing better to do with their time are even allowed to interfere with our livelihood. We're asking for your support - let the Village officials know how you feel. Are you tired of your tax dollars being wasted on attorneys? Please write a letter to them or me. Address it to Village Hall Fox Lake, Mayor Pappas, 301 S. Rt. 59, Fox Lake, IL 60020. My address is stated in the letter above. THIS IS URGENT!! If these people are allowed to somehow stop our on-going business, then the restaurant at the marina (Borgata's) will also go under and Lord knows we don't need more businesses folding. We need to get out of the court system and let life go on without any more unnecessary battles. The Kolflats of the world will never go away, but they need to be put in their place. We have lived quietly in the area and have never caused any harm to anyone or their property. We have always thought that we are an asset to this community and not a detriment. Your support could make all the difference in the world. Come on everyone, we're not the bad guys, let us hear from you! From the bottom of our hearts we thank you for reading this and for your support.

Hastings Lake YMCA offers holiday camps

By KENNETH PATCHEN
Staff Reporter

Hastings Lake YMCA will offer two special holiday camping programs in late December. One program is for children who want a special daytime holiday experience. A second program is for those who prefer a short stay away from home.

Registration for these two camp programs is now open.

The Hastings Lake YMCA has a Holiday Day Camp for children 5 to 12 years old, and a four-day sleepover Winter Camp for children 8 to 16 years old.

"They love it," said Stacey Siwek of the children who have attended past holiday camp sessions. "It's a lot of fun."

The day camp provides a chance for children to get together with their summer friends and to be together again for a week or two, according to Siwek.

The summer camp is pretty well known. We try to keep the same teachers for our holiday camp programs," Siwek said.

Children have a daily opportunity to swim in the indoor pool. If there is snow, there are toboggan rides. Children also can work at special holiday crafts, such as a gingerbread house.

"We try to recognize all the holidays that go on at that time," she said.

Field trips are part of the experience.

"We do different group games and sports," she said. Some are interactive group games. There is indoor space for games. Outdoor sports are subject to weather conditions.

The program includes nature activities around Hastings Lake YMCA grounds.

Children bring their lunch. A drink and afternoon snacks are provided by the camp program.

Session one is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 21 through Thursday, Dec. 24. The program is from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., although extended hours are also available. The program ends at 1 p.m. on Thursday, Dec. 24. The camp is closed Friday, Dec. 25.

Session two is scheduled for Monday, Dec. 28 through Thursday, Dec. 31 (until 1 p.m.). The day camp program is closed on New Year's Day.

"We have extended-care hours for working parents," said Siwek. For an extra $15 for each session, the hours can be expanded to include 6:45 to 9 a.m. and 4 to 6 p.m.

"The member rate per session is $85," said Siwek. "The non-member rate per session is $100."

People can register for the day camp program at 847-356-4000.

"A lot of the summer staff returns for the holiday program," said Siwek. "They are all at least 18 years of age."

Many of the staff members are education and recreation program career oriented. They fulfill all state and local requirements to work with children.

The holiday camp is located on the Hastings Lake YMCA west campus off Grand Avenue on Munn Road. It is at the edge of Lake Villa and Lindenhurst. The site includes the camp lodge, the recreation hall, camp cabins, and the toboggan slide.

"Our brochures for the summer day camp will be coming out in mid to late December," Siwek said. People may request that a brochure be sent to them when they call. Early registration for the summer program is not necessary, but it would be prudent, according to Siwek.

The second holiday program at Hastings Lake, the Winter Camp program, is a separate holiday recreation opportunity for children 8 to 16 years old who can stay over-night at the camp. This year the program will feature a special winter reunion opportunity with the summer camp children.

A night at the movies just isn't the same as it used to be.

In fact, according to officials for Regal Cinemas, which is opening a new megaplex theater complex in Round Lake Beach, the movie viewing experience will soon be much better than in the past.

The new Rollings Crossing 18 movie theater complex, located on Rollins Road between Route 83 and Cedar Lake Road, officially opens its doors to the public on Friday, Nov. 13.

The new 73,000 square foot theater complex offers the latest amenities, including 18 screens with a wide range of feature offerings, digital surround sound and stadium-style seating in the auditoriums, and large concession areas in the lobby.

"Regal is very excited about this beautiful, new theater," said Phil Zacharetti, senior vice president of marketing and advertising for Regal Cinemas. "Round Lake Beach deserves this high quality theater and we are sure the entire community will enjoy moviegoing like never before."

Perhaps one of the main benefits of the new theater complex is that it gives people from Round Lake Beach and surrounding communities a movie theater close to home.

Jennifer Harris, marketing manager for Regal Cinemas, said people will no longer have to travel miles to go to the movies.

"In the past, where people might have to travel 15 to 20 minutes to go to a movie, now they will only have to drive 5 to 10 minutes," she said.

With 18 screens, Harris said the theaters will also be able to offer a wide variety of movies for people of different ages and tastes.

"That's why we built the megaplex so we can accommodate all kinds of people," she added. "Our smallest auditorium is about 150 seats and the largest is over 400 so we don't have any real small auditoriums."

One of the most unique features of the new theater complex is stadium-style tiered seating in all of the auditoriums, according to Harris. With stadium seating, each row of chairs is elevated a foot above the row below it, providing moviegoers with an unobstructed view of the screen.

"Your whole area of focus is right there on the screen. It's a better experience because you're not bothered by your surroundings," she said.

Harris said Regal began putting stadium seating in all new theaters in its chain starting in 1995.

"We're not saying the old way is bad," she said. "We're just saying this is a little better."

All movie auditoriums will also be equipped with Digital Theatre System, Dolby Digital and Sony Dynamic Digital Sound, allowing the sound's filmtrack to reproduce in crystal clarity. Theaters are also equipped with handicapped accessible ramps for disabled and elderly people.

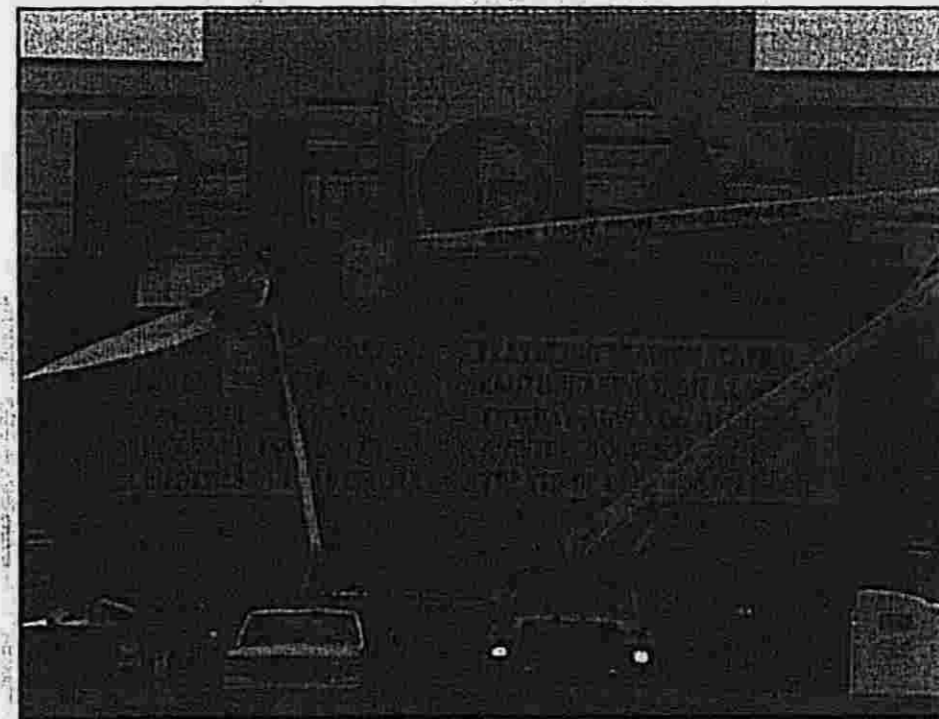

The theater will have a large concession stand serving fresh popcorn, Pepsi® products, candies, hot dogs and nachos. In addition, the lobby will have a gourmet cafe offering cappuccino, espresso, flavored teas and hot chocolates, as well as pretzel bites, ice cream and other items.

The grand opening festivities included invitation only events on Wednesday and Thursday nights. On Wednesday night, guests were treated to an advance preview of the facility, with free movies, video games and reduced price concessions. Thursday night's guests will be treated to free movies, popcorn and Pepsi compliments of the Chicago Tribune.

'Annie Warbucks' debuts at PM&L on Nov. 20

Sometimes mother and daughter relationships can become a strenuous at best. However, this doesn't seem to be happening with the mother/daughter teams at work in PM&L's production of "Annie Warbucks" by Thomas Meehan, Charles Strouse, and Martin Chamin opening at the PM&L Theatre, 877 Main St., Antioch, on Nov. 20.

Antioch's live theatre will be performing this extraordinary sequel to the hit musical "Annie" with an adorable and skillful Liz Willding from Ingleside as Annie. Interestingly, this show is directed and choreographed by Liz's mother, Gigi, who, in case you are wondering, had no part in casting when she knew her daughter was going to audition.

As with many of the performers at Antioch's theatre, Liz is very quiet and shy off stage, answering questions in single words or short phrases, "Annie Warbucks" is her tenth show at PM&L, but this is her ## check it out!

largest part so far. Because of this, she is very excited and not a little nervous. However, she seemed comforted that her mother is remaining close and in constant support whenever she practices. She likes having her mom for a director.

Looking at the cast list, there are three other mother/daughter teams with even more relatives working backstage and in technical capacities for this show. So, in a real sense, this is a family show actually produced by families working together for the common goal of creating a highly entertaining performance for their community. Mark Badtke from Genoa City, Wis., playing the role of Daddy Warbucks, said that this is one of the few sequels of a popular musical to actually improve on the original.

Give your family the gift of live theatre this holiday season. Annie Warbucks runs for four weekends from Nov. 20 to Dec. 13. Reservations can be made by calling 395-3055 or by coming to the box office on Main Street in Antioch. Box office hours are Mon.-Thurs., 5:30-7:30 p.m., Sat. 11 a.m.-2 p.m.; and one-and-a-half hours before curtain. Ticket prices are $10 for adults and $8 for seniors and students.

THEATRE

'Oklahoma!'

The curtain will rise on Highland Park Players' 11th annual musical production, "Oklahoma!," which will be presented on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 13, 14, 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 15, 22 at 2 p.m. The production will take place in the Misner Auditorium at Central School, 621 Grove St., Glencoe.

Tickets are available at Karger and West Ridge Center in Highland Park and are $10 in advance and $12 at the door. Tickets can also be ordered by calling 604-4771.

'Arsenic' auditions

Village Theatre of Palatine will hold auditions for "Arsenic and Old Lace" on Nov. 15 and 16 at 7:30 p.m. at Cutting Hall Theater, 150 E. Wood St., Palatine. Cold readings from script. For more information, call Director Sally Mooney at 359-7593.

KIDS EVENTS

'Clown Prince' slated

"The Clown Prince of Wanderlust" is a children's show by Douglass Parkhurst that will be presented by the Kirk Players on Dec. 4, 5 and 6. Come see how the natives, or peasants, or whatever the inhabitants of the strange place called Wanderlust call themselves, try to make Princess Rose-Violet laugh. If she doesn't laugh, and soon, she will have to marry the evil Grand Bunkleman! Oh no! Help make her laugh! The show will be presented at the Mundelein High School auditorium. Show times are 8 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 4, 2 and 8 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 5, and 2 p.m. on Sunday, Dec. 6. ## Footlights showcases feast for all senses

Staff Reporter

The usual vices are on display: Rock'n'Roll, Frank Sinatra, State of Illinois Gambling License No. CG #17, mixed drinks, dessert, and foods with Grease at the 17th annual rendition of Footlights at Antioch's St. Peter's Church. The rockin' little school house that was St. Peter's School is transformed by the labor and funding of many sponsors under the management of very creative and accomplished room managers. The transformation of each room is genuine and the result takes one as far as the Titanic or as close as PM&L.

Footlights must open at 6 p.m. so people can have supper at The Palm Court Restaurant. On the first night, the Chicken Teriyaki and Almondine Scrod were marvelous, or should I say Maravolas. Either way is correct. Their excellent supper, wine, and dessert are merely prelude to all that possibly can follow. There is a new menu each night.

This year, our family focused on the music rooms.

Of course "The Stars of Lip Sync" are as clever and creative as ever. Our community educators, the Thelen crew, and all the other pillars of our community certainly listen to strange music for hours on end (and they do, because the lips do synchronize. I watched). Ted Axton knows the lyrics to a very strange song.

Betty Ann Ralston and I checked out the "Sportz Nuts" room after our meal. Grease holds forth with a new show all evening long. However, someone should make band member Wayne Sobczak do "Mustang Sally" every set. In that one song he shows that Grease can take cover versions and present their own excellent, excellent, excellent interpretations. People should bring fresh attention to this group's work.

Sisters Krystal and Moon hold forth at "Casablanca at Rick's Cafe American." These two are wonderful on stage and the band is as strong as they are. They bring lots of energy and professional talent into the beautifully decorated evocation of the best movie in the entire world. Make sure Krystal sings "Do Ya?" They chose wonderful material.

Ed Franks holds forth as Frank Sinatra in "TwoCan Dancs" between sets by the Michael Lescher Band and Friends. Modern technology brings a full orchestra behind the genuine singing of Ed Franks as Sinatra. Strang Funeral Home is sponsoring a major winner with their room this year.

Take some time to page through the Footlights Program you receive with ticket payment. It makes a lot of good statements about the businesses in this community and the room managers who have invested time to create the rooms (with their sponsor's money). The people who provide security, clean-up, beverages, and the program booklet are all there.

The opening letter in the program by Father Ron Anglim said, "I would ask you to please patronize the fine merchants and businesses in our area by using this book as a guide when seeking the services they provide."

Anglim also said, "Have a great evening."

Father Anglim tells no lies. It is great.

This 17th anniversary celebration known as Footlights continues tonight, Nov. 13, and tomorrow night, Nov. 14. Doors open at 6 p.m.

It takes place at St. Peter School behind the church at 557 Lake Street.

The Footlights Committee encourages people to consider attending on Friday evening when it is less crowded.

Tickets are available at the door.

Tickets are available at State Bank of The Lakes, First National Bank-Employee Owned, First National Bank of Chicago, St. Peter Church Rectory, American Family Insurance, and Realty World-Tiffany.

Admission is restricted to people 21 years old and older. Proceeds benefit St. Peter Parish.

Thanks for the list—now make the time fit the crime

I don't do this often in this space, but if you'll bear with me for this week, I'd like to address a serious subject.

Say what you will about the Internet: It's gone commercial. It's filled with garbage, pornography and useless vanity web pages. It's addictive qualities are ruining some people's lives.

All true.

But it also can provide easy access to useful information, with no more effort than a few simple clicks of a mouse. Let me rephrase that - not only "useful" information, but valuable information. That is, if you consider your child's innocence valuable.

What is ironic is that the same medium that can pose a danger to our children has the potential to protect them as well. At least it does now that law enforcement officials are seeing the possibilities the Internet can offer when it comes to public safety.

Most of us have heard the arguments for and against the "Sex Offender and Child Murderer Community Notification Law," which requires child-sex offenders to register their whereabouts with police, and the police to make this information available to the public upon request. Personally, I cannot fathom how a convicted sex offender's privacy could ever be more important than any child's health and welfare.

Unfortunately, our government, as a whole, has left this issue to be decided by individual states. Depending on where you live, this information may be available to you, or it may not.

LIFE'S A BEAR

I am happy (and lucky) that Illinois lawmakers saw fit to put this law on the books. However, like many Americans, it was not until recently that I took advantage of it.

Call it laziness, or denial, but although I knew that I could visit the County Sheriff's department and view the names and addresses of sex offenders in my area, I never took the time and effort to do so. I thought about doing it, but like so many of us, I just never put it on my "to do" list, and it never got done.

At least not until recently, when a friend related a story about how a co-worker of hers was discovered to be a convicted child-sex offender. The "discovery" was made by another co-worker who had viewed the offender's name on the Lake County Sheriff's Department website, which began posting the names, addresses, photos, nature of offense, etc. of convicted child-sex offenders as of Oct. 1, 1998.

What bothered my friend was that she had attended, with her children, work-related family picnics with this person in the past. She had not known at the time that her co-worker was a convicted child-sex offender; had she known, she would definitely have chosen not to allow her children anywhere near this person.

Her story prompted me to quit procrastinating and view the website myself. I had meant to surf that list ever since I first heard about it, but I guess it took a first-hand account of its usefulness to prod me into action.

And boy, am I glad I did.

I must admit that I got more than I bargained for. I felt sure that somehow I would already know if someone familiar to me was on that list. Naive, perhaps, but I don't think I'm the only one who feels that way. Still, I went ahead and viewed the list of names.

None of them rung a bell.

Okay, I thought, I don't know any of the names. But maybe I should still take a look at the pictures...maybe one of their faces will be familiar. A distant acquaintance...a friend of a friend...who knows.

So, since the list is divided by municipality (though most names on the list are offenders in unincorporated areas only—unfortunately, not all communities in the county have agreed to release this information yet on the internet), I began by checking my own town and several towns nearby. Within just a few minutes, I pulled up a picture that sent a chill down my spine.

The crime? Aggravated criminal sexual assault against a child under the age of 13. The face? That of a relative's next door neighbor. A relative whose home my children often visit.

I wrote down the name, and called the relative to be sure that my suspicions were correct. They were, and to say this relative was shocked would be an understatement. They had become friendly with this person, and even invited him into their home in the past - something that will never happen again, nor will my children ever play in the yard again without one of us right there with them. We also informed our children that this was someone they should avoid at all costs.

Of course, the possibility exists that our fears are unfounded. Perhaps this man will never repeat the offense. Some might say he deserves a second chance.

Maybe. But I deserve the chance to decide whether or not I want to risk the safety of my children in his presence.

And that's a risk I'm not willing to take.

I am very grateful to the Sheriff's department for making this information so easy to access. There is one thing that still bothers me, however. This particular child-sex offender, as well as others on the list, was convicted within the last couple of years and, if he served any time at all, it could only have been a matter of months. Why? Perhaps it was his first offense.

Now compare that to my late brother, who at one point was convicted of shoplifting a tool box from Sears. It was not his first offense, and he was sentenced to three years in jail.

Three years for a toolbox? Fair enough. But a few months, or probation, for a child's innocence?

I admit we have toughened our laws against repeat child-sex offenders. But it seems to me that first offense or fifth, the damage to our children is still permanent.

You can access the list of child-sex offenders via the Lake County Sheriff's website at www.co.lake.il.us/sheriff.

'The Siege' is solid, but not great

Terrorism is a painful actuality in the United States of America. American citizens have come to live with terrorist activities acted out by people who come from countries who hate our nation, our way of life, and everything about the United States.

But so far, the U.S. has been

movie review

able to mute terrorist acts, and most have not occurred within the boundaries of the United States. But in "The Siege," things have developed more quickly. On the heels of the World Trade Center bombing, and the destruction of the Federal Building in Oklahoma City, a new wave of extremely devoted, ultra-violent, and unbelievably dedicated terrorists have sprung up in New York City.

"The Siege" examines the possibility of numerous terrorist acts happening in a short period of time in our country's biggest city—and what the reaction of the government might be.

Denzel Washington plays Anthony "Hub" Hubbard, an FBI agent working in the anti-terrorism division of the FBI. He and his partner, Frank Haddad, played very well by a likable Tony Shalhoub, are deep into an investigation looking into the recent rash of terrorist acts popping up all over New York City.

It is rumored that the U.S. government has kidnapped a known spiritual and terrorist leader in the middle east, and many believe the increase in terrorism is due to his disappearance.

Annette Bening joins the investigation as an outside CIA agent, and her character Elize Kraft appears to not be sharing all of the information she has on the case.

The back and forth of the FBI investigation and the terrorists acts comes to a head when the President calls for a state of martial law in Brooklyn—where a vast majority of New York's middle eastern population is located.

Bruce Willis plays general William Devereaux, a role that seemed surprisingly small for a star of his magnitude. General Devereaux reluctantly takes control of Brooklyn, and proceeds to make prisoners of every middle eastern man in the area—a situation strikingly, and maybe too obviously, similar to what happened to Asian immigrants in California during World War II.

General Devereaux gets increasingly egotistical and brutal, until the final confrontation between Washington's Hub and Willis' Devereaux.

The acting is solid, but Washington plays the same character he did in "Courage Under Fire." He plays Hub well, but it's all the same stuff we've seen before. Willis did an adequate job as Devereaux, but I still question why the director would cast him in this role. Bening is strong, as always, and Shalhoub is very refreshing, providing depth to what could have been a less than interesting character.

Overall, I give "The Siege" 3 1/2

Deck the Halls with...Updating your holiday look with a new seasonal style

The countdown to Christmas has begun. Soon, the majority of families will be taking part in the ritual of holiday decorating. They'll be climbing footstools and reaching high up into the closets to pull down boxes stocked with holiday treasures. Furniture will be rearranged, opening up just the right spot for the Christmas tree. Mantles and tables will be cleared of day-to-day trinkets, soon to be replaced with festive accessories and holiday collectibles.

According to a recent Market Facts survey commissioned by Coming Home, 85 percent of women say they look forward to this time of activity. Some of the excitement may stem from this being a once-a-year chance to transform your home without major renovations.

Creating a holiday home is near and dear to our hearts, too. Much like a snowflake, no house is quite like the next because each of us carries distinct feelings of what makes an ideal holiday home. "Christmas is a time to show your own personal style. It's a feeling more than anything," said Alan Boehmer interior designer and stylist for Coming Home with Lands' End. "Whether you choose to decorate with a traditional, rustic or contemporary flair, your own touches will make your home special."

Boehmer offers the following tips to give your home a fresh, new look this year:

Traditional flair

About two-thirds of women surveyed decorate their homes with the all-time favorite, holiday theme — traditional. Conjuring up memories of holidays past, many Americans are incorporating holiday plaid and tinsel into their holiday theme. To give a home some pizzazz, try some of the following:

- Use traditional elements but in non-traditional colors. Instead of red and green, use blue and green or burgundy and charcoal. A new coupling of colors will give a home a refreshing look this season.

- Spice up your greens with dried flowers like baby's breath, golden yarrow and heather. Berries and apples also add nice spots of color. Weaving a holiday plaid ribbon through a row of Granny Smith apples makes a unique garland for the mantle or table runner.

- For a truly magical tree, substitute traditional white lights with candles. Mercury glass ornaments will dance in the candlelight, sparkling in the holiday spirit. Metal holders and styrene candles can be found at local hardware stores. Remember for safety reasons the tree must be very green and fresh.

- Make your dining room table as festive as your family room with a small tabletop tree. Simply decorated with plaid ribbon and berries, this fragrant addition will dress up any table.

- Tempt the sweet tooth with an arrangement of sugared fruit. Look for an assortment that offers a variety of sizes and colors. Grapes, cherries, lemons, oranges, and kumquats are wonderful suggestions. And it's best to buy them firm so they last. After dipping each piece in egg whites, roll in a dish of sugar. The fruit will last for about a week, making a colorful centerpiece for any coffee table or mantle.

Revitalizing the rustic look

Houses that best lend themselves to a rustic look are log cabin homes, farmettes or contemporary homes. Approximately 11 percent of women surveyed have adopted this woodsy theme in their home decor. Following are tips to fashion a home with a rustic look:

- Replace evergreen garland with bramble branches, adding color with berry branches of blackberry or raspberry. Fill in empty spaces with pinecones, nuts and berries.

- The family tree can be fashioned in the spirit of years gone-by with all natural decorations. Strings of cranberries and popcorn can replace sparkling tinsel. Or wrap the tree with raffia. Dried fruits like citrus slices and flowers can hang from the tree lending charm and color.

- Wreaths, hanging over the mantle or on the door, can be a simple ring of pinecones, or decorate a circle of grapevine with dried pepper berries.

- Carry the theme throughout the house by scattering packages wrapped in crafted paper with raffia ribbon.

Classy contemporary

For a clean, minimalist look, pull out all the decorations you have in one color. About 14 percent of American women will be participating in this ritual, saying they adorn their homes and trees in a monochromatic, modern theme. Simplicity is the key to this style. Here are some hints to get you started:

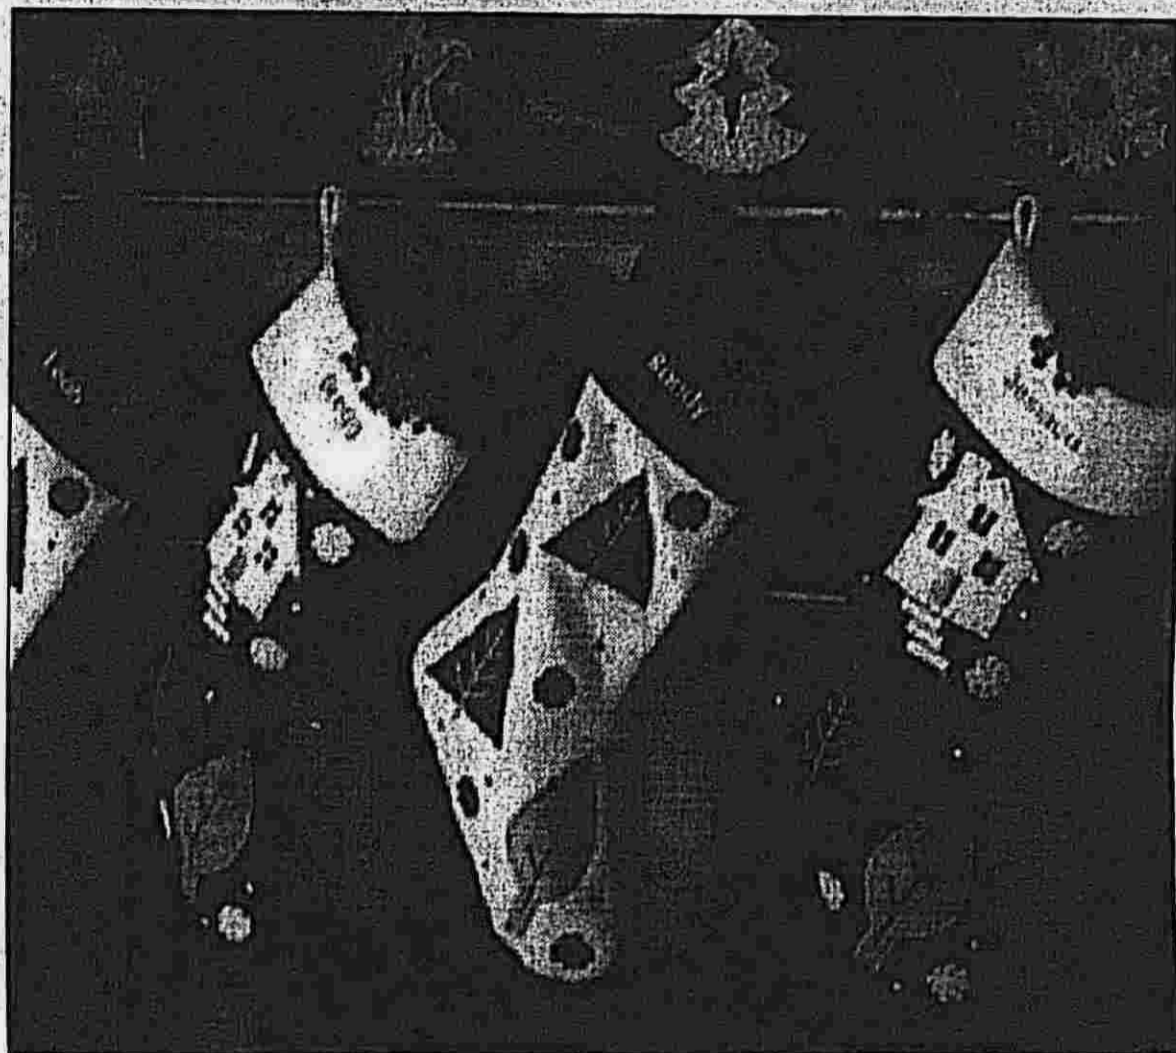

- Use long needle pines for draping garland over fireplaces and along end tables. Introduce contrast with potted orchids in terracotta pots.

- For the tree, pick very simple decorations and use sparingly. If needed, the tree can be dressed up with flowing, iridescent gold ribbon. Or, exhibit the unordinary by displaying a grouping of trees trimmed only with white lights.

- Tabletops can be classically styled with a silver tray of pinecones. Or cluster handblown glass candleholders accessorized with holly sprigs or incense cedar.

- Strike gold with a timeless centerpiece. Simply place gilded resin pears in a wrought iron basket.

Trees and shrubs—Why we should grow them

The difference between trees and shrubs is not very clearly marked. A tree has been described as having but one stem or trunk while a shrub has several. This is a rather weak distinction, but as many cultural directions are similar we may study them together. We cannot get along without trees. Apart from their practical value, they make for a better environment and they are a wonder to behold. The spiritual value of loving trees and being close to them is beyond comprehension. I feel closest to God when I am surrounded by many trees and plants.

Looking at a tree we can recognize in its make-up three principal parts. They are the roots, the stem, and the crown. The roots comprise that part of a tree that is usually found below the ground. Our common trees have two general types of root systems, namely shallow-rooted and tap rooted. Such trees as the spruces, the hemlocks, and the pines have roots that tend to spread and lie close to the ground. These shallow-rooted trees are, as a rule, not wind-firm. Other trees such as the hickories, the oaks and the walnuts develop a long tap root. The firmly anchored trees are rarely uprooted.

Roots have three main functions. They anchor the trees to the ground, absorb water and dissolved food from the soil, and transport these to the stem and then to branches, twigs, leaves, and to other parts of the crown. During the winter months considerable food is stored in the stem for use early in spring when growth starts.

Trees get bigger year after year, in order to grow, they must feed. The raw material out of which trees make their food comes from two sources—the soil and the air. The rootlets with their many small root hairs absorb water and with it the food substances that are held in solution. During the growing season there is a continuous flow of sap from the roots through the stems to the leaves, where it is converted into nutritious tree food. When the sunlight plays upon the granules of leaf green, tree food is manufactured. To make the food, water is brought from the stem through the leafstalks into the leaves. Then a complex chemical process takes place. This is the reason why leaves have been called the laboratory of the trees. The principal product derived from this process, known by the name of photosynthesis, is starch. As rapidly as the food is made in the leaves, it makes its way down through the cells of the twigs, branches and the stem. When there is an excess of food material it is stored in the roots, stems, branches and twigs for later use.

It is interesting to note that in making the starch, oxygen is a by-product. This explains why it is healthy to have green growing plants around us in the daytime. Leaves prepare food only in the daytime, and their output is the greatest in full sunlight, and is almost negligible during dark nights.

If some forethought is exercised in their planting, trees will repay all the care that may be given them. It is obviously not enough merely to set a tree in the ground and expect it to grow into a perfect specimen without help from us. They need a lot of tender loving care but they will repay us with their beauty over and over. I hope this lesson convinces you to plant a tree this year.

Until next time, peace.

Time to organize garage, workbench

Are you tired of searching through a cluttered tool box for your Phillips-head screwdriver, or trying numerous loose keys before finding the right one to open that storage shed padlock? If your garage, toolbox and/or workbench have become a convenient dumping ground for hardware odds and ends, it's time to get organized.

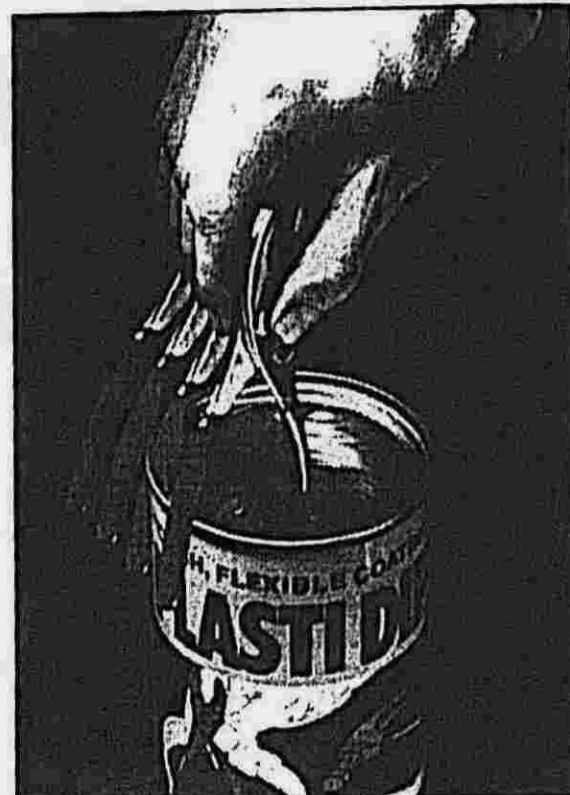

"Nothing is quite as frustrating as wasting time and energy looking for the appropriate tools or supplies," states Jodi Moulzolf, vice president of retail for PDI, Inc., a manufacturer of quality coatings, sealants and adhesives for use in the home. "But with a little organization, you can make your tools easy to identify and to access."

If you're ready to "clean up" your act, Moulzolf suggests assessing your work area first. Where are most of your tools and supplies currently kept? Do you have adequate drawer, pegboard, and/or storage bin space?

"If your tools and hardware items are scattered loose all over your workbench or tossed randomly into your toolbox, the first thing you need to do is sort them — screwdrivers with screwdrivers, nails with nails, etc.," Moulzolf advises. "Then consider purchasing appropriate sized storage containers for each grouping and label them accordingly. This encourages everyone in the family to return items to their proper place."

"Next, I recommend color-coding your tools for easy identification. Dipping the handles in Plasti Dip, which is available at most major home centers, is a great way to do this. The flexible coating comes in red, yellow, green, blue, black, white and brown, is easy to use and dries quickly."

In addition to making your tools and supplies instantly identifiable, the coating insulates and cushions your grip, Moulzolf adds. "The uses are endless, you can color-code keys and padlocks, hooks, scissors, garden tools, coat hangers — whatever you can think of really. It works on metal, plastic, wood and rubber, so organization is a snap."

Finally, consider how frequently you use each item. For example, the wing nuts and socket wrenches you use occasionally can be tucked along the back of your workbench, while the frequently used screwdrivers, hammers and nails should be up front within easy reach.

Once organized, it's easier to remain that way, notes Moulzolf who adds, "The time you spend now, can save you twice as much later."

LAKE FOREST HOSPITAL

Alzheimer's Support Group

Lake Forest Hospital's Alzheimer's Support Group, for those who care for Alzheimer's patients, will meet at a new time, from 7 to 8 p.m. The group meets the first Tuesday of each month in the library at Westmoreland Nursing Center, on the Lake Forest Hospital campus, 660 N. Westmoreland Rd., Lake Forest.

The group provides psychological support for those with a loved one suffering from Alzheimer's disease or other types of dementia. The meetings are informal and facilitated by a Lake Forest Hospital staff member. For more information, call 295-3619, ext. 5982.

Bereavement support group

For those who have lost a loved one. Meets the second and fourth Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the library at Westmoreland. Meetings include participant introductions, "ground rules" for support and time to share stories and experiences. For more information, call 234-5600, ext. 6446.

Breast cancer support group

For breast cancer patients and their loved ones. This group provides emotional and psychological support for those dealing with breast cancer. Designed as an open discussion group, topics are selected each month and include changes in body image, coping with chemotherapy and its side effects, on-going medical follow-up and physician relationships. While the group does not have an educational focus, participants teach each other coping techniques for living with cancer and its treatment. The group meets on the second Tuesday of each month from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the administrative conference room. For more information, call Carol Stovold at 234-5600, ext. 6445.

Fibromyalgia support group

For those who suffer from Fibromyalgia. Facilitated by Lisa Wheeler, RKT, of the Center for Rehabilitation at Lake Forest Hospital, this group meets the third Wednesday of each month from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. and features a guest speaker. Future topics to be addressed include: Acupuncture; What's the Point?; Sleep: A Restful Night; Nutrition; Eating Healthy; Medication Management; Latest Treatment Trends in Fibromyalgia; and Advantages of Massage. Until next September, keep walking and keep healthy!

Flu shots help you weather the winter

Influenza is a serious disease caused by a virus that spreads from infected persons to the nose or throat of others. The "influenza season" in the U.S. is from November to March or April each year. Health care providers recognize employee illness is costly to a company and impacts production all across the world.

To improve their bottom line and keep employees well and on the job, the Center for Disease Control recommends that your employees receive the Influenza vaccine. Influenza vaccine has been shown to prevent illness in approximately 70 to 90 percent of healthy persons and effective in preventing hospitalization.

The Acute Care Centers located in Vernon Hills, Buffalo Grove, Round Lake and Gurnee, will be offering flu shots for $10 from Oct. 1st through Dec. 1st at all four facilities. Special staffing will be available every Tuesday from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. to expedite your visit at the centers. Should this time frame not meet your needs, you are welcome to come during the centers regular hours. The Vernon Hills and Round Lake centers are open daily from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., the Gurnee center from 8 a.m. to midnight daily and our Buffalo Grove center is open 24 hours.

To accommodate companies with many employees and minimize time off the job, flu shots will also be offered on-site for a minimum of 30 individuals at the same cost. To coordinate flu shots at the Acute Care Centers for multiple employees or set up times for our staff to come on-site to your company, please contact the Occupational Health Services Department at 362-2905 ext. 5526. We look forward to meeting your health care needs this season.

Did you know?

• The best time to get a influenza vaccine is between September and December. A new shot is needed each year.

• Protection develops 1 to 2 weeks after the shot and may last up to a year.

Who needs a flu shot?

- Everyone 65 years and older.
- Residents of long term care facilities.
- Anyone who has a serious long term health problem.
- Women more than 3 months pregnant.
- Physicians, nurses or anyone coming in close contact with people.
- Students and staff at schools to prevent outbreaks.
- Travelers to the Southern hemisphere between April and September or those traveling to the tropics anytime.
- Employment where large groups of individuals are concentrated on confine areas.

Influenza can cause fever, cough, chills, sore throat, headache and muscle aches.

Consult your physician before receiving a vaccine if you have an allergy to eggs, have a history of Guillain-Barre Syndrome, had an allergic reaction to a previous dose of influenza vaccine or if you are ill at the time of the shot.

A vaccine, like any medicine, is capable of causing serious problems, such as serious harm or death is extremely small. Almost all people who get the vaccine have no serious problems from it. The viruses in the vaccine are killed so you cannot get influenza from the vaccine.

Mild problems may occur such as soreness, redness or swelling where the shot was given, or may cause fever and aches which usually begin soon after the shot and last 1-2 days.

Report any unusual condition, such as a high fever or behavior changes to your physician. Signs of serious allergic reaction can include difficulty breathing, hoarseness, wheezing, hives, paleness, weakness, a fast heart beat or dizziness.

For additional information of the influenza vaccine call your local or state health department or contact the Center for Disease Control at 1-800-232-2522.

Toys can teach kids about giving to others

Dr. Singer,
With the holiday season approaching, I wanted to tell you about something that my family does every year. I think this will be valuable information for your readers!

We believe that the holidays are more about giving than getting. Each year, we have our kids round up the toys that are gathering dust or the toys they have outgrown, that are still in good condition, and have them help us get them in order to donate to charity so other kids who are less fortunate can have toys to play with.

We have found that involving our kids in the process has been very rewarding. Our kids love this ritual as much as they love getting the new toys. We also do this with our clothing each year. We believe that kids should know how to have fun giving as well as getting and I hope that by sharing this with your readers, more people will do the same thing. D.K.

Dear D.K.,

What a wonderful thought and ritual! I think that many of us do get caught up in what we will get as opposed to what we will give.

PARENT'S PLACE

Sherri Singer,
Psy.D.

Especially kids! When you think about it, the actual real meaning of the holidays is about giving to others.

We also all get caught up in what we will get for others in our family, as opposed to the many out there who don't have the ability to even get for their own family.

I think it would be wonderful if everyone who reads this column did this very thing with their kids. All of us have toys and games laying around the house that don't get used anymore but are in good condition. We also all have articles of clothing that we haven't worn in decades, that are in great condition, that are (be honest) 5 sizes too small, but we still hang on to that notion that we will fit into them again, come "H.E. double sticks" or high water! Wouldn't that article of clothing or lonely toy be better used by someone who didn't have it, than by your closet or shelf?

There is another neat little thing that is available to do around this time of year. Our family tries to do this each and every year. Usually, the bigger department stores have Christmas trees with the names of kids, hanging in the tree. Each name represents a child that is in need.

We usually go and get a few names each year and get them something they need. The note-card usually tells you what the age is and also what they need, so you know what to get for them. Kids usually love this, because they are learning how to feel important by giving. There is no feeling like it in the world.

Let's all take part this year in D.K.'s ritual. Make sure to help your kids feel special by giving to others. Instead of adults getting all the things together for charity in a quiet way, involve your kids so that they can learn from being involved with it. We all get so much more out of life by giving than by getting!

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

Be careful when it comes to a financial situation this week. Don't just go in fighting for what you want. Think about what's best for everyone involved. A friend whom you haven't seen in a long time calls you. Don't just pick up where you left off. He or she wants something from you; find out what it is. Cancer plays a key role.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Stand your ground when it comes to an important family matter. Don't let loved ones force you to do something that you really don't want to do. They may be angry at first, but they eventually will understand your decision. That special someone regrets not spending much time with you lately. Let him or her know that you understand.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

You have a lot on your mind this week, Gemini. Try not to let the stress get to you. Take some time for yourself to sort out your thoughts. This time alone will do a lot for you. A loved one comes to you with a problem. Try to help him or her, but don't get too involved in the situation.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

It feels like you're on an emotional roller coaster this week. One minute, you're up; the next minute, you're down. Try talking to someone close to you. Opening up will help you gain control of your emotions. A close friend invites you out for a night on the town. Say yes — you're sure to enjoy yourself.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Things are going your way, Leo. You're making great progress in your professional life, and your personal life is getting better each day. Enjoy yourself while you have the chance. Things will be hectic again before you know it. Scorpio plays an important role on Wednesday.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

There's an important family decision that needs to be made this week, and you have to make it. Virgo. Look at all of the options, and weigh the pros and cons before making a choice. Think about what's best for those involved. Loved ones are depending on you to be fair.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

While you're not one for taking orders, you really don't have a choice early in the week. An acquaintance takes charge of a business situation, and you just have to follow his or her lead. Don't get angry. Just do what you have to do, and stay calm.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

Don't let your ego get in the way when an old friend needs your help. Be supportive, and do what you can. Do the differences that you two have had in the past really matter now? That special someone is having a difficult week, and you're in the line of fire. Don't take it personally.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Don't let a disagreement with an acquaintance put you in a bad mood. There are too many good things going on this week. One bad moment shouldn't spoil everything else. A loved one asks for your advice about a personal problem. Don't get too involved, because you're in over your head.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

You receive an unexpected windfall early in the week, Capricorn. While you should go out and enjoy yourself a little, don't go overboard. Put something away for a rainy day, because you never know when it's going to pour. Aries plays an important role on Thursday.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Don't tell a lie to get out of a difficult situation, Aquarius. It only will backfire on you. Tell the truth, and work to resolve the problem. Those involved will be impressed with your honesty. A close friend gets into trouble late in the week. Do what you can to help him or her.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Don't ignore a problem that you see forming. It only will get worse. Dealing with the situation right away will make things easier for everyone involved. A loved one has something important to ask you. Don't dodge the question; just be honest.

As a homemaker, Adelyn Leahy had always prided herself on her success in managing her responsibilities. But when she learned she had cancer, she was uncertain how she could manage the physical and emotional stress of treating her illness.

At Lake Forest Hospital, we understand that cancer and its treatment affect your body, mind and spirit. We offer a total environment of caring stemming from compassion and concern for the whole individual. And our talented physicians, nurses and other cancer experts reach beyond their specialties to provide that care.

Adelyn Leahy, cancer survivor

Our dedicated team of specialists offers more than 55 options for chemotherapy treatment in collaboration with the Rush Cancer Institute, as well as the newest in radiation treatment. It's a team that works together to determine which advanced treatments and therapies are right for you. Our team includes you and your family as partners in the decision making process. And every step of the way, our team ensures that your physical, emotional and spiritual needs are met.

We even continue our care after treatment, through our support services, education and risk reduction programs. For Adelyn Leahy and many others, our environment of caring is providing new reasons for hope.

HERE'S A HEALTH CARE PLAN YOU CAN TAKE ON THE ROAD."
- BETTY WHITE *

I travel a lot. So I know one of the most important things you can take with you is peace of mind. That's why I want to tell you about the new benefit called U.S. Travel Advantage™ in the Aetna U.S. Healthcare Golden Medicare Plan™.

Now with U.S. Travel Advantage, you can receive the same quality health services at home and when you travel to one of the many Aetna U.S. Healthcare Golden Medicare HMO plan locations around the country. And with U.S. Travel Advantage, your coverage is expanded for travel up to 12 continuous months.

The travel benefit is even great for those who want to recover from surgery near a loved one or friend.

The Aetna U.S. Healthcare Golden Medicare Plan includes more benefits than traditional Medicare and most supplements at no extra cost. Now with U.S. Travel Advantage, you can take those benefits on the road.

Whether you travel a lot or a little, find out more. Call 1-800-583-5588 for more information on the plan, a complete listing of approved service areas for the travel benefit, and a copy of our free brochure, "U.S. Travel Advantage".

1999 GMC Jimmy hits a high point in safety, comfort and performance

With its added safety, comfort and performance features, the new Jimmy clearly provides compact size sport utility customers with more of the all-around capabilities they want and need.

"Jimmy is now safer, more comfortable to drive and ride in, and provides more of the functionality that its highly active buyers demand," said Brand Manager Tony DiSalle. "It's better equipped to serve a wider variety of customer needs than ever before. And its bold, expressive look continues to underscore its individuality."

Increased Safety and Security

Jimmy increases safety and security with three new standard features, including:

- A vehicle theft alarm system which sounds the horn and flashes the lights to signal unauthorized entry. It also adds illumination when the door handle is activated.

- A flash-to-pass feature added to its lighting system. By pulling back on the turn signal stalk, drivers can flash headlights to warn the driver in front of them of their intention to pass.

- An instrument cluster signal that alerts occupants when the liftgate is ajar.

- The new features join dual Next Generation air bags, daytime running lamps and automatic headlamp control, rear-door power window lockout, rear door child-security locks, PassLock theft-deterrent system and a standard four-wheel disc antilock braking system to provide peace-of-mind driving on joyment and operation.

New AutoTrac Two-Speed Transfer Case

Selected four-wheel-drive models receive a new AutoTrac push-button electronic transfer case which offers drivers state-of-the-art active transfer case technology in addition to on-demand two- and four-wheel-drive high, neutral and four-wheel-drive. Pressing the "AWD" button puts the vehicle in full-time all-wheel-drive and in four-wheel-drive standby mode.

When a condition occurs requiring four-wheel drive, sensors detect wheel slippage and apportion greater amounts of torque to the front wheels. If continuous real wheel slippage occurs for a sustained time, the system will automatically go into "4HI" mode. The transfer case can be left in "Auto 4 WD" on all surfaces without damage or wear. The new transfer case also allows Jimmy to be towed behind a motor home or other vehicle without having to disconnect the propshaft.

JIMMY: Hits a high point in performanceNew "Tow/Haul" Feature

Jimmy also incorporates a new Tow/Haul shift-select preference, standard on four-door models, which can be accessed by pressing a button on the center console. When the vehicle is heavily loaded or pulling a trailer, the Tow/Haul mode changes the transmission shift points to optimize transmission smoothness. When equipped with the heavy-duty trailering package, the four-wheel-drive Jimmy can tow up to 5,000 pounds while two-wheel-drive models have a towing capacity of 5,500 pounds.

Enhanced Ride, Comfort and Convenience

For improved driving/riding comfort and convenience, Jimmy now provides available:

- Steering-wheel mounted radio controls.
- Premium Bose Sound Music System with patented Nd® woofer technology and Dynamic Equalization that automatically compensates for different listening levels.
- Remote keyless entry activated two-position memory driver's seat in the SLT model.
- Six-way and eight-way power front passenger seats.

•Available refined Euro-Ride suspension.

Exterior Changes

Jimmy features redesigned exterior rearview mirrors on all models. The uplevel SLT adds the electrochromic feature to reduce nighttime glare.

Jimmy is also available with heated outside rearview mirrors. The outside mirror defrost feature is operated by the rear window defogger switch.

Interior Highlights

Jimmy features a highly stylish and ergonomic instrument panel and a driver-oriented cockpit feel.

Its instrument panel includes Next Generation driver's and passenger's side air bags, an analog gauge cluster and backlit headlamp switch.

The IP features radio and HVAC controls, angled 15 degrees toward the driver for easy accessibility. Another ergonomic touch is the location of the glovebox latch on the inboard side for easy driver reach.

Thoughtful amenities include a passenger's side IP-mounted assist grip, a cigar lighter in the ash tray and two power outlets just below the ash tray.

Help Mark Bobowski's transportation needs

Friends of Mark Bobowski are trying to raise money for Mark, who recently was paralyzed in a swimming accident. The goal of the fund-raising effort is to purchase a van equipped with a wheelchair lift for Mark. Numerous businesses around McHenry County are selling $10 raffle tickets in hopes of raising enough money to help Mark purchase a pre-driven van and wheelchair lift.

The Gary Lang Auto Group in McHenry has supplied the Grand Prize, A Classic 1971 Pontiac Lemans Convertible. Every $10 ticket donation will enter one chance to win the classic car. 100% of the ticket sale proceeds from this event will benefit Mark Bobowski. The winner will be drawn at Gary Lang Superstore on Sat., Dec. 12 at 11 a.m.

Mark Bobowski, before being injured worked at the Gary Lake Auto Group in McHenry. Dave Maire, Vice President of the dealership, said, "Mark is a great person, he always helped everyone. Now that he needs help, I just know in my heart the money will be raised."

For more information on where to purchase to $10 raffle tickets, either call the Gary Lang Auto Center at 815-363-CARS, or stop in by person between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m. Mon.-Fri. and 8 a.m.-6 p.m. on Sat.

When an Accident Happens, Are You Prepared?
Choosing a Quality Collision Repair Business

You're at a stoplight when you are suddenly jolted from behind. You get out of your car to realize that your vehicle has been damaged by the vehicle behind you. The damage doesn't appear to be extensive, but hidden damage can be difficult to detect. How do you know how much damage was done to your vehicle and if it's safe to drive?

Automobile accidents happen every day. When they do, most people are not prepared for them. Choosing a collision repair facility before you are faced with this situation however, can save you time and aggravation. But how do you start your search for a quality collision repair facility?

It's not as hard as you might think. Here are some basic questions to ask yourself when you enter a collision repair facility:

1. Is the facility clean and well lit?
2. Do they have modern equipment and current technical references?
3. Can you tour the facility?
4. Do you see signs, plaques or qualifications of technician training?

Signs of training are especially important. It shows that a business is keeping up with the technology of today's vehicles.

One company that is keeping businesses up-to-date with collision repair technology is I-CAR®, the Inter-Industry Conference on Auto Collision Repair. I-CAR is a not-for-profit organization that provides collision repair training to collision repair businesses, insurance companies, and other industry related professionals. I-CAR's mission is to protect the consumer by educating businesses on up-to-date collision repair methods.

To recognize businesses that are well-trained and up-to-date in collision repair technology, I-CAR created the Gold Class Professionals® program. When you see the I-CAR Gold Class Professionals sign you can be assured you have chosen a quality collision repair facility. This sign means the business has made a commitment to training their staff on up-to-date technology, and has the knowledge to properly find all of the damage and repair your collision damaged vehicle.

The I-CAR Gold Class Professionals logo is easy to spot in the yellow pages, and on signs located outside the business. Many insurance companies have listings of I-CAR Gold Class Professionals and are I-CAR Gold Class Professionals themselves. They understand the importance of being properly trained and directing their customers to quality repair facilities.

To find an I-CAR Gold Class Professional near you, or for a FREE information kit about the program, call 1-800-55-AUTO2. You can also search www.i-car.com for an I-CAR Gold Class Professional by region, state or province.

Cancer Treatment Centers of America<sup>SM</sup> is proud to announce the opening of The Mary Brown Stephenson Radiation Oncology Center.

"Seventeen years ago, my mother was diagnosed with cancer. An intelligent woman of great strength and stamina, she fought her battle at a time when the disease was considered a death sentence. Regardless, in my opinion, the treatment and care she received as a human being was terribly inadequate, insensitive, and dispassionate. Following her death in 1982, my family and I felt compelled to do something about it. Thereafter, we embarked upon a mission to develop a method of treating cancer that would truly 'make a difference' in the lives of cancer patients and their families. By integrating leading-edge medical technology with more holistic, totally comprehensive, and uniquely patient-focused programs, our approach was developed to empower the whole person in the fight against cancer by employing all of the firepower inherent in a cancer patient's total embrace of body, mind, and spirit. Today, the widely acclaimed patient-focused care at Cancer Treatment Centers of America is setting a benchmark for cancer care nationwide. It will now be further enhanced by our latest, world-class therapeutic options in radiation therapy. The new Radiation Oncology Center, named in honor of my mother, Mary Brown Stephenson, is a testimony to her gallant spirit and to our unstoppable and uncompromising commitment to patient empowerment. This new program represents a major step forward in the fight against cancer. Here, we will offer the most advanced radiation therapies available, always delivered in an atmosphere of warmth, compassion, and sensitivity."

Mrs. Mary Brown Stephenson

In the fight against cancer, Midwestern Regional Medical Center is adding to its high-tech arsenal of therapies. On November 20, 1998, the new Mary Brown Stephenson Radiation Oncology Center will provide Zion and the nation with the most advanced radiotherapies available, including Intensity Modulated Radiation Therapy (IMRT). These treatments are so innovative, many community-based hospitals and academic centers do not yet have this technology. Yet patients will not feel they are in a cold, clinical atmosphere. Housed in its own wing, the new center is designed to be a homelike, patient-friendly environment that is warm and inviting. In response to patient input, vaulted ceilings, art deco fixtures, and contemporary oak trim were selected to create a feeling of country comfort. Special artwork also provides "visual therapy." Calm, uplifting, and inspirational photographs, paintings, sculptures, and a wonderful mix of soothing contemporary and classical music will combine to relax patients and increase their sense of well-being. This, in turn, will help to increase the effectiveness of their medical treatments.

IMRT: the first system that allows the pinpoint focus of radiation to match the exact size and shape of the tumor.

"At Cancer Treatment Centers of America, we believe in empowering those fighting cancer by involving them in the decision-making process. Patients have a choice of treatments ranging from standard therapies to more advanced treatment regimens involving the latest breakthroughs in cancer medicine. These include Bone-Marrow Transplantation, Intra-Arterial Chemotherapy Infusion, Photodynamic Therapy, Fractionated-Dose Chemotherapy, and, now, with the opening of our new radiation center, Intensity Modulated Radiation Therapy and High-Dose Rate Brachytherapy. Our cancer hospital is truly one of only a handful of medical centers which can offer their community the latest advances in cancer care. We encourage local residents to visit our new facility and discover the region's most innovative cancer program."

ACQSIM CT Simulator

The new Radiation Oncology Center in Zion is one of a few of the country's leading-edge cancer hospitals offering clinically important innovations such as Intensity Modulated Radiation Therapy (IMRT). IMRT focuses thousands of pencil-thin beams of radiation precisely at a tumor with laser-like accuracy, isolating and destroying more of the cancerous cells than conventional radiation, while preserving more of the surrounding healthy tissue. With IMRT, physicians can deliver up to 40% more radiation directly to hard-to-reach tumors while sparing up to 70% more of the surrounding tissue.

"Very often, the problem with conventional radiation is that it has never been precise enough to destroy the cancer cells while sparing the good cells. That problem is made even greater by the irregular shapes of tumors and often by their locations," commented Bradley Kramer, MD, radiation oncologist and director of the new Radiation Oncology Center. Dr. Kramer believes that IMRT's precision will revolutionize the treatment of cancer by allowing physicians to aggressively target a tumor and safely increase the dose and control rate while at the same time sparing healthy tissue.

Here's how it works. Using the IMRT computer, the physician and physicist first create a detailed, individualized treatment plan consisting of two- and three-dimensional "maps" of the tumor. These maps are delineated by "isodose" lines resembling the isobars on weather maps, and show how much radiation to direct at which portions of the tissue. Then, driven by specialized software, the IMRT unit delivers a highly regulated dose of radiation directly to the tumor regardless of size, shape, and anatomical location.

Patients who previously have undergone conventional radiation therapy can be considered candidates for IMRT because its accuracy allows physicians to administer more than the maximum allowable dose of conventional radiotherapy, even at multiple sites, and even though the patient may have been previously told that he or she could not have any more therapy.

New Radiation Oncology Center uses advanced simulator and accelerator for state-of-the-art therapies.

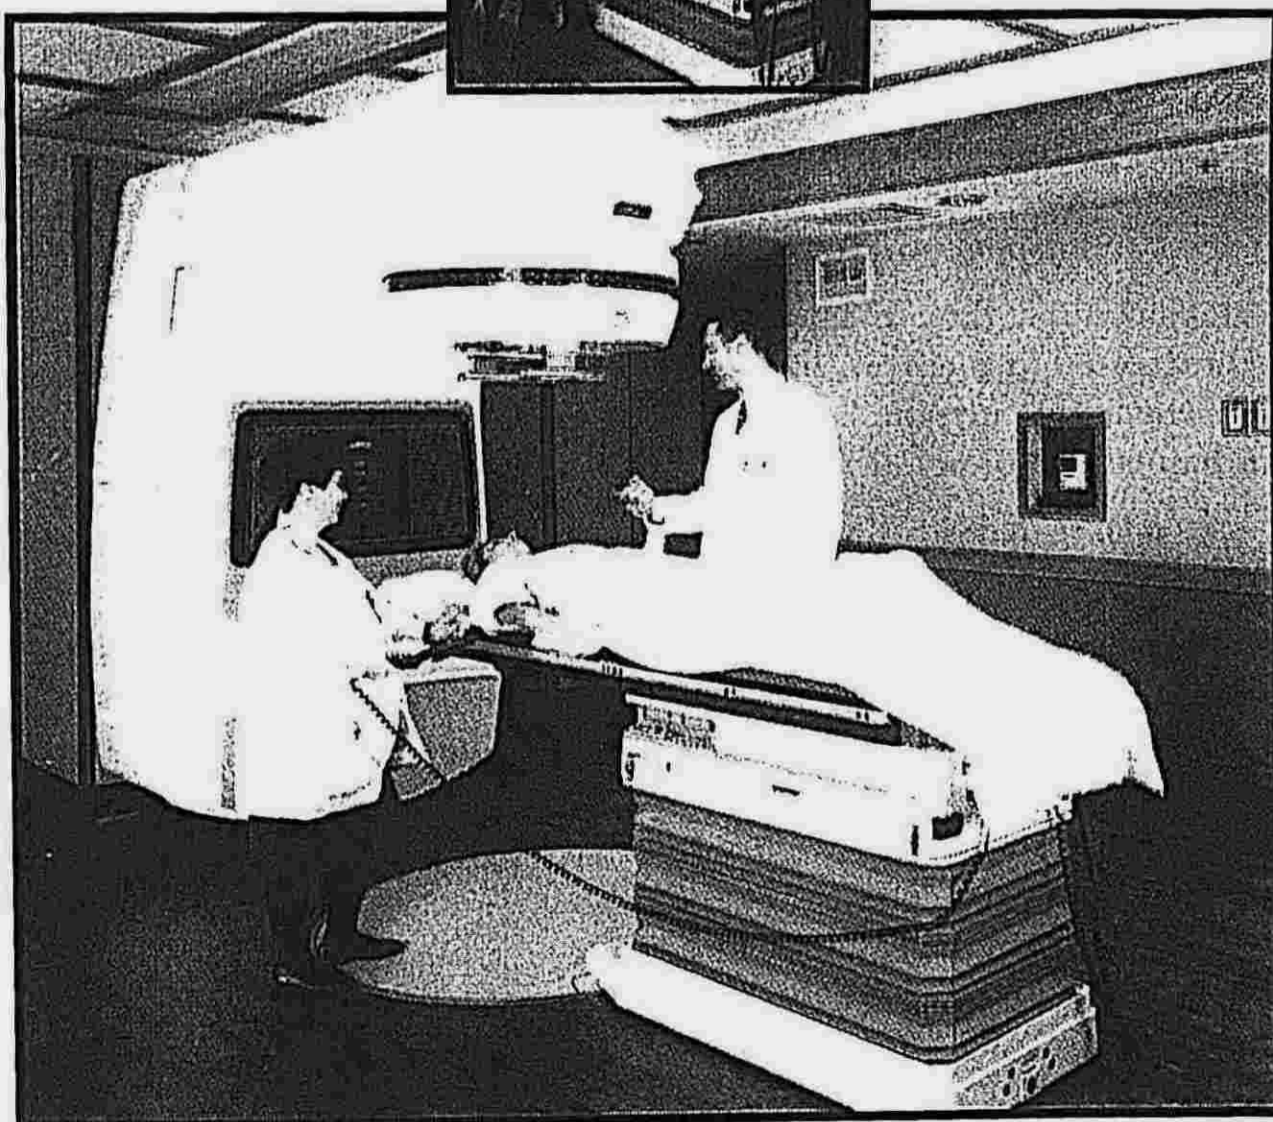

"This center is one of the finest I've seen, and I've visited quite a few," said Milwaukee native Dr. Bradley Kramer, radiation oncologist and director of the new Mary Brown Stephenson Radiation Oncology Center. Dr. Kramer joined Midwestern Regional Medical Center from the New England Medical Center and Tufts University School of Medicine, because of Cancer Treatment Centers of America's "patient-centered focus and high-tech, cutting-edge therapies."

Leading-edge radiation therapies consist of two phases and require two machines, a simulator for treatment planning/simulation and an accelerator which produces and delivers radiation by electron acceleration. The new simulator at Midwestern Regional Medical Center is a highly-advanced ACQSIM, and is used to locate the tumor and normal tissues in three dimensions. Most conventional simulators only relay information in two dimensions. The CT images are then transferred over fiber-optic lines to an advanced three-dimensional radiation planning computer (CadPlan), where the tumor and natural tissues are precisely outlined and the details of radiation delivery carefully and precisely planned to spare as much healthy tissue as possible. Then the patient is comfortably immobilized and stationed to reproduce the precise results of the simulator.

According to Dr. Kramer, director of the new center, the objective is to match or "conform" the radiation exactly to the target, while sparing the surrounding healthy tissue. This is called conformal radiation. Conformal radiation, or IMRT, treatments are delivered using the center's new Varian 2100 C/D Linear Accelerator. This highly advanced machine produces the radiation beams which are administered for very brief periods over a course of several days to weeks.

Cancer Treatment Centers of America: A leader in breakthrough treatments.

At our Midwestern Regional Medical Center, our board-certified oncologists come to us from all over the world, choosing to work here because of our uniquely empowering patient-focus and our many innovative treatments and programs. These treatment options include:

- Autologous Bone Marrow Transplant and Stem Cell Rescue is a therapy designed to provide an alternative treatment to overcome the bone-marrow-destroying effects of high-dose chemotherapy and radiation. This treatment provides an alternative when traditional chemotherapy has failed. After the collection of the patient's stem cells, the collection is "filtered" or purged to select stem cells for the subsequent transplantation, and to eliminate potential tumor cells in the graft. The remaining, now purified, stem cells are then reinfused into the patient.
- Within the next year, Midwestern Regional Medical Center will begin Allogeneic Bone Marrow Transplants. Allogeneic Bone Marrow Transplants are required when the patient's bone marrow is diseased and a donor-matching tissue is required from another individual. Usually, the donor is a family member of the patient; however, there are more than 2,000,000 donor candidates from across the country from whom matches can be made. This increases the probability that the donor's bone marrow will completely match with the patient's.
- Hepatic Intra-Arterial Infusion Chemotherapy is a treatment that directly infuses the liver with high doses of chemotherapy via the femoral artery to treat cancers that have progressed to the liver. Intra-Arterial Infusion Chemotherapy reduces the harmful side effects associated with traditional chemotherapy and has resulted in response rates of 50%, compared to response rates of 25% when chemotherapy is administered orally or intravenously.
- Photodynamic Therapy (PDT) is a procedure that uses a laser to destroy cancerous cells that are first injected and isolated with the photoactive drug Photofrin.
- Hereceptin/Her-2-neu Therapy: Her-2/neu is a cancer-causing gene that appears to be involved in more than 30% of breast cancers and is particularly resistant to chemotherapy. The new drug, Hereceptin, appears to block the growth-promoting actions of Her-2/neu proteins. Cancer Treatment Centers of America will add Hereceptin to our arsenal of cancer-fighting technologies by the end of 1998, when clinical trials are complete.

The new Mary Brown Stephenson Radiation Oncology Center also offers patients the treatment options of Breast, Lung, and Prostate High-Dose Rate Brachytherapy (HDR). HDR delivers radiation directly to and within the tumors without affecting healthy tissue, and, in many cases, is an effective alternative to conventional surgery. The treatment is administered over only a few days with very little discomfort to the patient. Patients experience fewer side effects because less radiation reaches the skin, ribs, lungs, and heart, compared to that which is released during traditional external beam radiation treatments or permanent seed implants.

For many breast cancer patients, HDR can preserve breast tissue, eliminating the need for a mastectomy. For prostate cancer patients, HDR greatly reduces both recovery time and the likelihood of side effects like impotence and incontinence when compared to radical prostatectomy.

The only cancer-care program in America in which naturopathic doctors are an integral element of the caregiving team.

To fulfill Midwestern's mission to provide optimal patient care, we offer patients access to leading-edge treatment technology. But that in itself is not enough," states Cancer Treatment Centers of America founder Richard J Stephenson. In order to go beyond, Cancer Treatment Centers of America has developed the nation's most integrative approach to patient-empowered cancer care. Under the leadership of Timothy C. Birdsall, ND, National Director of Cancer Treatment Centers of America's Naturopathic Medicine Program, on-staff doctors of naturopathic medicine integrate their expertise with Cancer Treatment Centers of America physicians and oncologists, and become a significant part of each patient's treatment team.

Medicine program.*

Today, there is a strong indication that many forms of cancer may result from the immune system's failure to "block" or inhibit the early growth of cancer cells. After comprehensive testing, the naturopathic doctor, working in conjunction with nutritionists and one of our on-staff oncologists, will formulate a therapeutic dietary program, including vitamin and mineral supplements, to help stimulate the patient's immune system to resist the growth of cancer. The doctor of naturopathy will also customize nutritional programs to assist in maintaining the patient's physical well-being, lessen the side effects of treatments, resist physical weakness that can lead to other ailments, and describe natural and more holistic options to help in fighting the patient's disease.

Cancer Treatment Centers of America's "whole-person" treatment program sets the standard for high-tech and higher-touch cancer care.

Our patient-centered philosophy combines the latest in cancer therapy with a personalized approach to care that stresses the interaction of the body, mind, and spirit. Our "whole person," 5-point treatment program fights cancer on all fronts and includes the following:

Innovative Medical Technology. In addition to traditional medical therapies, treatment options include leading-edge innovations such as:

- Fractionated-Dose Chemotherapy. Maximizes the intensity and effectiveness of the treatment while minimizing side effects.
- Local Hyperthermia. Uses the heat of ultrahigh frequency sound waves to destroy cancer cells and make tumors more susceptible to other forms of treatment.
- Immunotherapy. Uses the body's own naturally occurring defense system to destroy cancer cells.
- Comprehensive Hepatic Center. One of the few in the country offering tumor ablation, chemoembolization, regional biologic therapy, radiation therapy, and other new approaches for liver cancer patients.

"Motion For Life" is the name of our uniquely pioneering Physical Therapy Program. Motion For Life is designed to strengthen muscles and maintain a level of physical activity that will help overcome the weakness and energy loss some patients experience during treatments. Continuing the prescribed program at home can help patients remain active so they can do the things they want to do.

Emotional Support And Psychological Counseling.

Specially trained counselors and psychotherapists bring compassion and understanding to the fears, anger, and hope of cancer patients and their loved ones. Treatment teams include specialists in psychoneuroimmunology. Through this form of therapy, patients learn to use their psychological resources to enhance their inner well-being, which may stimulate the immune system to help fight their disease.

Integrated Naturopathic Programs. The most comprehensive program of naturopathic cancer medicine in the United States integrates doctors of naturopathy and experienced nutritionists with other members of the patient's treatment team to help fight their disease and add to the quality of their life.

Spiritual Support. Our interdenominational support program respects each patient's religious beliefs. A specially trained member of our clergy becomes part of the patient's treatment team. During therapy, emphasis is placed on using the patient's religious beliefs as part of the defense system that enhances the patient's inner well-being, so the body is more responsive to the medical treatment.

Cancer Treatment Centers of America: A proud history in the war against cancer.

For many years, Cancer Treatment Centers of America has been managing a full spectrum of patient-centered cancer-care services. We also have a history of supporting progressive cancer research through our affiliation with the Cancer Treatment Research Foundation. The Foundation is presently funding more than 20 promising clinical trials throughout the United States and abroad ranging from biological and genetic programs to advanced nutritional and allogeneic bone-marrow initiatives. All such trials are designed to truly "make a difference" in the lives of cancer patients TODAY! Moreover, nearly 100% of all contributions from the public are employed quickly to fund the expansion of these and other innovative and hopeful programs.

Our programs and facilities have been accredited by organizations that include the Joint Commission On Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, The American College of Surgeons, and the College of American Pathology.

CANCER RESOURCE CENTER

Your number one source for news and information about cancer.

If you've ever wanted more information about cancer, but didn't know where to find it, this local outreach center was made for you. Located at Gurnee Mills Mall, the Cancer Resource Center is a major draw for area residents interested in the latest information and updates about cancer research options, coping with cancer, and cancer prevention. Founded in conjunction with Cancer Treatment Centers of America and Northwestern Regional Medical Center, the Resource Center has the appearance of an inviting reading room, and features a comprehensive library of books, periodicals, videos, and audio tapes, all on the subject of cancer. Topics range from managing cancer through nutrition and diet to cancer treatment options and inspirational literature by cancer survivors. In addition to the resources available at the Center, a caring, knowledgeable staff will answer your questions and make referrals, if needed. The Cancer Resource Center also offers convenient mammograms. For information, call 1-800-940-2822.

Countryside Landfill promises to reduce stench

By JOHN ROSZKOWSKI
City Editor

Several steps will soon be taken to help alleviate odor problems at the Countryside Landfill in Grayslake.

Lynn Morgan, a spokeswoman for Countryside landfill, said two new flares will be installed at the landfill, hopefully by the end of December. Morgan said the new flare system will more than double the speed at which the landfill can burn off odor emissions.

"We're definitely expecting this will make a difference," said Morgan. "We think it's going to reduce the odors at the site."

However, she said Waste Management Inc., which operates the landfill, is awaiting final approval from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency before installing the new flares.

Morgan said the company is also planning to make other improvements to the landfill's gas collection and destruction system in early 1999.

While she can't guarantee these changes will eliminate all odor emanating from the landfill, she thinks it will greatly reduce it.

"Occasional odors are inherent in any landfill, but we believe the odor we've been experiencing on a continuous basis can be substantially reduced," she said.

Andy Quigley, executive director of the Solid Waste Agency of Lake County, said a survey conducted at the landfill found there was too much gas being generated and the existing odor collection system was becoming "overwhelmed." He said the installation of the new flares will allow the existing system to operate "much more efficiently."

The Lake County Health Department issued a notice of violation on Nov. 13 against the landfill after receiving several complaints about odor by several residents that live near the landfill.

"We still have an enforcement case concerning the odors. We sent out a violation notice to Waste Management on Nov. 13," said Mike Kuhn, solid waste specialist for the Lake County Health Department.

Kuhn said the department wants to see what steps the company will take to correct odor problems at the landfill before deciding whether or not to take enforcement action.

The department has the authority to levy substantial fines — up to $50,000 per violation and $10,000 for each day a violation occurs. The health department and Lake County State's Attorney's Office are reviewing whether any fines are warranted.

"That's a decision the state's attorney's office will make once we see the response from Waste Management," he said. "We'll determine what, if anything else, needs to be done."

Kuhn said the company has taken positive steps to correct the situation with its plans to install a new flare system at the landfill.

"Waste Management has taken the initiative to make the necessary corrections that were needed," he said.

Libertyville site gets closer university look

City Editor

While a Libertyville site for the proposed University Center of Lake County hasn't received much attention to this point, several county officials think it should be given a closer look.

About 100 acres of county-owned property at the County Farm sits undeveloped at Route 21 and Winchester Road in Libertyville.

During a special meeting last week, several County Board members expressed interest in the Libertyville location because it is property that's already owned by the county.

County Board member Martha Marks (Dist. 21-Riverwoods) said the county should keep an open mind about the Libertyville site and should not rule it out too quickly.

"It's not a perfect site, but we really shouldn't rule anything out," said Marks, who also serves on the University Center Task Force, which will select a location for the University Center.

Marks said one of the advantages of the County Farm site is it would not require additional land purchases. The College of Lake County in Grayslake has also indicated it would donate a 14-acre parcel if the University Center was located there.

"It (the County Farm site) and the CLC campus would be free, which would allow us to put our money into a structure that truly serves our needs instead of retrofitting something that's already there," she said.

Board member Bonnie Thomson Carter (Dist. 5-Ingleside) agrees the County Farm site may have some advantages over the other locations.

"I think one of the pluses is that the land is owned by the county already and it would help reduce the cost of shared dollars," Carter said.

Carter said she thinks both the Libertyville site and the College of Lake County site need to be given serious consideration. "At the Libertyville site, I do have some concerns about traffic, but I don't see those problems at CLC," she said.

Traffic congestion concerns are a major issue that would have to be addressed if the Libertyville site is to be considered, according to County Board member Carol Calabrese (Dist. 15-Libertyville). "The village is concerned about the traffic impact," she said.

Board member Jim LaBelle (Dist. 4-Zion) said other sites, notably the Lakehurst Mall in Waukegan, have several advantages over the Libertyville site, particularly in terms of transportation accessibility. He noted that Lakehurst is near several major highway interchanges including I-94 and Routes 43 and 120. And, unlike the County Farm site, Lakehurst already has existing buildings, parking and other infrastructure in place.

"Do we want to add more to what is already a congested area?" said LaBelle of the Libertyville site.

Other potential sites for the University Center include CLC, a vacant industrial park in downtown Mundelein at 421 E. Hawley Street, the VA Medical Center campus in North Chicago, and the Village Green Golf Course at the corner of Winchester and Midlothian roads in Mundelein.

LaBelle regains chairmanship

New county board chairman elected unanimously

By JOHN ROSZKOWSKI
City Editor

Jim LaBelle had plenty to be grateful for when he was elected chairman of the Lake County Board this week.

In 1990, LaBelle was fighting for his life against lymphoma, a deadly form of cancer. He took his oath of office as a County Board member that year from his hospital bed.

After a successful bone marrow transplant, LaBelle's health has returned and he is now ready to lead the County Board into the 21st century.

By a surprising unanimous vote, LaBelle was elected chairman of the Lake County Board on Monday, replacing outgoing chairman Robert Grever. The last time a board chairman in Lake County was elected by a unanimous vote was in 1978.

LaBelle, who previously served as County Board chairman from 1984-1987, is thankful to have survived illness and to have another opportunity to serve as board chairman.

"I'm just grateful. I'm grateful to have the opportunity to be here," said LaBelle (District 4-Zion).

LaBelle hugged several family members following the vote, including his wife, Jan. His three youngest children were also in the audience, along with his father and mother, Clifford and Kathy LaBelle.

"It's humbling, that's the main feeling," he said of the election. "I probably better understand the responsibilities the job entails than I did before, but I'm also well aware of my shortcomings."

LaBelle's election represents a shift toward a more pro-environment, slow-growth platform which has been emphasized by many moderate Republicans on the board and some Democrats.

As a result of the shift in power following the Nov. 3 election, Grever could not garner enough votes to maintain control of the board leadership, thus paving the way for LaBelle's election.

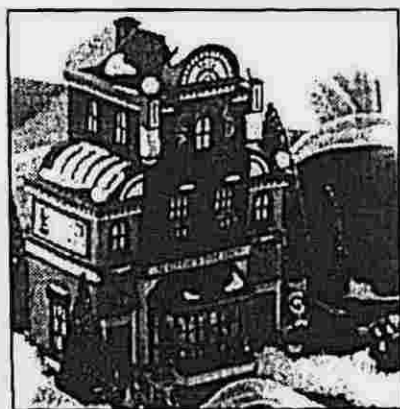

Grever said he decided last weekend that he did not have the necessary votes to be re-elected chairman. In order to maintain board unity, he decided to withdraw his name from consideration for the chairmanship.

"I thought trying to make a floor fight was not in the best interests of the county, so we opted to take the route we did and show support and unity," he said.

Grever said he has "mixed feelings" about leaving the chairmanship. He said he's enjoyed serving the county in a leadership position and working on major projects such as the proposed University Center of

A DIGEST OF STORIES MAKING HEADLINES THROUGHOUT OUR REGION

Bonfire, party broken up

Johnsburg—Eleven minors and two juveniles were arrested on Nov. 28 following a party that got out of hand on Route 31.

According to police, callers complained of a loud party at the 3700 block of Richmond Road and Route 31 at 12:43 a.m. on Nov. 28, which police responded to. Police discovered the party was happening outside of a residence around a bonfire.

All 11 were arrested for illegal consumption of alcohol by a minor, and were issued a Dec. 18 court date for their crime.

Everyone was released on recognizance bond. The two juveniles were released into parental custody.

Students study pioneer life

Ingleside—Fourth and fifth grade students of St. Bede School have already started learning about life on the farm, pioneer style, thanks to a grant from the Lake County Farm Bureau.

Fourth grade teacher Diane Sheedy applied for her first grant through the bureau's Ag in the Classroom program, and was overjoyed to receive $250 for her agriculture project, "Study of Farming—Past & Present."

A total of 47 fourth and fifth graders are participating in the program, learning about farming during its Pioneer days in the 1800s to the present. Students just finished a unit on farming and plants, and will complete the study in April with a field trip to Camp Henry Horner in Ingleside, for a hands-on approach to pioneer life.

Teachers upset with calendar

Wauconda—Many Wauconda Unit District 118 teachers are upset with a plan proposed by district administrators to delay the start of the 1999-2000 school year by one week, and possibly hold classes on Veterans Day.

The plan proposed by Dr. John F. Barbini, superintendent, is one of six options the school board has to choose from at its Dec. 17 board meeting.

Barbini said delaying school next year is necessary to accommodate major construction projects at three, and possibly all five, district schools, and avoid the rush to ready classrooms of this year. Teachers are upset all the options delay the school year, when a survey 185 of 223 teachers completed showed a majority were against any delay.

Village freezes tax rate, again

Fox Lake—Trustees approved the village's 1998 Tax Levy this week, and froze the tax rate for the second consecutive year.

A levy of $1.9 million unanimously approved by the board, said Trustee J. Kevin Hunter. This freezes the village's tax rate at 1.192 per $100 Equalized Assessed Valuation, the same rate for the past two years.

Rezoning request denied

Wauconda—A proposal to annex and rezone 12.96 acres as office research for a proposed business park at the southeast corner of Bonner and Old Rand roads was partially denied by the Wauconda Zoning Board of Appeals/Plan Commission this week.

The commission recommended annexing the property, but with a R-1 residential zoning, as the petitioners had no potential users for the site, authorities said. When the land owners last appeared before the Wauconda Board of Trustees in September, they had a potential user, but the company has since backed away.

Wauconda trustees are likely to review the plan commission's recommendation at the Dec. 15 board meeting.

High school wins lawsuit

Libertyville—Libertyville Community High School won a personal injury case against the school in Illinois Supreme Court on Thursday, Dec. 3.

The student, Joshua Henrich, had undergone spine fusion surgery for a lower back medical condition in Feb. of 1994 and the school had been provided with a letter from Henrich's physician stating he was "permanently restricted from participating in contact sports, such as wrestling and football in gym class at school." The school was well aware of his condition.

On Feb. 2, 1995 Henrich was told by a substitute physical education teacher that he had to participate in a water basketball game during gym class.

The lawsuit claimed that during the game Henrich was "severely and permanently injured."

The case will come before the Illinois Supreme Court again however because the law containing the statute which overruled the students complaint was changed just one day prior to the decision being handed down in this case.

Teen pleads guilty in beating

Wadsworth—A teen charged with attacking a 45-year-old Wadsworth man in his own home plead guilty Thursday, Dec. 3 in Lake County Circuit Court.

Francisco Sosa, 18, of Waukegan pleaded guilty to home invasion for his role in the August incident in which he and three others entered the home of a Wadsworth man and beat him during an attempted robbery, said Assistant States Attorney Daniel Shanes.

Sosa, along with the victims daughter, a juvenile, and two friends Shannon Colleran, 17, and Arthur Fletcher, also 17, went to the victims home because his daughter thought he would have money in his bedroom.

Without provocation Fletcher struck the first blow and he and Sosa attacked the victim while he was still asleep.

He will still be sentenced on the home invasion charge for the Wadsworth incident and will face between 6 and 30 years in prison. He will have to serve a minimum of 85 percent of the sentence handed down.

Raffle to benefit parent network

Antioch—Choosey Child is sponsoring a raffle of 12 Beanie Babies to raise money for the A. L. L. Parent Network at Antioch Community High School.

"We're raffling all ten of the newest releases to one winner, plus Glory, plus Princess," said owner Barbara Porch. "I'm calling it the 'Twelve Days of Christmas Raffle.'"

The winner will be selected Thursday, Dec. 31.

Raffle tickets may be purchased at Choosey Child, 891 Main Street, Antioch. Tickets are $3 apiece or two for $5.

The Beanie Babies included in this raffle are: '98 Teddy (a holiday bear), Santa Elf (Santa Claus), Halo (angel bear), Scorch (dragon), Zero (Penguin), Pumpkin (pumpkin), Beak (bird), Roam (buffalo), Loosy (goose), Canyon (cougar), Glory (bear) and, Princess (bear).

Some of these Beanie Babies will be retired at the end of December.

Of the 12 toys to be raffled, four will be retired. They are '98 Teddy, Zero, Santa Elf, and Pumpkin.

"We will be calling the winner," said Porch. "That way, people don't need to call us."

Man arrested for computer fraud

Mundelein—Mundelein resident Kenneth W. Fox, 37, of 1233 Ballantrae Place, was arrested Monday Dec. 7 for computer fraud and theft. Police were contacted recently by a woman from Washington who had bought Beanie Babies over the Internet from Fox. She sent the money to Fox, and the toys were never sent to her. After the woman placed a message on the Internet warning others of Fox, more calls came in to the Mundelein Police Department.

Police Investigator Marc Hergott said six victims have come forward, with a total of almost $5,000 being taken from them. Fox was arrested by police at his place of employment in Vernon Hills on Dec. 7. Fox told police he took the money to pay for his cocaine habit.

New car dealer to open in Gurnee

Gurnee—Anthony Pontiac/GMC/Buick broke ground on Dec. 3 for its new facility in Gurnee. Tony Augelli, President, said the new facility will feature a lap-top work area, child's playroom, and shuttle service to Gurnee Mills and the train station. The facility is scheduled to open in Spring of 1999.

Augelli said his commitment to customer satisfaction inspired the move from its current Waukegan location to Gurnee. The dealership has been rated #1 in the Chicago area for three years in a row, Augelli said.

Visually impaired woman settles

Grayslake—A 30-year-old visually impaired woman from Chicago received $27,000 on Dec. 4 from a discrimination suit filed against a Grayslake landlord.

The suit was filed in June in U.S. District Court by Theresa DeLaFont and her father William. Filed against Grayslake landlords Richard and Marjorie Brenton, the suit claimed discrimination against the DeLaFonts.

The Brentons refused to rent the single family house at 430 S. Lake St., because DeLaFont, who is legally blind, had a guide dog.

DeLaFont has been assisted by a Labrador Retriever named Zanth for nine years. DeLaFont and her father planned to relocate to Grayslake to be near College of Lake County, where DeLaFont planned to pursue a degree. According to their attorney, they have canceled their plans to move to Lake County.

Despite the family's assurances that the dog was a support animal, the Brentons did not allow them to see the property. The Brentons were concerned that the dog would make a mess in the house, and claimed their advertisement of no pets would not allow them to rent to DeLaFont.

YMCA to build youth golf course

Lake Villa—Hastings Lake YMCA will build a junior nine-hole golf course with The First Tee program of the World Golf Federation.

George Babish, director of YMCA business development, made the announcement with First Tee officials on Friday, Dec. 4 to local community, education, and recreation leaders.

The YMCA wants to establish a steering committee to help manage the course and youth golf program. Several people have expressed interest to serve on such a committee to Jim Scherer, Hastings Lake YMCA Executive Director.

"This is a wonderful project," he said. He plans to have a meeting with interested steering committee members in January to begin development of this project.

Community leaders with skills to offer who would like to serve on an oversight steering committee can call Scherer at 356-4024.

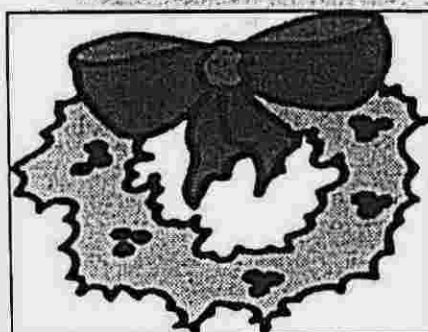

A preliminary course design includes, clubhouses facilities, putting and chipping greens, practice lesson tee, a 9-hole putting course, practice greens with 3, 4 and 5 par holes, and a 9-hole par 3 course.

Time to roll up the sleeves, Jim

The unanimous election of Jim LaBelle as chairman of the Lake County Board this week, is as much a sign from voters as it the apparent abdication of power by the pro-development Republican faction of the county board.

Voters have repeatedly downed candidates associated with growth and development since the ousting of Bob Depke by Al Westerman two years ago.

The bell has rung.

It is time to move forward on a new era in county board politics—teamwork.

The collective board has spent much of the past several years disagreeing about the direction in which they wanted to take this county.

With the long-awaited Unified Development Ordinance set to become finalized in 1999, the board now has the opportunity, in their new found teamwork, to put the teeth into the ordinance which it deserves.

The board also has the opportunity to move forward with a educated campaign to gain voter approval of the Forest Preserve referendum in April. In their other hats, as forest preserve commissioners, members owe it to future residents of Lake County to preserve more open space.

It is time to bury politics and political coalitions on the Lake County Board and work together for a better Lake County.

It is the promise all board members campaign on and the one voter's should be able to expect. It is not bickering, political maneuvering and back-door politics. It is open meetings, better communication with the public and better policies.

LaBelle is the right guy to led the county forward.

He has the experience, the knowledge to do the job well but more importantly he has the respect of his peers and constituents.

University quest wisely slowed down

Wisely, the process for selecting a site for the new University Center of Lake County, originally depicted as a "multi-versity," has been slowed to a manageable, deliberate pace. Now it appears that a local task force, originally running on a tight deadline imposed by the Lake County Board, will have several more months of study time before making a recommendation to the State Board of Higher Education.

Geared for working adults, the University Center will be a consortium of public universities offering affordable degree programs. A dozen or more schools have indicated a desire to be part of the program. The State of Illinois is prepared to put $10 million into the project with local sources matching the amount. The unique facility could be a reality by 2001 or 2002.

More than a dozen sites, originally advanced by interest groups around the county, have been narrowed to six finalists—Lakehurst Mall; College of Lake County; Hawley St., Mundelein; Village Green Golf Course, Mundelein; Veterans Administration Hospital, North Chicago, and county owned land near Winchester House, Libertyville.

Extending the site recommendation process has corrected the erroneous impression that identifying the University Center site will be a political task. Three reasons overrule the tactics, perhaps arising out of hometown boosterism, of "getting there firstest with the mostest."

First: the multi-versity will be a non-traditional seat of higher learning. A campus quad, tree-lined sidewalks, student rah rah activities, sports teams, etc., won't be essential. Second: Facilities will be available to McHenry County residents. This raises the reality that McHenry County have influence, or at least be given consideration, in site selection. Third: County government faces difficulty in raising matching funds without bonding or a tax increase referendum which would involve political complications.

Task force members, or input to be gained by an ad hoc committee, might well consider these and other hurdles yet to be uncovered in the next several months. We believe that the University Center launch should involve more than the usual brand of County Board politicking. Or are we missing something?

VIEWPOINT

Direct election preferred method of accountability

That's a one word explanation why direct election of the Lake County Board chairman makes sense and why politicians squirm when the question of at-large election of the chairman is put to them.

State Senator Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills) has rekindled interest in letting the general electorate pick the chairman with his proposal to introduce a bill in the January session of the General Assembly mandating an at-large election in 2000.

Under the present system the chairman is selected by a majority of the board after extensive log rolling, wheeling and dealing, back-scratching, deal cutting, vote trading, job promising, back-stabbing, double-crossing, just about everything that's repulsive in the political process. The newly elected chairman is accountable only to the 12 members who voted for him or her. Talk about representative government?

Link is prepared to force the issue of direct chairman election even though statutes permit board members themselves to make the change. That will never happen because they have too much personal power at stake.

Critics of selecting the chairman at-large are talking baloney when they fret over the high cost of running a county-wide election. Every general election the statutory county offices are filled in at-large balloting. There is no outcry against the sheriff or states attorney of recorder of deeds, for example, running county-wide because of cost prohibitions. Who's kidding?

The current system has its faults, power brokering among an elite group of politicians advancing hidden agendas being foremost. Running at large, chairman candidates would present their platform to the voting public in tried and true open campaign style. Lake County is becoming more independent. We don't see Republicans having a lock on the office. Link, an astute politician, wouldn't be pushing at-large chairman election if he thought he would be creating another GOP automatic.

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

With an open, county-wide chairman election, one thing is certain. Republican regular fat cats no longer would have disproportionate influence. Their ties to big scale developers and land speculators in picking the chairman haven't served Lake County well, in our opinion. Getting the selection of a chairman out in the open by letting the voters decide would be a big step forward.

Employment health

In the view of Chuck Bartels, owner and CEO of the Manpower offices, Lake County's first quarter 1999 employment outlook is healthy. The regular survey conducted by Manpower, an unusually reliable indicator, found 20 percent of businesses adding to payrolls, 70 percent remaining steady and only 10 percent preparing for cutbacks.

In a demo mood

Demonstration projects are the new buzz in downtown revitalization projects. New landscaping for Lions Park next year will be a major goal of the Lake Zurich Revitalization Partnership. Finishing touches are being put on a war veterans memorial and fountain at the intersection of Rte. 134 and Cedar Lake Rd. in the Village of Round Lake to cap off a downtown street widening and repaving project.

League of their own

Teetering on the brink of dissolution because of dwindling membership, the League of Women Voters of Libertyville-Mundelein, could be facing a philosophic crossroads rather than disinterest on the part of women in public affairs.

While the nation continues to move toward conservatism, the League continues with a distinct liberal flair regarding public policy despite being scrupulously bipartisan when it comes to putting on debates and candidate forums.

Foreman watching

City Editor John Roszkowski of Lakeland Newspapers scored a beat with his report that former U.S. Attorney Fred Foreman of Gurnee, who also is a former Lake County State's attorney, would give more than a passing glance at County Board chairman if it becomes an elective post. Definitely not a small potatoes political job as Foreman knows from sidekick Gale Franzen, a high profile Republican operative from the Thompson era in Springfield, who did a turn as DuPage County chairman.

The county chair can wield tremendous power. Last time there was serious talk about electing a Lake County Board chairman, perhaps three decades ago, the late Bob Sabonjian, colorful mayor of Waukegan who once floated a bid for the U.S. Senate, let it be known that he would run for the chairmanship in a heart beat.

Porter says comments premature

Northshore Congressman John E. Porter (R-Dist. 10) says he regrets commenting in a recent media inquiry regarding his position on impeachment of President Bill Clinton.

"I should not have responded even with a qualified answer while the judiciary committee still has the matter under consideration," Porter said.

Porter says he believes Clinton's conduct may well be impeachable, but that it is not likely he will be impeached.

Porter favors the passage of a resolution of censure against the President, since the Senate lacks the number of votes to impeach.

Paul McHale, a Pennsylvania Democrat, has already prepared such a resolution.

Porter says both the House and Senate have the votes to pass a censure resolution.

If it were passed, Clinton would be one of only three Presidents in history to be subjected to an impeachment inquiry and the only one censured by Congress for misconduct in office.

"This strikes me as a far more significant consequence than a failed vote in the Senate to convict him," Porter wrote.

Class-act

Former Lake County Board Chairman Bob Grever showed he had a lot of class, Tuesday.

Instead of opting to make a contentious floor fight over the chairmanship, he withdrew his name and supported the slate of Jim LaBelle (Dist. 4-Zion), who was elected unanimously.

"I thought trying to make a floor fight was not in the best interest of the county, so we opted to take the route we did and show support and unity," Grever told the group.

Let's hope the board can put past differences behind them and work toward a common goal that is good for Lake County.

Family leadership

Speaking of the LaBelles of Zion, Jan LaBelle has announced her intention to run for Mayor of Zion. Jan is the wife of County Board Chairman Jim LaBelle. Jim was selected to lead the board, Tuesday.

The LaBelles have also been an active family politically. Jan has served as a city commissioner and on the elementary school board in the city.

Springfield-bound

State Representative-elect Susan Garrett, will be organizing a "Springfield bound" bus for those interested in witnessing the inauguration of newly-elected Illinois legislators and senators on Jan. 13, 1999.

"If citizens, including students, are interested in witnessing the swearing-in of their elected officials and visiting Springfield, they are welcome to come along with us," Garrett said.

For more information contact Garretts' office at 482-1998.

Carving his name in stone

Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton took another step toward carving his name in stone, or concrete as it may be, with the approval by the Gurnee Board, Monday of concept plans for Great America's expansion.

Over the objection of a large citizens group, which amassed 900 signatures against the development in a matter of days, the board voted 4-2 to move forward on the water park project, dubbed entertainment village.

When citizens presented their petitions to the board seeking an advisory referendum on the project, Welton told them "a referendum is not needed."

Look for citizens to continue speaking out against this project.

All I want for Christmas is ...

As the "baby" of the family, my four older brothers always complained that our mother spoiled me something awful. Well, they were right, and I just lapped it up like honey.

Apparently, sometimes what goes around does come around, because I am being spoiled again, this trip by my wife and my three kids and their spouses.

At this time of year, of course, it's, "What do you want for Christmas, Dad?"

The answer is, I already have everything I need. Except maybe for a suitcase full of money.

Between last Christmas and my March birthday, I kid you not, I was presented with eight dozen new golf balls and an expensive Great Big Bertha driver. Handy gifts for a guy who now has time to play more than 100 rounds of golf a year.

One of my unforgettable Christmas gifts—half a gift actually—appeared under the tree many moons ago. My brother Earl and I didn't have a bicycle, while most of our friends did. It was during the Depression and our dad was working long hours in his gasoline station to support the family, to make ends meet.

He got a used bike from one of his customers, spiffed it up, painted it a shiny red and black, and there it was looking brand new on Christmas morning when Earl and I came downstairs to see what "Santa" had brought. We shared the bike and were as happy with it as two pigs in a puddle.

I asked some folks about their favorite Christmases.

Our son Tony said, "When I was 13, and you and mom surprised me with a set of golf clubs. Also, last year, my son Zachary's first Christmas."

THE PFARR CORNER
Jerry Pfarr

Iris, my e-mail friend out in New York, said, "The Depression, yes. We lived in Indianapolis. My dad was working 12 hours a day for 50 cents an hour as a mechanic at Gilligan's Garage. That particular Christmas Day the Salvation Army truck stopped at our house. I have no idea how they 'knew' to do that. They gave me a coloring book and my sister a box of crayons. Our little brother got a homemade pull toy. I still remember the look of joy on his face. Oh, by the way, the Salvation Army people also left two cans of beef for us. To this day, Dinty Moore beef stew hurls me back into orbit."

This week I came across an America Online feature in which celebrities were asked what they were wishing for this Christmas. Some of the responses:

Singer Tony Bennett: "I would try to stop all wars."

Actor Jeff Goldblum: "I would give everyone in the world peace. Peacefulness, the end of conflict."

Singer Mary Chapin Carpenter: "The world needs a wake-up call—tolerance, love, peace, justice and knowledge."

Musician Dave Brubeck: "Peace."

There seems to be agreement that what the world needs now is what the angels called for at the first Christmas, "Peace on earth, good will among men."

I'll wish for that again, too. Forget about the suitcase full of money.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Helander mistake is costly for taxpayers

The election ink is hardly dry and Lake County Clerk Willard Helander is proving as inept and incompetent as many of us had warned.

In just a month since the Nov. 3rd election, we had to recount the votes because of a computer glitch, and now we have learned that Helander failed to follow the statutory 30 day public notice for the school bond referendums in Lake County.

In at least six news accounts of the bond issue mess-up, I saw Helander quoted only once, and she at first defended the foul-up by saying "we follow the election code, not the school code."

Wasn't there a whole lot made during the election about Helander's technological reformation of the county clerk's office? With all of that technology, her computers aren't geared up to input state school code laws that can impact on school bond referendums.

This last screw-up isn't a funny matter. It's serious. I am a taxpayer in the Waukegan school district. We do not know the hundreds of thousands of extra dollars that we will pay because of the foul-up. With all of the technology, the clerk's office said it came down to "human error."

Lastly, what the public isn't aware of is, that costs of the screw-up may have been lessened if the clerk's office had "come clean" much quicker. It was too much to ask the legislature to "clean-up the mess" in just a couple of days. But if the matter were brought up to local legislators earlier in the veto session, a resolution may have resulted.

Losing elections is one thing. You get over it the next day. But losing tax dollars is something you don't get over so easily. Willard Helander's office is responsible for taxpayers spending hundreds of thousands of dollars that they shouldn't. I know that I won't forget it, and all of the taxpayers who will pay for her mistakes shouldn't, either.

Tax levy outrageous

At their Dec. 7 meeting the Mundelein Village Board held a hearing in order to receive comments from the public in regard to the Real Estate Tax dollars they are requesting this year (1998 Tax Levy).

I was surprised to find just one other Mundelein resident in attendance in spite of the outrageous 28 percent increase in taxes being requested by the "Sindles spenders" who serve as the village trustees.

Perhaps the turnout would have been greater if the village made an effort to let us know about the hearing. However, no notice could be found in the village hall. I know of no notice other than the one legally required notice in one issue of one local "newspaper."

My fellow Mundelein taxpayers I give you warning. Now that we are a home rule taxing body the 1991 tax cap no longer limits the village's tax spending.

We have in the 1998 tax levy the first example of what will be the most outrageous fleecing by the most profligate group of tax spenders I have seen in my 30 years of observing Mundelein government.

Every person who pays a real estate tax bill in Mundelein should be concerned about the approach the village is taking in regard to taxation under home rule. Home values, business vitality and a secure life for senior citizens are some of the things we risk through outrageous taxation.

If you are concerned, call your elected officials now and demand a decrease in the 1998 tax levy to a pre-home rule amount.

Robertson a class act

In his quiet and unassuming way, Warren Robertson labored at The News Sun in Waukegan for 22 years before retiring as the editor of its editorial page.

He was always helpful, always competent and always the complete professional.

Interestingly, his funeral came just hours before the demise of The News Sun building's news operation, where he spent his newspapering years, and its shift to new quarters.

As a longtime friend and colleague at the newspaper, I know that he deserves a tribute as—trite, but true—a class act.

Support 'Assisted Living'

All seniors love their independence. As we gather together with friends and loved ones, our thanks are offered for continued independence.

Often we are forced to live in a traditional nursing home before we really require this type of care. It could be due to loneliness, needing a little help with personal care or just having someone willing to check on them.

For these seniors there is a ray of hope. It is called assisted living. A new type of congregate housing. Unfortunately, Illinois has not made assisted living a priority. No legislation has been passed so a crisis has occurred:

Seniors have no idea what product is being sold when in an "assisted living." Some operators find loopholes that allow them to run facilities outside of regulations or oversight. In Illinois Assisted Living Development lags far behind other states due to no licensure care.

The Illinois Legislature has an opportunity to change all of this by calling SB743, The Assisted Living and Shared Housing Establishment Act now. This bill will provide licensing and "common sense" regulation of assisted living establishments. It will guarantee to the consumer what basic package of services they can expect. This bill would also bring oversight to those facilities now currently operations without any regulation.

I urge all seniors and others so concerned to call and write their state representative now. Ask them to provide seniors with the opportunity to remain independent for as long as possible by calling SB743 for a vote.

SB743 passed in State Senate by a 53-1 (four absent or not voting) vote. It is "stalled" in House. Get your legislator to press for a vote on SB743.

No state money is involved in Assisted Living facilities.

IEPA is still undecided about landfill punishment

By JOHN ROSZKOWSKI
City Editor

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency is still considering whether or not to submit a notice of violation against Countryside Landfill, in light of a recent settlement agreement between the landfill and the county.

Jeff Sutton, a spokesman for the IEPA, said the agency had planned to issue a violation notice against the landfill as early as this week, but the agency is now taking a second look at the matter in light of the landfill's settlement agreement with the county.

Still, he emphasized the agency has not ruled out taking enforcement action against the landfill, located just outside of Grayslake on Route 83.

"It's definitely an option," said Sutton, but added nothing is set in stone at this point.

If the IEPA were to issue a violation notice, it could levy substantial fines against the landfill. Fines of up to $50,000 could be issued for violations of state and federal regulations. To this point, however, no action has been taken and no fines have been levied.

Part of the reason may be a recent agreement that was reached between the Countryside Landfill and the county. In a special meeting last Thursday, the Lake County Board, by a unanimous vote, approved the agreement.

Under the agreement, Waste Management, which owns the Countryside Landfill, agreed to pay $1.18 million in compensation to the Solid Waste Agency of Lake County (SWALCO) for filling in about 902,000 cubic yards of waste in an area of the landfill originally designated by the county for future expansion. A portion of that waste, about 107,000 cubic yards, extended beyond the landfill's permitted boundaries.

Lynn Morgan, a spokesperson for Waste Management, said the landfill identified the contour problem back in August and notified SWALCO, which in turn informed the IEPA.

"We're working with the EPA to come up with a plan for restoring the grades that they find acceptable," said Morgan.

Morgan said the landfill is taking steps to correct the situation. She said it plans to place temporary soil reserves to compress the waste back into permitted contours of the landfill, and if necessary, some of the garbage will be excavated and removed.

She said the area that extends beyond the permitted borders of the landfill represents less than 1 percent of the total waste that has been disposed of in the landfill.

"The landfill is not higher than it's supposed to be. It has some pro-tusions on its sides that extend beyond what we had planned," he said.

Morgan said Waste Management is doing everything in its power to correct the situation.

"We think we are taking, and we intend to continue to take, every step necessary to do the right thing at this landfill," she said.

UNIVERSITY: County board likes Libertyville

The county's University Center Task Force has until February to make a site recommendation to the State Board of Higher Education. Task force members planned a bus trip to visit each of the six possible sites this week.

Where the University Center would be located, or how it would be paid for, may be a moot point unless the county can get a change in state statute.

Lake County Assistant State's Attorney Mitch Hoffman informed the board that the county cannot contribute its own resources for the University Center — either land or money — unless there is a change in the law. The projected cost of constructing the University Center is between $19 and $23 million, of which the county would be expected to pay half.

Board Chairman Robert Grever said he is optimistic a legislative change will be forthcoming to allow the county to contribute to the project. He said it's possible the state may pick up a larger share of the building cost than originally expected, perhaps as much as 75 percent.

In the meantime, the county will continue to explore alternatives for obtaining funds to help pay for the University Center.

Gary Gibson of the Lake County Administrator's Office said the county is exploring several funding options to help pay for the project, such as private contributions, state and federal grants, or the possibility of using existing county funds or resources.

Gibson said the board is also looking at the possibility of a bond issue or a referendum for a one quarter percent local sales tax to pay for construction of the University Center.

"We're trying to keep our options open without closing any alternatives," he said.

Forest Preserve gets grant for land acquisition at Singing Hills

The Lake County Preserve District received a $400,000 Open Space Land Acquisition and Development (OSLAD) grant for acquisition of 137 acres to connect a one-mile section of the Grand Illinois/West Loop Trail project through Singing Hills Forest Preserve near Volo.

The 137 acre parcel houses wetlands, oak woodlands and farm land and is part of the District's new Singing Hills Forest Preserve near Volo. The grant will reimburse up to 50 percent of the project costs to a maximum of $400,000 and will be matched with Forest Preserve funds.

In September 1997, the Forest Preserve Board approved a plan to purchase 533 acre Singing Hills Forest Preserve located along Gilmer Road, between Routes 60 and 176, just east of Route 12 in western Lake County. The Preserve features 58 acres of natural oak woodlands and 171 acres of high-quality wetlands, with additional farm lands suitable for wildlife habitat restoration.

Singing Hills provides a route for the Forest Preserves planned 35 mile West Loop Trail and Greenway.

LaBELLE: Back at the helm

Lake County.

However, Grever said being board chairman can be a big job and he looks forward to a less demanding schedule.

"In some ways, it's a relief because it's a very demanding and hectic schedule," he said.

LaBelle praised Grever for his service as chairman and said Grever's decision to show support for the new slate was a "gracious gesture."

"Bob, you have conducted yourself with dignity. You have brought credit and dignity to the board," LaBelle said at the meeting.

In accepting the nomination as chairman, LaBelle said he hopes to focus on three major issues: preservation of the county's natural resources and "open spaces", revitalizing communities, and improving county services, particularly the roads and transportation system.

LaBelle said he wants to promote open dialogue and "creativity" will be encouraged by all board members.

"I expect we'll have spirited debate on many issues. I hope we do. It's the way we get better," he said.

Following LaBelle's election as chairman, Suzi Schmidt (Dist. 3-Lake Villa) was unanimously elected the board's vice-chairman.

Schmidt said she sees her role as vice-chairman to provide support to the chairman and to assist with extra duties that the chairman doesn't have time to address.

The vice-chairman also can vote to break a tie on the board, if the chairman is unable to attend a meeting and cast his vote.

"It's kind of been a non-visible position in the past and we're hoping to make it a much more visible position. There's a lot of things happening in the county and it's going to be a busy two years," said Schmidt.

As part of the County Board's reorganization meeting, three new board members were officially sworn in as family members and friends watched on. The new board members are Lorretta McCarley (Dist. 2-Wadsworth), Robert Sabonjian (Dist. 8-Waukegan), and Peggy Shorts (Dist. 9-Waukegan).

The board did not make appointments to County Board standing committees at the reorganization meeting. A special rules committee is planned for Friday to establish new county rules and procedures and recommend committee assignments. LaBelle will announce committee appointments at a special meeting on Thursday, Dec. 17 at 9 a.m.

Immediately after the board meeting, the Lake County Forest Preserves Board held its reorganization meeting.

Carol Calabresa (Dist. 15 - Libertyville) was elected president of the forest preserve board, replacing Robert Buhai. Buhai, however, will remain as the board's vice president.

Calabresa praised the forest preserve district for "making Lake County a great place to live." As president, she said she is committed to continue to preserve the county's natural lands and endangered species.

Calabresa said the most important issue facing the forest preserve right now is a referendum in April 1999 that would allow the county to purchase more land and restore wildlife habitat.

"I promise you I will do everything I can to win approval for our bond referendum next April," she told the board.

And the judges agree

This year, at the Illinois Press Association Awards, Lakeland Newspapers brought back an arm load of honors—11 in all—which is just one more accolade that tells us you are reading a quality product each week.

Quotes from Best of the Press:

NEWSPAPER DESIGN FIRST PLACE:

"Great layout, excellent choice of body copy and headline fonts. Clean appearance, good use of color overall. Ads offer a variety of typography and art styles. Local news attractively packaged and emphasized made this entry stand out among the competition. Congratulations to a staff who obviously cares about the community!"

THIRD PLACE:

- Editorial Cartoon—Tom Beck
- Agriculture/Business Reporting—Raspberry preserves, Elizabeth Eaken
- Original Column—Life's a Bear, Donna Abear

NEWS STORY FIRST PLACE:

ICHS English teacher fired. Jason J. King, Leon Filas

"Well-written, tells a compelling story. Good use of the teacher's letter attempting to explain himself. Great job on a sensitive topic that must have had everyone in the community talking."

HONORABLE MENTION:

- Feature Story—Executive Orders, Leon Filas
- Feature Photography—Kelly Argis scoffs at a kiss..., Sandy Bressner
- Sports Story—Mr. 900, Brendan O'Neill

Bernard D. Johnson

Age 39 of Salem, Wis., formerly of Lake County, Ill., passed away Saturday, Dec. 5, 1998 at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, from injuries received in a traffic accident. He was born May 24, 1959 in Waukegan, the son of Gordon and Sharon (Fowler) Johnson. Mr. Johnson worked as a flat bed tow truck operator for the A-Best Towing Co. of Waukegan. On July 5, 1991, he married Christine Ford Larson in Waukegan.

Survivors include his wife Christine; two daughters, Valerie and Ashley and a step daughter, Rachel Larson; his mother Sharon Johnson of Gurnee; six brothers, Gordon, Edward, David, Steven, Robert and Michael; three sisters, Jane, Charmaine and Jackie. He is preceded in death by his father Gordon Johnson.

Memorial Funeral Services were held at the Strang Funeral Home of Antioch, Antioch, with Pastor Aaron L. Christie of Faith Evangelical Lutheran Church of Antioch, officiating.

Private cremation was held.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to his family.

Elizabeth E. Simons

Age 79 of Antioch, passed away Wednesday, Dec. 2, 1998 at Condell Medical Center, Libertyville. She was born June 28, 1919 in Chicago, the daughter of the late Oscar and Ella (Paglusch) Johnson. She moved to Antioch permanently in 1974 after spending weekends and summers there since 1955. As a single parent of three she worked in a factory until earning a nursing degree in 1963 as a licensed practical nurse, working at Bethesda Hospital in Chicago, the North Suburban Clinic in Skokie and the Abbott House in Highland Park. After her retirement in 1981, due to medical problems, she maintained her license until 1987. Her pastime was spent playing solitaire and watching cartoons and always attended church every Sunday on TV. She joined the effort group at the Hasting Lake YMCA and the Senior Citizens Aerobics, where she formed many new friendships. Everyone knew her from her eyebrows which she was never without, wearing them even into surgery. Her greatest love was her family and to take in people, such as an aged uncle and a cousin and treating them as wounded birds. She would care for anyone in need.

Survivors include two sons, Douglas of Antioch and Michael (Terry) of Genoa City, Wis. and one daughter, Donna (John G.) Plonka of Antioch; a daughter-in-law, Sandra Simons of Fulton, Miss., four brothers, George (Evelyn) Johnson, Oscar Robert (Carol) Johnson, Charles (Lois) Johnson and Raymond (Mary Ellen) Johnson, eight grandchildren, Lisa (John) Wolff, Mark Plonka, Angela (Greg) Robinson, Victoria (Will) Cromeans, Holly Simons, Tony Simons, Michael Simons II and Nicholas Simons, eight great grandchildren, Amber, Megan, Caleb, Garrett, Shannon, Shain, Ashley and Lynnsy. In addition to her parents she is preceded in death by her first husband, Arleigh Reynolds in 1946 and her second husband, Grant Simons in 1982.

Funeral Services were held at the Strang Funeral Home of Antioch, with the Rev. Paul Meltzer of the Millburn Congregational Church of Millburn, officiating.

Interment was at Irving Park Cemetery, Chicago.

Those desiring, may make donations to the Antioch Rescue Squad or the Hasting Lake YMCA in her memory.

Virginia D. Repp

Age 86 of Antioch, passed away Friday, Dec. 4, 1998 at Condell Medical Center, Libertyville. She was born Oct. 25, 1912 in Chicago, the daughter of the late Charles and Lillian Ulrich, moving to Antioch in the early 1920s. She was a homemaker and a paper stripper for the Advertiser in Antioch and a member of the A.T.P. On Oct. 25, 1980, she married Francis Repp in Antioch.

Survivors include her husband Francis; four sons, Fred (Nancy) Zeien of Antioch, Ralph (Joyce) Zeien of Scottsdale, Ariz., Tim (Mavi) Zeien of North Miami, Fla., Randy (Debbie) Zeien of Zion; one daughter, Paula (Charles) Doty of Lake Villa; one stepson, John (Kim) Repp of Kenosha, Wis.; 17 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren. She is preceded in death by her first husband, Nicholas Zeien in 1967, her son, Nicholas Jr. in 1950 and twin daughters, Elizabeth and Mary in 1954.

Private graveside services were held at Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Antioch.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Antioch Rescue Squad or your favorite charity in his memory.

Katharine Ann Gaughan

Age 84, passed away on Dec. 4, 1998 at the Highland Park Hospital. Born on Oct. 27, 1914 in Chicago, Katharine has been a resident of Antioch for 45 years and retired to Buffalo Grove for the past seven years.

She leaves her children, Sheila (Donald) Mors of Antioch and John (Elizabeth) Gaughan of Grayslake; grandchildren, Sean and Christopher Mors, John, Mike and Maureen Gaughan.

Mass of the Resurrection was celebrated at St. Gilbert Catholic Church.

Interment followed at the All Saints Cemetery, Des Plaines.

Luella K. Wedge

Age 84 of Antioch, passed away Tuesday, Dec. 1, 1998 at Condell Medical Center, Libertyville. She was born, Aug. 3, 1914 in Chicago, the daughter of the late George and Louise (Hartt) Crane. She was a homemaker and lived in Chicago for many years where she married Edward Wedge in 1935. After his death in 1971, she moved to Antioch.

Survivors include her daughter, Kathy (William) Werner of Antioch; three sons, Edward (Anita) of Hawthorne Woods, William A. of Antioch and George (Nancy) of Lake Villa; 10 grandchildren and six great grandchildren and his loving cousin, Kay (Paul) Korda of Des Plaines. In addition to her parents and husband, she is preceded in death by two brothers and one sister.

Funeral Services were held at the Strang Funeral Home of Antioch.

Valberg M. Rhenborg (nee Anderson)

Age 99 of Wauconda, passed away on Sunday, Dec. 6, 1998 at the Care Center of Wauconda. She was born July 2, 1899 in Sweden. She lived in Wauconda for 47 years. She was one of the founders and charter member of the Evangelical Free Church of Wauconda.

She is survived by her son Kenneth (May) Allen; her daughter, Judy Reimer; grandchildren, Linda, Deborah, James, Jon, Renee and Randall; great grandchildren, Kylie, Brett and Chad. She is preceded in death by her husband, Allen G.

Funeral Services were held at Evangelical Free Church of Wauconda, Wauconda.

Friends and family visited at the Kisselburg-Wauconda Funeral Home, Wauconda.

Interment was privately held at Forest Home Cemetery, Forest Park.

Tabletop tips to make the holidays bright

Hanukkah, Christmas, Kwanzaa, New Year's — whatever the holiday, preparing hearth and home for special gatherings requires time and work, not to mention shopping, gift wrapping, cooking, cleaning, dusting, fixing up the house and, most importantly, holiday decorating!

Once these tasks are complete, the most time-consuming project remains: details. The silverware, candlestick holders, faucets and handles ... everything must be polished. Just in time for the holidays, Northern Labs Inc. introduces a quick, effortless solution to every metal-cleaning and polishing need around the house. Mr. Metal, an all-in-one cleaning formula, instantly restores tarnished metals to their original shine without rubbing or buffing.

Simply wipe the formula onto any metal. After drying in just seconds, both tarnish and Mr. Metal easily are wiped away, leaving behind a shiny metal surface protected with Tarnish Guard, an exclusive coating that guards against further tarnishing and dulling and keeps metal shining longer.

The abrasive-free formula dissolves tarnish and dulling grime without scratching metal surfaces, removing ornate etching designs or harming clear-coated metals. It can be used on all metal surfaces including aluminum, brass, bronze, chrome, copper, gold, pewter, platinum, silver and silver plate.

With this easy-to-use metal cleaner, preparing a beautiful holiday table — complete with sparkling silverware, shiny brass candlestick holders and lustrous pewter napkin rings — no longer is a major undertaking. This means more free time for the fun aspects of holiday preparations!

HANUKKAH

- At the center of the table, curve organdy fabric in blue, white, silver and gold around a glowing menorah.
- Scatter foil-covered chocolate coins around the table for decorative accents.
- Accent plain white candles by winding blue, silver and gold ribbon up the tapers.
- Using gold, silver and white fabric paints, create decorative accents and write holiday messages on a fabric runner for the buffet or dining room table.
- Make candle place cards by writing each guest's name in gold or silver marker on an inexpensive white or blue votive candle.
- Tie a bow of shimmering gold and silver ribbons on the stems of wineglasses.

CHRISTMAS

- Highlight the edge of a holiday fabric tablecloth with gold-trimmed ribbon accentuated by decorations in red and green fabric paint.
- Mingle gold and silver holiday accent pieces around the table to fill in any gaps between serving dishes.
- Add sparkle to the holiday table by placing a glass ball ornament in each of the wineglasses. Fill a basket or large bowl with similar ornaments.
- Create a festive multitiered buffet by mounting serving dishes on top of gift-wrapped boxes.
- Place small, colorful gift bags filled with sweet treats at each table setting.

- Hang Christmas-colored tassels on chair backs, doorknobs, handles and drawer pulls of the china cabinet.

KWANZAA

- As Kwanzaa means "first fruits of the harvest," heap fruits and vegetables in a metal basket as a centerpiece.
- Use red, black and green streamers to complement the centerpiece of traditional Kwanzaa items: Mazao (crops), Mkeka (straw mat), Kinara (candleholder), Mishumaa saba (seven candles), Muhindi (ears of corn), Zawadi (gifts) and Kikombe cha umoja (unity cup).
- Weave African-print cloths around the base of light fixtures and table legs.
- Wrap smaller gifts in red, black and green foil and assemble on a silver serving platter for the gift exchange.
- Alternate napkins in Kwanzaa colors of green, black and red at each place setting. Accent with brass or pewter napkin rings.
- In addition to the ears of corn symbolizing the number of children in the family, arrange small, framed photos of each child at his or her spot at the table.

NEW YEAR'S EVE

- Place small lamps covered with lace on the buffet table to create a warm glow throughout the room.
- Wrap inexpensive bottles of champagne in metallic netting and ribbon and set on the table for a radiant toast.
- Add glamour to taper or pillar candles with metallic studs, or use a hot glue gun to apply gold and silver beads, sequins or buttons.
- Place a New Year's party horn into each wineglass at the table or tuck one into each napkin as a fun accent.
- Wind silver and gold streamers around the chandelier or doorway of the dining room.
- Fill a large party hat with multicolored ribbon and confetti as a centerpiece, or line it with napkins and use as a serving basket.

Wise men gather their gifts of the season at Leider's Garden Greenery.

What would the holidays be like without the vibrant color and majesty of poinsettia plants? Whether they are placed at an entryway or as a centerpiece, as hearth decor or Christmas tree accompaniment, poinsettias are a beautiful way to make the holidays festive. These plants are also great gifts for that special hostess, faithful friends, and those relatives we greet during the season.

Our poinsettia plants are grown right in the greenhouse, for outstanding quality and color clarity to stay healthy all through the holidays and well into the new year. Stop in and see our display of red, white, and pink plants, as well as our poinsettia trees.

Great gift ideas for everyone's holiday list: From Dept. 56

It's important for people to make gifts personal, meaningful and memorable, all while staying on budget. According to the 1998 Christmas Report, a survey conducted by Department 56, a leading maker of holiday collectibles, trim and giftware, Americans spend an average of $53 on family members and $27 on friends. And, most of those gifts are chosen based on personal interests (95 percent) and hobbies (85 percent). Following are holiday gift ideas from the experts and Department 56 in a variety of price ranges that might appeal to the two-thirds of Americans who decorate with holiday collectibles.

Gifts for $25 or less

- A large, handcrafted Mercury Glass (TM) ornament in red, blue, silver or gold is a great gift for a young person just getting started or someone with a love for holiday decorations. Choose from a finial shape or a large ball. Ornaments retail for $8 - $24.

- The Snowbabies (TM) "Shall I Play For You" figurine makes everybody smile; it's a fun way to start a collection for both young and old ($16.50).

- From the "12 Days of Christmas" accessory line, "Eight Maids A-Milking," brings the song to life and can begin a tradition of holiday collecting for just $25.

Gifts between $25 - $50

- The North Pole Series (TM) Hall of Records ($50) brings the North Pole to life for the young and young-at-heart.

- The Fisherman's Nook cabins from Department 56's Original Snow Village Collection (R) is a perfect addition to the tackle box of an avid fisherman ($50).

- Charles Dickens' famous holiday story can be shared at home with "A Christmas Carol Reading by Charles Dickens" from the Dickens' Village Series (R) ($45/set).

Gifts between $50 - $75

- "A Little Night Light" has three adorable Snowbabies standing at the base of a lamp. The lampshade is even topped with a Snowbaby-shaped finial ($75).

- "Scottie's Toy Shop" 10-piece gift set from Department 56 includes everything needed to get someone started with a holiday collection for $65.

- The "City Globe" ($65) from Christmas in the City (R) is a perfect gift for a writer or current-events buff.

Gifts over $75

- From the Winter Silhouette (TM) collection, "Santa's Sleigh and 4 Reindeer," presented in beautiful white porcelain looks pretty on a mantle or as a centerpiece ($125/set).

- The "Old Globe Theater" ($175) from Department 56's Dickens Collection is an innovative gift for avid theater goers.

No child's dreams are complete without a vision of Santa's home at the North Pole. Bring that dream to life with "Route 1, North Pole, Home of Mr. & Mrs. Claus" from Department 56's North Pole Series (TM) ($110).

How a famous candy maker combined peppermint and chocolate to create a new tradition

It has become almost a standard part of dining out: after lunch or dinner, your server brings peppermints along with the check, or they're available in a bowl by the cash register. Peppermint candy canes, in all shapes and sizes, are widely used during the holidays, as well. It's a contemporary custom with rich holiday heritage and history.

And so when Chicago's legendary Fannie May Candies decided to introduce a new candy for the holidays, the history of peppermint at Christmas played a big role in the decision.

"Peppermint Creams are expected to become a Fannie May Favorite, a name given to the company's best selling candies," says Sara Runde, marketing communications manager for the company. These new Peppermint Creams contain specks of fresh crushed peppermint drowned in rich dark chocolate and topped with festive red drizzle.

"We found that the history of candy — at least in the form that we recognize today — can be traced back to 2000 B.C. Egyptian tomb drawings depicting candy making," Runde continues. "But the delicacies they prepared were not for common consumption; rather, they were offerings to the gods and consumed by priests and members of royalty."

The mint-after-meals custom dates back to ancient Rome, although the species peppermint was not officially identified until around 1700 B.C. The genus name Mentha originated in Greek mythology, which tells of the nymph Minthe who was transformed into a mint plant by Persephone, the jealous wife of Pluto. And while the Greeks may have crowned their heroes with laurel wreaths, they relied on mint — possibly the same peppermint we use today — for curing their ailments.

The Dutch of New Amsterdam are credited with being the first to make a commercial form of candy in America. As early as 1665, they prepared confections for special occasions such as holidays, weddings and christenings. Native Americans taught the early colonists to flavor hard candies — often made from molasses — with peppermint, spearmint and wintergreen.

Of the mint family, peppermint is the most popular. The United States alone produces over 300,000 pounds of peppermint oil annually. Most species of mint plants are invasive perennials; once they get started in a garden, they grow like weeds. The majority of mints are native to Europe and Asia, as well as some to South Africa, America and Australia.

As for chocolate, people have been enjoying it for more than a thousand years — beginning with the ancient Maya and Aztec civilizations of Central and South Americas. As long ago as 600 A.D., the Maya established the first cocoa plantations along the Yucatan Peninsula in what is now southern Mexico.

An interesting factoid: the botanical name for the trees that produced the beans was cacao. The word cacao came from the constant misspelling of the word by English merchants back in the 17th century.

Among the Mayan culture, cocoa beans were actually used as currency, but the beans were not introduced to Europe until the 16th century. It is believed that Christopher Columbus was probably the first European to taste chocolate. By the 17th century, chocolate houses began springing up in London. And the rest, as they say, is history.

Fannie May Candies is a Chicago-based company. The first candy shop was opened in 1920 where H. Teller Archibald created his scrumptious confections in the back room. Since then, Fannie May Candies has been a stable force in the confectionery industry.

In 1992, the parent company of Fannie May Candies, The Archibald Candy Corporation, purchased Fanny Farmer Candies and became the largest retail candy chain in the United States. Fanny Farmer is also rich in history and excellence and was established around the same time as Fannie May, in 1919, but on the opposite side of the country. Candy maker Frank O'Connor named his new candy company after a real person — Fannie Merritt Farmer — an extraordinary Boston-born woman. Despite childhood paralysis, Fannie Farmer became the leading authority on cookery in her day. It was Fannie herself who introduced the precise measurement — the level teaspoon, cup, etc., thus revolutionizing the world of food preparation. Fannie Merritt Farmer is known as the "mother of measurements."

"The new Peppermint Creams smell and taste wonderful," adds Runde, "and from an aesthetic angle, they make a beautiful gift. With this combination of flavors so rich in their origins, we feel the new candy will make an excellent new holiday tradition."

There will be a variety of Peppermint Cream assortments introduced this holiday season in custom holiday boxes. These are available at any of the 330 Fannie May/Fanny Farmer locations nationwide, by mail order at 800-333-3629 or by visiting their web site at www.fanniemaycandies.com.

Special holiday treats from the dairy council

Scottish Cream Scones

1 c. dried cranberries
1 c. boiling water
3 c. flour
1/4 c. sugar
1 Tbsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cream of tartar
1 stick (1/2 c.) butter (remove from refrigerator 30 min. before use)
1 large egg, separated (remove from refrigerator 30 min. before use)
1/2 c. sour cream (remove from refrigerator 30 min. before use)
3/4 c. whipping cream (remove from refrigerator 30 min. before use)
1 tsp. almond extract
As needed sugar for garnish

Soak dried cranberries in hot water in small bowl for 10 minutes. Drain well; pat with paper towel. Set aside.

Whisk together flour, sugar, baking powder, salt and cream of tartar in large mixing bowl. Cut in butter with pastry blender until mixture resembles cornmeal. Combine egg yolk, sour cream, whipping cream and almond extract. Add to flour mixture, stirring until a soft dough forms.

Turn out onto lightly floured surface; knead gently with palms of hands for 1 minute. Sprinkle dough with reserved cranberries; knead into dough until incorporated.

Divide dough in half; shape into balls. Place each ball on lightly greased or sprayed baking sheet. Roll each ball into a 7-inch diameter circle. Cut pizza-style into 8 wedges. Whisk egg white in small bowl until frothy. Brush surface of each dough circle with egg white; sprinkle with additional sugar. Bake in a 400 degree oven for about 17 minutes or until golden brown. Remove from oven to napkin-lined basket.

German Apple Pancake

1 1/2 lbs. Granny Smith apples (approx. 3 large)
4 Tbsp. butter
1/4 c. brown sugar, packed
1 tsp. cinnamon, divided
1/2 tsp. ground nutmeg
6 large eggs (remove from refrigerator 30 min. before use)
1 1/2 c. buttermilk (remove from refrigerator 30 min. before use)

1 c. flour
1/4 c. granulated sugar
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1/2 tsp. salt
As needed powdered sugar for garnish

Peel, core and slice apples in 1/8-inch thick slices (4 cups). Set aside.

Melt butter in 13-by-9-by-2-inch glass baking pan in preheated 375 degree oven. Arrange apple slices over melted butter.

Return to oven; bake until apples are soft, about 10 minutes.

Combine brown sugar with 1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon and nutmeg. Remove pan from oven; sprinkle apples with brown sugar mixture; set aside.

Blend eggs, buttermilk, flour, sugar, vanilla, salt and remaining 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon with a mixer for 1 1/2 minutes or in blender container about 30 seconds. Pour over apples in pan.

Return pan to oven; bake for 35 minutes or until top is golden brown and apples rise to surface. (Surface will be somewhat uneven.) Sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve immediately.

Royal Icing

4 c. powdered sugar
3 Tbsp. meringue powder*
1/3 c. warm water for spreading (or more) consistency

Combine all ingredients in small mixing bowl and beat until smooth. Frost cookies and dry on wire rack before packaging.

St. Nicholas Day Cookies

3 Tbsp. milk
3 c. flour
1 1/2 tsp. ground cinnamon
1 1/2 tsp. ground cloves
3/4 tsp. ground nutmeg
3/4 tsp. ground ginger
1/8 tsp. baking powder
1/8 tsp. salt
2 1/2 (1 1/4 c.) sticks butter, cut into pieces

In small bowl, whisk together brown sugar and milk; set aside.

In a large bowl or the work bowl of a food processor, whisk together flour, cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, ginger, baking powder and salt.

Cut in butter with pastry blender or drop into feed tube of processor with machine running; blend until mixture resembles cornmeal. Stir in brown sugar mixture, mixing well.

Form dough into two 7-by-2-inch rolls and wrap in plastic wrap. Refrigerate 6 hours or overnight. Let stand at room temperature for 30 minutes before rolling out. Roll dough out on lightly floured board to 1/8- or 1/4-inch thickness.

Dip cookie cutters in flour before cutting out cookies. Place 1 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in a 350 degree oven for about 12 minutes or until cookie edges are lightly browned. Cool on baking sheet 1 minute. Transfer to wire racks. Cool and decorate with favorite icing or royal icing (recipe follows).

Italian Chocolate Walnut Biscotti

2 c. flour
1/2 c. unsweetened cocoa powder
1 tsp. baking soda
1 tsp. salt
3/4 (6 Tbsp.) stick butter (remove from refrigerator 30 minutes before use)
1 c. sugar
2 large eggs
1 c. chopped walnuts
1 c. semisweet chocolate chips
As needed powdered sugar

Whisk together flour, cocoa, baking soda and salt in large bowl; set aside. Beat together butter and add sugar gradually with electric mixer until light and fluffy, about 2 minutes. Add eggs and beat until well blended. Add flour mixture to form a stiff dough. Stir in walnuts and chocolate chips.

Grease and flour a large baking sheet.

With floured hands (dough will be slightly sticky), form dough into two flattened logs, about 12 inches long and 2 inches wide. Place logs on baking sheet. Sprinkle each with powdered sugar.

Bake in a 350 degree oven for 35 minutes or until tops are slightly firm to the touch. Cool biscotti on sheets for 5 minutes. Carefully transfer biscotti with wide spatula to wooden cutting board.

With a very sharp serrated knife or an electric knife, slice biscotti diagonally into 3/4-inch wide slices. Place biscotti, cut sides down, on baking sheet and return to oven and bake until crisp, about 10 minutes. Cool on wire rack.

Joy to the home Holiday décor made easy with craft paints

Homemade craft projects are a great way to save money while still creating a warm, holiday home. American Accents® paints by Rust-Oleum® has easy-to-do, low-cost craft projects that will fill the home with joyful, holiday cheer.

"With craft paint, you can make decorative projects to enhance your home's décor during the holiday season without spending a lot of time or money," says Sharon Rosenstein, manager of consumer marketing for Rust-Oleum Corp.

Materials for craft projects

- American Accents® paints by Rust-Oleum in Gold Metallic, Silver Metallic and Berry Red
- Premade holiday bow
- Holiday ribbon
- Holiday greenery
- Styrofoam wreath backing
- Decorative snowflakes
- Tree ornaments
- Tiny wooden balls
- Acorns, assorted nuts and dried seedpods
- Pinecones
- Glue gun
- Hot glue
- Ornament hooks

ORNAMENT ADORNMENT

Rejuvenate last year's glass, wood or plastic tree ornaments or enhance inexpensive ones with seasonal colors like gold, silver and red. Here are the simple steps to create dazzling ornaments:

1. As with any paint project, be sure to paint outdoors or in a well-ventilated area.
2. Shake can firmly for one minute after the can's mixing balls rattle. Hold paint can upright, approximately 10 to 12 inches from your ornament. Using American Accents® Berry Red by Rust-Oleum, spray in a steady back-and-forth motion, slightly overlapping each stroke. Wait at least 15 minutes before applying additional coats.

3. Let dry completely.

4. For extra charm, spray a blush of American Accents Gold Metallic or Silver Metallic on each ornament.

5. Let dry completely.

6. Tie a gold ribbon around the top of the ornament. Finally, hang with ornament hook on tree.

METALLIC MAGIC

Add sparkle to decorative snow-flakes, which are available at craft stores, by spray painting them with American Accents Silver Metallic. Here are several ideas on where to display these festive flourishes:

- Attach ornament hooks and hang from holiday tree
- Glue the snowflake to the outside of a present or to a centerpiece
- Place several on a tablecloth to enhance table setting

SIMPLE PROJECTS

When you are crunched for time during the busy holiday season, try these simple decorating projects using everyday items:

- Create eye-catching place-card holders by spray painting pinecones in Silver Metallic or Gold Metallic.
  - Spray paint jingle bells in seasonal colors and hang them with string on your tree.

Party now without paying later

Practical tips for celebrating the holidays without gaining weight

The holidays are a time for family, friends and food. "Most people find the holidays a time when they are confronted by large quantities of food everywhere they go — in the office, at home and at parties," says Scott Gee, M.D., regional associate director for preventive medicine for Kaiser Permanente in Northern California. "Because it's often 'special' food, it's easy to overindulge. As a result, many of us spend the first few months of the new year dieting."

While it may seem that the only way to manage the food onslaught is to avoid holiday gatherings altogether, there are practical yet simple things you can do to minimize girth while maximizing mirth. Gee suggests:

- Don't go to parties hungry. If you skip meals to save room for the big feast, you're much more likely to overeat. Instead, eat small, low-calorie meals during the day and have something filling and healthy — like an apple or a glass of nonfat milk — right before you go.

- Don't rush to the food. When arriving at a party, greet people you know, and settle in with a beverage. Don't stand by the food.

- Make only one trip to the buffet. Commit to just one plate of food, look at everything that's on the table, and then be selective. Fill up on the healthier foods and just sample the richer ones. Often, a taste is all you need to satisfy both your craving and your curiosity.

- Eat less of foods that are high in fat. Fatty foods put fat on you — and put you at greater risk for a lot of diseases. Have a "taste" of rich foods like cheesecake, and have more of things like pretzels that are low in fat, but high in complex carbohydrates.

- Limit alcohol intake. Alcohol not only adds calories, but lowers inhibitions. As a result, you may eat more than you planned. Pace yourself with water, diet sodas or no-alcohol drinks between your alcohol drinks.

- Plan entertainment or activities that aren't centered around food. Dancing or games like cards or charades are great activities for holiday gatherings.

- Don't feel guilty. If you overdo it in spite of your good intentions, don't feel guilty. Make up for it with light meals and a little more physical activity during the following week and be better prepared for the next party.

Picture a perfect holiday

Imagine creating an instant heirloom that inspires special memories of Hanukkah or Christmas Day 1998. You can! Nostalgia is back in style again, fueling explosive interest in a memorable new pastime called "scrapbooking."

Not your grandmother's photo album, today's scrapbooks are far more than a photo pressed onto an album page. Special papers, design templates, fancy-edged scissors, punches, stickers, decorative edging and paste-on letters are used to personalize a special event. To create a Holiday 1998 heritage album, gather the season's photos, greeting cards, invitations, party souvenirs, gift wrap, small Christmas tree decorations and other mementos. Then, take a page from the experts at Déjà Views®, makers

- Dramatize your photos — Crop photos of extraneous material, so that the focus is on the important elements of your pictures. Or, cut photos in themed shapes, using templates as cutting guides. Use colorful papers as frames or background mats.

- Include memorabilia — Holly boughs, mistletoe, tinsel or a special ornament: each can be encased in the new Déjà Views 3-D Keepers, shadow boxes designed especially for scrapbook pages.

- Add written messages — Use acid-free designer letters to label the page with dates, names and recollections.

Or use templates, like stencils, as guides for hand-lettering.

- Finish with decorative art — Stickers or rubber stamps in holiday themes can be used randomly, or to create borders or boxes.

For more tips on scrapbooking and to receive a Déjà Views Memory Book project booklet, call 1-800-243-8419.

Did you know ...

The Christmas star. Wreaths. Poinsettia. A beautifully decorated tree. Of all the symbols of the Christmas season, perhaps the most recognizable of all is Santa Claus. For children and adults of all ages, this jolly man with a big, bright smile brings back a bundle of wonderful holiday memories.

Each Christmas Eve, Santa flies on his toy-filled sleigh, delivering presents to good girls and boys. Through rain and snow, ice and sleet, this magical sleigh is led through the skies by flying reindeer. The reindeer have a very important job to do — they transport Santa and his big bag of gifts around the world, bringing smiles to the faces of children awaiting their Christmas goodies. However, do you remember the names of these special flying reindeer?

Dasher, Dancer, Prancer, Vixen, Donner (also known as Donder), Cupid, Comet and Blitzen And, of course, Rudolph, the lead reindeer who lights up the way with his shiny red nose.

UL's operation decoration checklist keeps season safe

Electrical decorations and light strings can help brighten the holiday season, but misusing or using damaged decorations may lead to dangerous situations — including injury from shock or fire.

The safety experts at Underwriters Laboratories Inc. (UL) and the National Fire Protection Association (NFPA) encourage you to refer to this handy checklist when decorating your home this holiday season.

- Does your live tree or greenery have fresh, green needles? If the greenery isn't fresh, it can lead to a greater fire risk. When you put your live tree in the base holder, remember to keep it filled with water at all times.
- Is your tree a safe distance (at least three feet) from fireplaces, radiators, space heaters, heating vents and other sources of heat? Is it blocking an exit? These safety tips are important for both fresh and artificial trees.
- Do you use light strings that bear the UL Mark? The familiar UL Mark on a product means that UL engineers have tested samples of the product for risk of fire, electric shock and other hazards. But you also have to remember to follow the manufacturer's instructions when using light strings and other electrical decorations.
- Before plugging in newly purchased electrical decorations, or those you've used during previous seasons, do you carefully inspect each decoration?
- Cracked sockets, frayed, loose or bare wires, and loose connections may cause serious electric shock or start a fire. Replace damaged items with new decorations that bear the UL Mark.
- Do you unplug light strings and electrical decorations before replacing light bulbs

Inspect all decorations prior to use before plugging in new or used electrical decorations, carefully inspect each one. Cracked sockets, frayed or bare wiring, and loose connections may cause a serious electric shock or start a fire. Replace damaged items with new UL listed decorations.

or fuses? Check the instructions to determine which maintenance the manufacturer recommends you perform. Don't attempt to make a repair unless the instructions indicate the proper procedure and equipment for doing so. Decorations may overheat or safety mechanisms may not operate properly if you don't use the replacement parts specified by the manufacturer.

Do you keep light strings and other electrical decorations away from children's reach? Electrical decorations aren't toys and could produce a deadly electric shock or cause a fire if misused. Make sure you keep light strings away from curious pets as well.

• Do you check for red or green UL Marks on your light strings? The green holographic UL Mark means the light strings should only be used indoors. The red holographic UL Mark indicates the light strings can be used both inside and out — and can withstand conditions related to outdoor use.

• Do you turn off all electrical light strings and decorations before leaving home or going to bed? Never leave light strings and other electrical decorations operating unattended.

• Have you made sure your home is equipped with working smoke detectors and fire extinguishers that bear the UL Mark? Don't forget to install, test and maintain these devices in accordance with the manufacturer's instructions.

• Have you developed a fire escape plan for your household? Every member should know at least two ways out of each room. Designate a well-lit place, a safe distance from your home, where everyone can meet in the event of a fire. Remember, never return to a burning building for any reason.

• If you answered "yes" to all of these questions, congratulations! If you answered "no" to any of these questions, you owe it to yourself and your loved ones to correct the electrical hazards in your home. By putting Operation Decoration into effect in your home, you'll be on your way toward a happier and safer, holiday season.

For more safety information, visit UL's Web site at www.ul.com or call UL's fax-on-demand hotline at 1-800-473-4766.

Eat holiday goodies without adding pounds

Even weight-conscious people can enjoy delicious holiday eating without worrying about gaining unwanted pounds.

According to Weight Watchers, there's no reason to give up the holiday foods you love even if you are doing something about your weight. The secret is to be sensible about how you prepare and eat meals, and to opt for lighter versions of popular recipes that can look and taste just as great but without the extra fat and calories.

"Denial dieting is a set up for failure, especially during the holidays when food takes center stage," said Karen Miller Kovach, RD, MS, chief nutritionist at Weight Watchers International. "Good food and good eating habits can co-exist, and when they do there's no reason to deny yourself," she added.

In cooking, low fat and non-fat versions of common ingredients can turn out a delicious recipe without compromising on its look, texture and taste. Using non-stick cookware and vegetable cooking sprays is another way to lighten up in the kitchen.

Vegetables and fruits are a great way to add color taste and volume to a festive meal. Not only are these ingredients naturally low in fat, they are also part of a nutritious and balanced diet. Healthy eating need not be boring with the help of spices which pack plenty of exotic taste and color without adding fat or calories.

Holiday or not, portion control remains a fundamental component of healthy weight management. So is balancing rich foods with lighter fare. People who follow Weight Watchers popular 1-2-3 Success® plan know how simple it is to compensate for one indulgent meal—guilt free—with lighter meals later on. More than 2.3 million Americans have lost over 22 million pounds on Weight Watchers 1-2-3 Success plan since it was launched in August 1997.

For information on local Weight Watchers meetings and services, call 1 (800) 651-6000.

Pumpkin Cheesecake

An amazingly rich-tasting cheesecake, just right to serve as the finale to a holiday meal.

MAKES 6 SERVINGS

9 graham crackers (2 1/2 inch squares), made into crumbs
1 cup low fat (1 percent) cottage cheese
3/4 cup part-skim ricotta cheese
3/4 cup egg substitute
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon ground ginger
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/8 teaspoon salt
one 15 ounce canned pumpkin puree

1. Preheat the oven to 350 degree F.; spray a 9 inch glass pie plate with nonstick cooking spray. Sprinkle the graham cracker crumbs over the bottom of the pie plate.

2. In a food processor or blender, combine the cottage cheese and ricotta; process until smooth, about 1 minute. Transfer to a large bowl; stir in the egg substitute, sugar, ginger, vanilla, nutmeg, cinnamon and salt. Reserve 1/4 cup of the batter. Add the pumpkin to the batter; stir until blended.

Scrape the batter into the pie plate, then drizzle the reserved batter in 3 concentric circles over the pumpkin batter. With a knife, lightly draw a line through the batter from the center toward the outer edge; about 2 inches from that line, lightly draw the knife through the batter from the outer edge toward the center. Repeat around the pie, alternating directions, to make a spiderweb.

3. Bake until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean, 45 to 50 minutes. Cool completely on rack. Refrigerate, covered, until ready to serve.

Quick Pear Tartlets

To ripen pears at home, simply keep them in a bowl or basket at room temperature for a few days—when the skin near the stem yields to gentle pressure, they are ripe. If you like, chop a few pieces of crystallized ginger; add to the filling with the currants and sugar.

MAKES 4 SERVINGS

Crust

1/4 cup wheat-and-barley cereal nuggets
2 tablespoons currants
1 teaspoon packed dark brown sugar
1/4 teaspoon unsweetened cocoa powder
1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract

Filling

3 large pears, peeled, cored and diced
2 tablespoons currants
2 tablespoons packed dark brown sugar
1/4 cup light frozen non dairy whipped topping, thawed.

1. In a mini food processor or blender, combine the crust ingredients; process until well blended.

2. To prepare the filling, in a small saucepan over low heat, combine the pears and 1/2 cup water; cook, covered, until the pears just begin to soften, four to five minutes. Stir in the currants and brown sugar; cook five minutes longer.

3. Divide the crust mixture among four 4 inch tartlet pans, pressing it over the bottom and up the sides to form a crust. Divide the filling among the crusts; let cool slightly, then top with the whipped topping.

Mushroom-stuffed Turkey Breast

Suitable for your best company, this beautiful roulade is filled with sauteed vegetables and carves into attractive pin-wheel slices. Serve it surrounded with a melange of roasted chestnuts, pearl onions and steamed Brussels sprouts.

MAKES 12 SERVINGS

2 tablespoons stick margarine
2 red onions, chopped
2 cups sliced mushrooms
2 carrots, shredded
One 10 ounce box frozen chopped spinach, thawed and squeezed dry
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese
1/2 dried basil leaves
1 slice reduced-calorie white bread, finely chopped
1 cup low-sodium chicken broth
1 tablespoon grated lemon zest
one 3-pound skinless boneless turkey breast

1. In a large nonstick skillet, melt the margarine. Saute' the onions 4 minutes. Add the mushrooms and carrots; saute' until the vegetables are tender, 4 to 5 minutes. Stir in the spinach, parsley, cheese and basil; cook 2 minutes. Remove from the heat; stir in the bread, 2 tablespoons of the broth and the lemon zest.

2. Preheat the oven to 325 degrees F.; spray a 9 by 13 inch baking dish with nonstick cooking spray. Place the turkey between two sheets of plastic wrap; with a meat mallet or rolling pin, pound to an even thickness. Remove the top sheet of plastic wrap from the turkey; spread the mushroom mixture over the turkey breast, leaving a 2 1/2 inch border on all sides. Starting with the short side, roll up the turkey breast jelly-roll style; tie at 2 inch intervals with kitchen string. Place the roll, seam-side down, in the baking dish, pour the remaining broth over the turkey and cover loosely with foil. Bake, basting frequently with the pan juices, until an instant-read thermometer inserted in the center of the roll reaches 180 degree F., 1 to 1 1/2 hours. Transfer the turkey to cutting board; let stand 10 minutes before removing the string and slicing.

Banana Bread

Bananas, not fat, are what give this dense loaf its moist texture. Toast it and top with nonfat cream cheese for a speedy breakfast or snack.

MAKES 12 SERVINGS

1 3/4 cups all-purpose flour
3 tablespoons packed light brown sugar
2 1/4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
8 dried dates, chopped
6 dried apricot halves, chopped
1 egg
1 very ripe banana, mashed
1/4 cup fat-free milk

1. Preheat the oven to 350 degree F.; spray an 8 by 4 inch loaf pan with nonstick cooking spray.

2. In a medium bowl, combine the flour, brown sugar, baking powder, salt and cinnamon; stir in the dates and apricots. In a small bowl, beat the egg; add the banana and milk. Pour over the flour mixture; stir just until blended (do not overmix).

3. Transfer to the pan. Bake until a toothpick inserted in the center comes out clean, about one hour. Cool completely on a rack.

Peppered Roast Tenderloin

Crack peppercorns in a mortar or between two spoons.

MAKES 10 SERVINGS

One 2 1/2 pound beef tenderloin
2 garlic cloves, silvered lengthwise
2 tablespoons olive oil
1 tablespoons cracked black peppercorns
1 teaspoon minced fresh rosemary, or 1/2 teaspoon dried leaves
1 teaspoon minced fresh thyme, or 1/2 teaspoon dried leaves
1 teaspoon minced fresh sage, or 1/2 teaspoon dried leaves
Salt, to taste

1. Preheat the oven to 425 degrees F. With a small sharp knife, make several small incisions in the tenderloin; insert a sliver of garlic in each incision. Rub the tenderloin with the oil. In a small bowl, combine the peppercorns, rosemary, thyme, sage and salt; pat the mixture on all sides of the tenderloin.

2. Place the tenderloin in a shallow roasting pan. Roast 10 minutes; reduce the oven temperature to 350 degrees F. Roast about 15 minutes longer for rare, about 20 minutes for medium. Transfer the roast to a cutting board; let stand 15 minutes before slicing.

Per serving: 202 Calories, 12g Total Fat, 4g Saturated Fat, 67mg Cholesterol, 156mg Sodium, 1g Total Carbohydrate, 0g Dietary Fiber, 23g Protein, 13mg Calcium. POINTS per serving: 5.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: I work in the Human Resource department of a mid-sized company where I am responsible for finding, screening and interviewing applicants for positions within a variety of departments. While I am able to keep up with the paper flow and the tedious chore of interviewing, I am finding that I cannot get department heads to act quick enough to accomplish the final result - the hiring! While I have been with this company for 3 years, nothing seems to have changed. The company has a 2-interview process and the department heads all have positions that need to be filled immediately. When it comes to making a move, they drag their feet until it is too late. I am finding myself repeatedly trying to fill the same employment slots over and over, not because the candidates aren't qualified, but rather because by the time these department heads make their decisions, the candidates have taken jobs elsewhere. I have spent the past 6 weeks interviewing for 4 different positions for which I had a minimum of 3 candidates each for these supervisors and managers to meet. First interviews went well, with the supervisors. The problem seems to be in chasing the managers all over to get them to commit to the second interview. The position I am in can often be a thankless one yet I love what I do. Changes need to be made. I don't know quite what the changes should be as yet, but I am working on a presentation. Do you have any suggestions that could possibly aid me in my presentation? Thanking you in advance for your help. K.G. - Vernon Hills.

A: First thing is to know the type of employment market you are currently faced with. Understand that the job market is strong and jobs plentiful. While you will see more and more positions advertised in the newspaper, that does not even begin to touch the surface of thousands that are not advertised. Along with this type of market comes the employment seeking individual who seldom puts "all their eggs in one basket", so to speak. During the time that you may be interviewing them for a position within your company, they may, and most likely are, exercising several employment options, often taking the first thing that comes up (obviously not always recommended). Therefore, it is essential that the employers do not "drag their feet". These candidates in this market are here today and gone tomorrow. You must convince your managers and supervisors of the sense of urgency that has been placed in your hands by them. In order for you to operate in the manner to which you can best utilize your time and skill, changes need to be made, as top candidates are ending up at other corporations and possibly the competition, due to the current problems in expediting the hiring process. My suggestion: When finding candidates that you believe are well suited for these positions, schedule the first and second interviews on the same day. Have each supervisor and manager, when issuing you an order to hire, also supply you with a full week's worth of availability in 30 minute increments. Match these up so that both parties can meet on the same day to either hire or rule out the individual. You will find that this works to your advantage all the way. It will alleviate your problem of losing good applicants and will inevitably make you a hero when your abilities show through and the lengthy hiring problems are gone.

PET PARADE

Pet OF THE MONTH

QUEENIE

Queenie is this month's PET OF THE MONTH. She is a 3-year-old Collie, Keeshound Mix who lives up to her name. Queenie likes to think she has taken on the traits of her three feline housemates, all of whom do not share the same opinion. However, under all the fur she is about the same size as a cat.
